Paris Situation Can be Confusing

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Sir, I am an American in Paris. Can you tell me what's going on here about Vietnam?

Well, we're gathering again Thursday around a round table to face issues squarely.

Q. Ah—a peace conference? A. Absolutely not! The first thing a newcomer must learn is that you don't call this anything but talks.

Q. Why?

A. Well, if you call what goes on at the International Conference Center a conference, the Americans and South Vietnamese won't like it. A conference can mean that everybody present has the authority to confer. If you call it a meeting, the North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front get mad at you. A meeting is an informal thing where anybody can throw in his two bits' worth. The NLF and Hanoi say it's a conference.

Q. I've heard there'll never be a meeting—excuse me—talks on a Wednesday. Why not?

A. Because the Americans and the South Vietnamese think that would be too much like a continuation of the preliminary American - North Vietnamese talks, which were always on Wednesdays.

Q. So what?

A. People would get the idea these are "enlarged" or "expanded" talks. Expanded from two to four sides.

Q. Aren't they?

A. Well, the Hanoi-NLF people say they are, but the Washington-Saigon people say they aren't. If you say "enlarged," it might mean that it has been enlarged from two sides to four sides.

Q. Hasn't it?

A. The Hanoi-NLF people say it has, but the Washington-Saigon people say there are still only two sides, themselves and the others. They say the NLF is a "reality" but not a "political entity."

Q. What should one call the talks, then?

A. New, full-scale or substantive talks. But not enlarged or expanded.

Q. Aren't there four delegations here?

A. Yes and No. Hanoi and the NLF say there are. Saigon and the Americans seem to accept the fact that there are four negotiators, but to say there are four delegations would mean that the NLF is independent enough to have its own delegation.

Q. Why is the table round?

A. If it were square it would have four sides, and four sides look like four delegations. A round table doesn't have sides marked off, so one group can say it has four sides and another can say it has two sides and both are right. The two rectangular tables, where the lesser staffs sit, have sides. But if the rectangular tables are narrow enough, they can be said to have only two sides.

Q. When they go into the room, do four delegations go in or do two?

A. There are only two doors, so the Hanoi-NLF people use one and the Washington-Saigon people use the other. If there were four doors, there would have been the devil to pay.

Spy Trial Said to be Resuming

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new Iraqi spy trial was reported under way today amid charges that Israel is massing military units to attack the 20,000 Iraqi troops stationed in northern Jordan near the Israeli frontier.

There was no confirmation from Israel, which has been urged by the United States not to retaliate.

Demonstrators besieged Britain's embassy in Baghdad today in protest against British reaction to the mass execution Monday of 14 men accused of spying for Israel.

Radio Baghdad announced 10,000 Iraqis marched on the embassy waving banners and denouncing "British imperialism" and "British interference in Iraq's internal affairs." It said, however, they inflicted no damage and later dispersed.

They were objecting to official British statements denouncing the hanging of the 14, including nine Iraqi Jews, and a torchlight vigil Tuesday night by British Jews outside the Iraqi Embassy in London.

"Exercise Restraint"

Britain's Foreign Office also had a word of advice for Prime Minister Levi Eshkol's government. A spokesman said: "We very much hope the Israelis will exercise restraint in these difficult circumstances."

The weather could be a factor in any immediate military operations. Israel was beset by high winds, rain and snow and Jordan was suffering from its worst snowstorm in 20 years.

Pope Paul VI told a gathering of 5,000 at his weekly general audience in Vatican City the hanging of the nine Jews "has generated the suspicion that motives of racism were involved."

The Roman Catholic pontiff, who has several times taken a public stand against capital punishment, recalled that he had appealed to the Baghdad government before the executions to spare the lives of all 14. He said the tragic episode aggravated Middle East tensions.

Blames Imperialists
President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged in Cairo that the "forces of imperialism" are blocking a settlement of the Middle East conflict. He said: "They do not want peace."

Saigon, VC Each Plans Truce on Tet

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government indicated today that it would declare a truce for the lunar new year Feb. 17, but a far shorter one than the seven-day cease-fire announced by the Viet Cong earlier today.

The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front broadcast an announcement that the Communist military command "will stop all military activities" from 7 a.m. Saigon time Feb. 15 until 7 a.m. Feb. 22. The period is known as Tet, the festival of the lunar new year and the biggest holiday in the Vietnamese calendar.

The Viet Cong broadcast said any military operations by the United States, South Vietnam and their allies, including air, naval and artillery bombardment, would be considered a violation of the cease-fire and "must be punished."

Four hours after the broadcast, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese government said: "Solemn Occasion"

"The Vietnamese government is willing to have a truce because Tet is solemn occasion and for the happiness of the Vietnamese people." But he added that the truce "will not last very long if there is any."

U.S. forces will undoubtedly observe any cease-fire declared by Saigon, as they have all such truces in the past.

A Tet truce last year had just begun when the Viet Cong attacked more than 100 cities and towns including Saigon in their biggest offensive of the war. Although the government is expected to call some sort of cease-fire, it undoubtedly will try to avoid the wholesale relaxation which left its forces at 50 per cent strength or less when the enemy struck a year ago.

The Viet Cong broadcast said government soldiers going into areas controlled by the Viet Cong to visit their families or the graves of their ancestors "must go scattered, not by groups, and must not be armed."

U.S. force and their allies, the announcement said, "are free to move and to participate in all Tet festivities" if they obey the cease-fire conditions.

The anniversary of last year's offensive comes this Friday, and there has been speculation that the Viet Cong may attempt some action within the next few days to mark the occasion. But no major enemy activity was reported today.

The U.S. Command announced that three more American helicopters have been shot down and destroyed, but only three crewmen were wounded. This raised the announced number of American helicopters lost in the war to 2,321.

Czech Hard-Liners Grabbing Top Hand With Propaganda

Peter Rehak, 32, is the Associated Press correspondent who filed the first dispatch to the world about the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia last Aug. 20. A native of Bratislava and fluent in both Czech and Slovak, he established the AP bureau in Prague in April, 1968. On Sept. 30, Czechoslovak authorities refused to extend Rehak's visa and he was forced to leave the country. A Canadian citizen, he currently is stationed in Vienna.

By PETER REHAK
Associated Press Writer
VIENNA (AP) — Signs are multiplying that orthodox pro-Soviet Communists are gaining the upper hand in occupied Czechoslovakia and Alexander Dubcek's liberal reformists are not likely to stop them. Backed by an estimated 100,000 Soviet occupation troops, the conservatives' new strength is evident in an active propaganda campaign and bold public statements that have increased in frequency in recent days. Their latest move is an attempt to discredit the death of student Jan Palach, who immolated himself to protest the Soviet occupation and the resulting curbs on freedom of the press.

Murder Claimed

In pamphlets and speeches the conservatives claim that the liberal reformists forced Palach to commit suicide for the sake of propaganda. Some even claim he was murdered. Their charges were picked up by the orthodox Communist press in Hungary. Newspapers in other countries with pro-Moscow ruling parties are expected to follow suit.

Conservative statements are getting more space in the Czechoslovak press and more radio time than in the month immediately following the Aug. 20-21 invasion by Soviet troops.

The conservatives' message is clear. They blame political dissent on the reformists and warn that opposition to the party line must stop.

"Ultimatums"

"The basis of the problems which cause nervousness and helplessness among many comrades is that since last January the Central Committee has set a certain line, certain duties and concepts. Other demands were announced, outside this line and against the concepts of the party, which are often formulated like ultimatums," said Deputy Premier Lubomir Strougal, a leading conservative.

His speech to a militia rally was broadcast by Radio Prague during prime time Monday night. It was echoed the same day by Slovak party chief Gustav Husak, who leans to the Soviet line.

"An opposition front has gradually been emerging, exerting continuous pressure on the party leadership, tabling new demands, organizing campaigns that they be met and, in fact, preventing the party and state leadership from implementing their reforms," said Husak.

Newsman Expelled

The hand of pro-Moscow Communists also is evident in the expulsion of a number of Western newsmen. Until recently, the authorities tolerated newsmen on tourist or businessmen's visas, the issuance of journalists' visas having halted following the invasion. This tolerance has now apparently ended.

The pre-invasion economic reform program suffered another blow with the announcement that all business with foreign firms now will be concentrated in the hands of a central organization, called Zenit.

Before last August, the government intended to allow Czechoslovak enterprises to deal directly with western firms, bypassing the cumbersome government bureaucracy.

Streets Should be Slippery Tonight

Fox Cities — Cloudy and mild with snow and freezing rain tonight, changing to snow Thursday. Low tonight near 25, high Thursday near 32. Wind northeast at 8-16 m.p.h. tonight, 20-30 m.p.h. Thursday. Precipitation probability 80 per cent tonight and Thursday.

Appleton — Observations at 9:30 a.m. for the preceding 24 hours: high 34, low 24. Barometer 30.10 and rising. Wind northwest at 11 m.p.h. Humidity 88 per cent. Dew point 26. Skies overcast. Trace of precipitation.

Five-Day Forecast — Temperatures to average 11 degrees below normal highs of 25 and lows of 7. Colder the latter part of the week with little weekend temperature change. Precipitation to total over one-half inch in water equivalent as snow Thursday and this weekend.

Road Report — All main highways in the state are in good winter driving condition. Secondary roads have slippery spots.

Sun sets at 4:58 p.m., rises Thursday at 7:15 a.m. Mercury is almost directly between the earth and the sun today. This is the planet nearest the sun and today it is also the one nearest the earth.

Statewide Blackout

Many in Florida Left in the Dark

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A million-kilowatt generator failure Tuesday sent a blackout hoppingchopping Florida leaving some Floridians snarled at lightless intersections and others dining by candlelight.

The failure occurred at 6:08 p.m. at Florida Power and Light Company's huge Fort Everglades generating plant here.

The intricate system of grids by which power is fed from generating stations to consumers spread the blackout as far away as Daytona Beach, St. Petersburg and Fort Myers, while it left many closer areas unaffected.

A power company spokesman said there was no way of telling how many homes and businesses lost their power. However, reports from several larger cities had thousands of consumers out of power.

St. Petersburg reported up to 13,000 homes were affected. Tampa had 11,000 homes blacked out. Both cities receive their electricity from companies other than FP&L, but power flickered out because of a drain on interconnecting lines.

Orlando had 35 per cent of its population in darkness for about half an hour. The blackout hit all but a small portion of "ourist-jammed Daytona Beach."

Fort Lauderdale, hardest hit by the blackout, had no estimate of darkened homes. Service there was restored by 7:45 p.m. In most areas it took from 20 minutes to an hour to restore service.

Traffic lights winked out at intersections in many Florida cities, snarling rush-hour traffic.

But FP&L spokesmen said the situation could have been much worse. They said safeguard built into the power distribution system prevented a Southeast recurrence of the great blackout in the Northeast in 1967.

"Actually the story is what didn't go out, not what did," said John Hudiburg, FP&L's strict manager in West Palm Beach. "Fifteen years ago the whole system would have gone out. The system worked like it was supposed to."

Reuss Introduces Bill on Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-point tax reform bill—which he said could eliminate the 10 per cent surtax—was introduced in the House of Representatives today by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

In a statement, Reuss said the bill would raise an additional $9 billion in federal revenue.

Both former President Johnson and President Nixon have said the surtax should be continued past its June 30 expiration date as an anti-inflationary measure.

The Milwaukee congressman said his tax reform measure would be a more effective weapon against inflation than the surtax because "many of the loopholes cause inflation in the very sectors of the economy which are most inflation prone."

Reuss' bill would:

- Levy a 25 per cent tax for capital gains untaxed at death.
- Now the 25 per cent tax is not imposed if the owner dies before selling property or stock.
- Eliminate the unlimited charity deduction, the special tax treatment accorded stock options, the income tax exemption for the first $100 in dividend income, the "hobby farm" loophole, the tax benefits derived from multiple corporations, payment of estate taxes by redemption of government bonds at par value, the federal tax exception on municipal industrial development bonds.
- Establish a municipal bond guarantee corporation as an alternative to tax exempt municipal bonding.
- Reduce the tax depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 15 per cent on oil and from 23 per cent to 15 per cent on all other minerals.
- Prohibit accelerated depreciation on speculative real estate holdings.
- Repeal the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

M-E-N Arrive on Campus at Vassar

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Coeducation — spell that m-e-n—came to ivy-clad Vassar College this week and all sorts of social observers of both sexes are marveling at what the trustees have wrought.

A professor said he noticed an immediate and remarkable improvement in the appearance of the girls.

A young man, newly admitted and enraged about curfews, borrowed a leaf from other protest movements and burned his seven-page rule book.

An hour after the curfew one night a young woman, being interviewed over the telephone by a newsmen, reported "two boys just tiptoed by my door."

A young man who described himself as usually conscientious said he has yet to open a book. With girls down the hall, he explained, "you don't feel like cooping yourself in the room and studying."

Vassar—for the past 108 years the very name was virtually synonymous with private liberal arts education for correct young women, began the semester Monday with 80 men from three all-male schools—Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.; Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.; and Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y.

The boys are living on two floors of one of the girl's dormitories. Visiting is permitted during certain hours but Miss Susan Whidden of Westport, Conn., said there is already a move afoot to liberalize the rules.

"There's been all sorts of revolutionary talk around here," Miss Whidden confided.

Revolution or no, one young man from Williams said he was happy to be at Vassar.

"You begin to feel like you're in a monastery," said Jack Murray of school life back in Williamstown, but added wryly, "So far I've met more newspaperwomen than girls."

Trimming 'Little Things' Can Save Money for Career Girl

Consultant in Money Management

The plight of the growing family with a tax load and a limited income isn't the only sad story of these "affluent" times. The career single girl whose pay increases haven't kept up with rising costs is having trouble, too. When I say, "career girl," I'm thinking of the woman who is which will depress her; or established in business or a profession and has reached a moderately gratifying standard of living.

She's wondering now if she has somehow lost her expertise in managing money. She can't cover all the same bases she used to cover with a paycheck that's actually fatter now than it was two or three years ago. Well, the answer is that she's still smart, it's simply that the paycheck isn't fat enough. So now she has to make a choice: revise her way of life, or a maneuver in certain areas of spending, which will challenge her. The latter, of course, is a more practical approach. For one thing, she can't lower her rent overnight. And she can't completely chuck her social life or her personal grooming standards. She'll just have to do some things in a different way in order to come to terms with her income.

Watch "Small Spending" One of these things is to learn to think in terms of percentages, rather than merely in dollars and cents. The advantage is that the over-all picture becomes clearer. First figure what per cent of net income is now being spent on the com-biner basics: housing, food, and clothing. Two of these — food and clothing — can be trimmed. Other items with the most flexibility are transportation, home entertaining, cosmetics, coffee breaks, contributions, professional care of clothing and professional beauty care. Sometimes it comes as a shock to discover how big a piece of the income is going for certain things which you skipped over lightly as "small spending," because the money went out in dribbles. But take another look, from a monthly or yearly perspective. Is that particular area of spending really worth that much "support money?" Next decision is to shift priorities in the budget. Investments should now out-rank clothing. Spending for cosmetics and coffee breaks can be cut back to ease the necessary expense of operating the car. Never would I suggest that a woman do without lipstick and coffee. But she can limit the quantity of the former and "extra" on the side. Some business women I've talked to who are determined to lower their living costs without reshaping their lives are doing these things differently:

Home entertaining. It continues right along, but the planning is geared to more home cooking and fewer ready-prepared convenience foods. Less lavish menus, drinks and use of outside serving help. Service costs. Clothing alterations now come under the head of "homework." Shampoo and hair tinting is a do-it-yourself job, interspersed with visits to the salon, preferable on a day early in the week if the salon offers special prices for not-too-busy days. Clothing. Spot-cleaning and good care cuts down on upkeep costs. Smart accessory buying in lieu of so many garments — with variety still the end result. Cosmetics. More carefully chosen, with more evaluation of every "new look" that comes along. Did a switch of lipsticks ever really rope a man? And is a wig really less expensive than taking the trouble to set your hair? Lunches. Taking it from home twice a week instead of sending out for food. One career girl is saving from 8 to 10 per cent of her paycheck this way.

Let 'Em Eat Cake and Still Keep Diet

It isn't exactly the type of cake Martha Washington served her husband at Mount Vernon. In those days, the great cakes had ingredients of staggering proportions — rich enough to tip the calorie-counter's scale out of balance for days.

This cake is designed especially for those watching their waistlines, though it is sure to please everyone in the family. A cherry gelatin mold sits atop a light sponge cake and each serving is sauced with Peach Custard. Peaches, according to native Virginians, go with cakes and pies the way cherries go with Washington's Birthday.

If Colonial Cherry Cake sounds sinfully rich, take note of the calorie count, just 101 per serving.

Low calorie products are the answer, including juicy low calorie diet canned Royal Anne cherries and cling peach slices. They add up to very few calories, and the flavor is a diet delight.

Note: Use liquid sweetener that calls for one-fourth teaspoon sweetener to equal two teaspoons sugar.

- COLONIAL CHERRY CAKE
- 3 large eggs, separated
 - 1/4 cup cold water
 - 1 1/2 tablespoon liquid sweetener
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
 - 3/4 cup sifted cake flour
 - Dash salt
- 1 can (1 lb.) low calorie Royal Anne cherries
- 2 envelopes (4-serving size) low calorie cherry gelatin
- 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
- 1 can (1 lb.) low calorie cling peach slices
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 3 egg yolks
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice

Sheinwold Strong Notrump Is Shown

When you use an opening bid of two clubs as your only way of showing a very powerful hand you can indicate a strong notrump hand by your rebid. A rebid of two notrump promises 23 or 24 points; a jump to three notrump shows 25 or 26 points.

South would open with two notrump if he had one point less than his actual hand. North would then pass.

With a full 23 points, South opens with two clubs and then bids two notrump. North can afford to raise to game with his meager values.

This method enables the opener to describe a strong notrump hand to within one point of its actual value. Responder can tell accurately whether the combined count is likely to be the 26 points needed for game or the 33 needed for slam.

Early Start

South must overtake dummy's jack of spades with the king, beginning early with a cautious line of play. Dummy's spade entry must be saved until South knows what to do with it.

South needs three diamond tricks for his contract and should begin by leading the ace of diamonds. Then he switches to the king of hearts. East refuses the trick and likewise refuses the queen of hearts at the next trick, hoping to hamper declarer by preventing him from getting to dummy with the jack of hearts.

As it happens, South is not disturbed. He leads a low diamond, using dummy's nine to drive out the jack. West's discard makes the diamond situation crystal clear.

East can take the ace and ten of hearts, but then declarer can get to dummy with the queen of spades to lead a diamond for a finesse through East's queen.

Daily Question

Partner opens with two clubs, you bid two diamonds, and partner bids two notrump. It is once more up to you, holding: S-10 9 8 7 4 H-8 5 2 D-7 C-K Q 10 4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. If partner has three-card spade support you prefer a contract of four spades to three notrump.

Heat two cups to boiling and dissolve gelatin. Add remaining liquid. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pit cherries and halve them. Fold into gelatin. Pour into a two-quart mold that measures nine inches across opening. Place baked cake layer on top of gelatin. Chill until firm.

To prepare sauce: Drain peaches. Stir peach juice into cornstarch and egg yolks. Stir into lukewarm water, tap to loosen and invert on a platter. Cut into slices and serve with peach sauce. Recipe makes 12 servings.

Parents and Children

By Arnold Arnold

Around the age of 3, your child will start asking endless questions usually beginning with "why." He'll often ask the same questions again and again. Some are asked in the spirit of genuine curiosity; others are asked merely to get reassurance from the sound of your voice. But in either case, it's important that you reply. Your toddler needs your conversation as much as your knowledge. The answers you give your child are more valuable to him than mere information. Your TV set would suffice if your toddler only needed facts. Your child can't question the magic tube, and it can't answer him.

But you can direct your child's questions so that they're less wearing on your nerves. If, instead of giving him short answers, you tell him a story about what he wants to know, he'll think longer about your reply. Also encourage his self-expression when he answers "how" instead of "why." Then you can give him better and more accurate answers. For example, it's nearly impossible even for an expert physicist to explain "why" the sun shines, or "why" water turns to ice. But almost anyone can describe "how" these phenomena work, in terms that a 4-year-old can understand.

You don't have to turn to your encyclopedia to satisfy your child's curiosity. You can use examples with which both of you are familiar. For instance, the dancing lid on your boiling pot can demonstrate the principle of converting heat into energy. And this is as much of an explanation of how steam or gasoline engines work as your toddler can absorb. It may not be "scientific," but it adequately dramatizes what your child wants and needs to know. Other questions can be answered by picture books you can buy, or borrow from your public library. You can also suggest experiments that will enable him to discover things for himself. If he watches plants grow from seeds, he'll learn more than merely hearing about this process. If he finds out early that all things can be explained or discovered, he'll be eager to learn and to explore for himself. The way you answer his questions will give him the incentive.

February Specials

Lillian Mackesy POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR

February is a big month for special foods to commemorate all sorts of occasions from Ground Hog Day to an "unleap" year party. The big days which can be turned easily into a party are the birthday anniversaries of our great presidents Lincoln and Washington.

Valentine's Day is not to be overlooked for a family supper bright with hearts and flowers or some special treat such as the huge snack-filled heart pictured today. The heart can be big or small, fashioned of Styrofoam and then decorated with all sorts of appetizing goodies.

A Lincoln Log cake, covered with delicious chocolate frosting is chosen for Feb. 12 and a robust, maple-cherry pie is the choice for honoring the Father of our country on Feb. 22. A heritage recipe, borrowed from Williamsburg country, or the recipes of Martha Washington, also could make an impression on Washington's birthday anniversary.

The traditional dessert here is Colonial Gingerbread served with a topping and filling of sliced bananas and whipped cream laced with toasted almonds.

But there's still another red letter day, this year on Feb. 17 when the Chinese New Year 4667 will be celebrated in Oriental communities around the United States. This is the Year of the Rooster and a wonderful excuse for giving a party.

A festive Oriental meal is easy to prepare when frozen Chinese convenience foods are used. Yanchow Fried Rice Bouquet, for instance, features fried rice stuffed with bits of lettuce and tuna molded in custard cups, tea cups or something similar. Halved cucumbers and scallion "stems" complete the bouquet. Serve with hot shrimp chow mein and egg rolls for a Chinese New Year meal that's sure to please.

VALENTINE PARTY SNACK

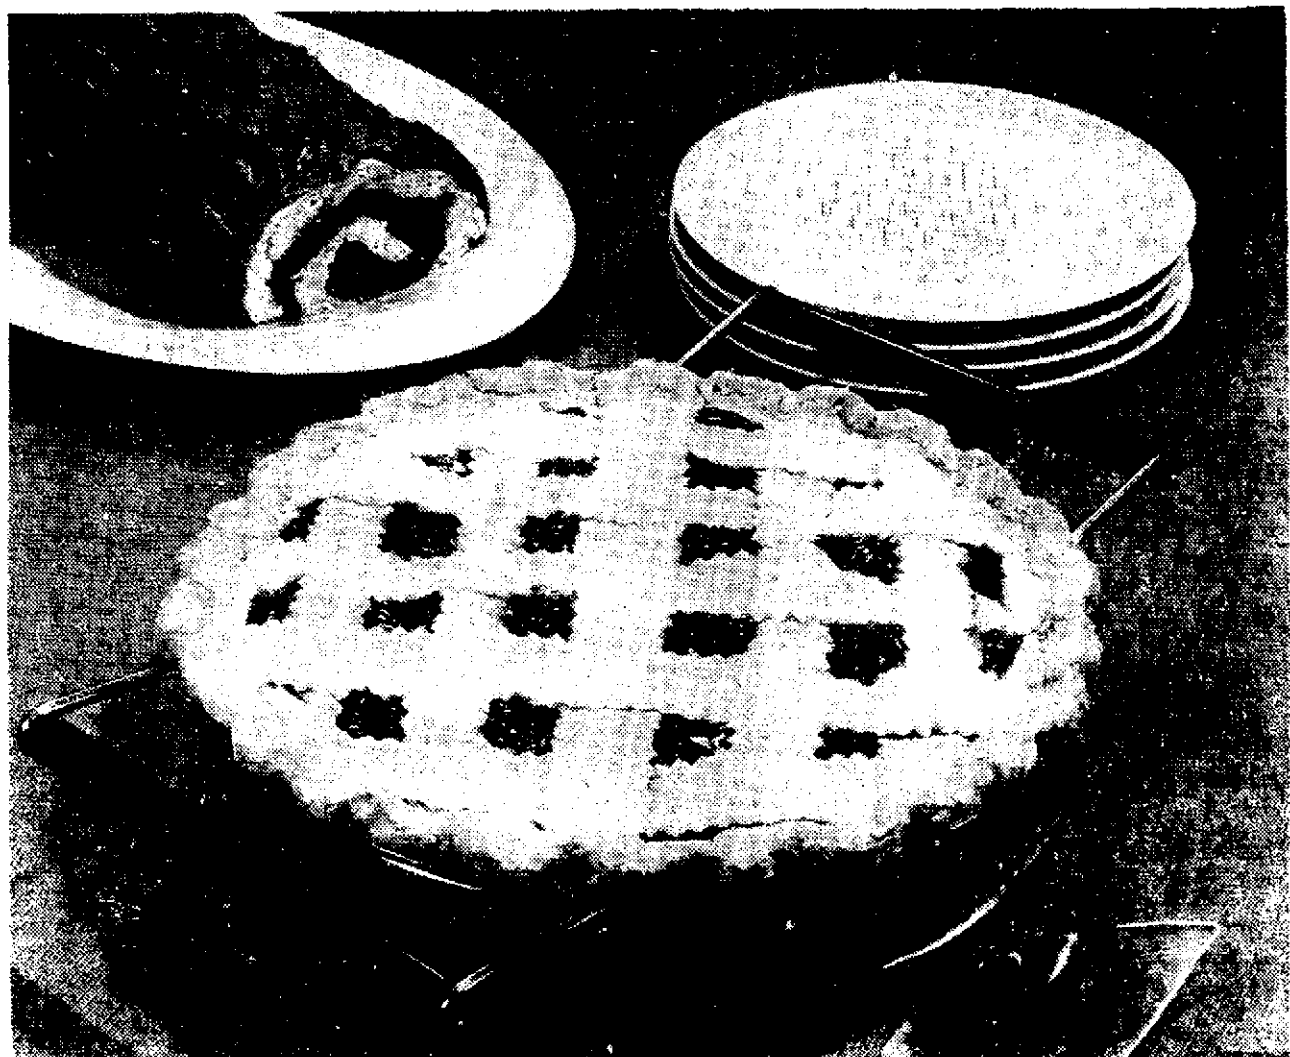

As for the Valentine Party Snack, the fresh vegetables clustered to look like a spring bouquet is refreshing to eat and look at as well as being a decorative centerpiece. This idea is superb for a bridge club luncheon or buffet. The best way to serve is to lay the heart flat on a red felt or red paper valentine. Then, the Styrofoam can be loaded solidly with greens and curled, crisp vegetables.

Supplies needed for the Valentine Party Snack: Styrofoam heart-shaped outline about two

These Rules for Storing Fresh Fruits, Vegetables Worth Knowing, Following

The following recommendations for storage of fresh fruits and vegetables are not new, say home economists of the Western Growers Association, but they are worth repeating.

The Western Growers, an organization of the vegetable and melon industry of California and Arizona, knows whereof it speaks. Proper storage means profit instead of loss. The home economists in the organization's test kitchens list the essential rules for the new crop of brides coming up and as a reminder for those homemakers who may have forgotten. Along with the rules is a collection of recipes that sound delicious, every one.

The expiration of ethylene gas by some fruits affects the storage life of vegetables. When crispers are filled with apples and pears during the winter months, this gas could turn the salad greens brown.

1) Keep apples, pears and melons separated from: carrots, celery, cabbage, potatoes, onions and salad greens.

2) Keep celery and onions separated.

3) Keep potatoes and fruits separated as the potatoes can give an earthy flavor to the fruit.

4) Keep oranges away from eggs and butter.

5) Keep dairy products away from fruits and vegetables.

6) Keep ripe pineapple wrapped in Saran or plastic bag to hold in the aroma.

Keep separated means hold in separated crispers or areas of the refrigerator.

SKILLET SWEET-SOUR CHOPS & CABBAGE

6 pork chops
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 onion, chopped
1 cup tomato juice
1/4 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons soy sauce

1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
5 cups coarsely cut cabbage

Trim excess fat from chops. Brown chops in a large frying pan in oil. Combine and add remaining ingredients except cabbage. Cover and cook on high heat until steaming freely. Then lower heat and simmer for 30 minutes or until chops are tender. Add cabbage. Cover and cook 10 minutes longer. Remove chops. Toss cabbage in sauce. Recipe makes six servings.

CARROT LOAF SAUTERNE

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can cream of celery soup, condensed
1/2 cup California Sauterne wine
1/4 cup tapioca
2 cups finely-grated raw carrot (1 medium bunch)
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Pour into well greased 8 x 4 x 2 1/2 inch loaf pan. Set in shallow pan of hot water and bake at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours. Remove from oven and cool for five minutes. Unmold on heated platter. Surround with Creamed Crab. Recipe makes six servings.

BROCCOLI WITH WALNUT BUTTER

1 1/2 pounds broccoli
3 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
Dash nutmeg

2 tablespoons broken walnut pieces
Wash broccoli. Slit thick stems to flowerets or cut stems in thin diagonal slices. Cook 8 to 10 minutes in one-third cup boiling, salted water, covered.

Meanwhile, melt butter over low heat. Add ginger, nutmeg and nuts until foamy. Drain broccoli. Toss with butter mixture. Recipe makes four servings.

Peace Corps Volunteers on AAUW's February Calendar

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coffin, former members of the Peace Corps, will discuss their two-year stay in Chile at a meeting of the Appleton branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) Feb. 5 at Edison School.

Guests at the 6:30 p.m. event will be Appleton teachers.

Mr. Coffin was graduated from Marquette University, Milwaukee, where he majored in organic chemistry. His wife received a degree in home economics and education from the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Prior to training for the Peace Corps in 1964, Mrs. Coffin taught home economics at Seymour Community High School, while Mr. Coffin was with Thulmay Pulp & Paper Co., Kaukauna, where he is presently employed.

After completing orientation at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and Puerto Rico, the Coffins were assigned to Santiago, Chile, where they taught in two universities and commuted to one more university on the coast. Mr. Coffin conducted classes in industrial chemistry and household chemistry; Mrs. Coffin taught nutrition and visual aid production, and together the couple taught English.

They returned to the Fox Valley in 1967.

Additional Meetings

An AAUW board meeting is scheduled Feb. 17 at the home of Mrs. James Veum, 1917 N. Eugene St. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Glen Rudie and Mrs. E. O. Dillingham.

First Lady Visits Senate Wives Red Cross Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Pat Nixon made an announced visit to the Senate Ladies Red Cross group on Capitol Hill Tuesday.

She was head of the group when her husband was vice president. The occasion today was the first meeting of the new year of the Senate wives in the old Senate Office Building.

The group makes bandages and other items for the Red Cross.

A White House spokesman announced Mrs. Nixon's visit after Mrs. Nixon had gone to the meeting. The First Lady, it was explained, "didn't want any publicity" on her visit—her first activity outside the White House since the inauguration.

Miss Herbst, Novelist Dead at 71

NEW YORK (AP) — Josephine Herbst, novelist, critic, and war correspondent, died Tuesday of cancer at New York Hospital. She was 71 years old.

Born in Sioux City, Iowa, she was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley in 1919 and moved to New York the next year.

Her first literary job was as a reader for a group of magazines, including Smart Set, supervised by H. L. Mencken and George Jean Nathan.

Later she went to Europe, living in Germany and France. In 1937 she went to Spain, one of the few women correspondents allowed to report on the Spanish civil war.

Her first novel, "Nothing Is Sacred," was published in 1928, and her second, "Money for Love," a year later.

In 1930 she attended the Second World Conference of the International Union of Revolutionary Writers in Kharkov, the Soviet Union, and the following year covered the Scottsboro case for the New Masses. She also reported from Cuba during the 1935 general strike, and wrote for the New York Post and The Nation.

Her last published book was "New Green World" in 1954.

She was married to and divorced from novelist John Herrmann.

Miss Herbst received a grant in 1966 from the National Institute of Arts and Letters and last year served on the fiction jury of the National Book Award.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alice Hansen of Vienna, Va.

The funeral will be private.

Dan Sparks Will Preview Symphony Concert Monday

Dan C. Sparks, principal clarinetist of the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra and assistant professor of music at Lawrence University, will discuss and play excerpts from the winter concert program at a Program-Preview Tea scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Monday at Fox Valley Campus of the University of Wisconsin. The Symphony program will be Feb. 9 at Lawrence Chapel.

Many pre-concert supper parties are planned the evening of the Symphony to allow music lovers to dine together and attend the symphony in groups. Leaguers in some communities are planning dutch treat parties at a favorite restaurant. Others are serving refreshments after the concert.

At a recent board meeting, Mrs. John Maring, League treasurer, announced a season ticket receipts of $3858.56, which represents more than double the number of tickets sold by the League for the 1967-68 season. Total membership is 292. Plans are underway for a spring luncheon April 28 to be followed by the annual business meeting.

Madison Setting for Ceremony

MADISON—Miss Jean Marie Zaun and Thomas H. Reinke exchanged wedding vows at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Luther Memorial Church. The Rev. Robert Peterson officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Zaun, Chicago, Ill. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Reinke, 322 Hewitt St.

Mrs. Mary Paulson, Chicago, the bride's grandmother, and Edward W. Rightor, Newton Centre, Mass., formerly of Neenah, served as the couple's honor attendants. Ushers were Eric Larson and Raymond Bletzinger.

A dinner was served at the Edgewater Hotel, Madison. The newlyweds will live at 501 N. Henry St., Madison.

Mrs. Reinke is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and is attending graduate school. Her husband is attending the University of Wisconsin and employed by the primate research laboratory of the university. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi fraternity.

inches thick and two feet wide at the widest part; fern pins from a florist's shop; one box of round pointed toothpicks; one or two bunches of endive or escarole; two bunches of nicely shaped radishes; three or four branches of celery; one small head of cauliflower; one cucumber; two boxes small cherry tomatoes; three medium carrots.

VEGETABLE PREPARATION
Cut off the base of endive or escarole. Wash the leaves in cool water. Shake and drain thoroughly. Put in large plastic bag; refrigerate.

Use large storage bowl and add cold water with several ice cubes for crisping the following vegetables:

Wash radishes. Remove tops and rootlet. If the radishes are pendant shaped, cut lengthwise into quarters almost to the crown. The radish will look like a tulip. If radishes are round and flat, cut into eighths almost to the crown.

Wash and cut celery into three-inch sticks. Make tiny diagonal slits along edges to give a feathered look.

Cut cucumber into thin round or diagonal slices.

Separate flowerets of cauliflower head. Cut flowerets lengthwise into one-fourth-inch slices.

Peel carrot; cut in half lengthwise. Use the vegetable peeler and slice off thin lengthwise strips. Roll up the slice and secure with toothpick, or use a needle with long thread and string the rolled curls like popcorn.

Put bowl of prepared vegetables into refrigerator overnight.

ARRANGEMENT

Allow an hour before party time. Cover Styrofoam heart with endive leaves. Hold leaves in place with fern pins. Put the prepared vegetables and cherry tomatoes on toothpicks. Arrange like vegetables in clusters of three to five. Alternate with contrasting colors. Stick vegetables into the green covered heart.

This amount should make enough nibbles for 10 guests for an hour of socializing.

Serve with a bowl of seasoned salt, favorite dip and softened cheese for those who are not counting calories.

WESTERN STYLE DIP

1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup sour cream
4 springs of parsley, chopped fine
1 green onion, minced
2 teaspoons dill seed
1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
Salt and Pepper to taste

Combine the ingredients and put in refrigerator. Hold overnight or at least two hours before serving. Garnish with sprig of parsley and a tiny radish rose. Recipe makes two cups.

LINCOLN LOG

4 egg yolks
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg whites
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

Confectioners Sugar
Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; gradually beat in quarter-cup sugar; add vanilla. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; gradually add half-cup sugar and beat until stiff peaks form. Fold yolks into whites.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; fold into egg mixture. Spread batter evenly in a greased, waxed-paper-lined 15x10x1-inch jelly-roll pan. Bake in a 275-degree oven about 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

Invert cake on a dish towel that has been sprinkled with confectioners sugar. Roll cake up very gently, from narrow end, rolling towel up in it. Cool on a wire rack.

CHERRY FILLING

2 cans (16 oz. each) water pack red tart pitted cherries
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon red food coloring
1 can (16 1/2 oz.) milk chocolate flavored frosting

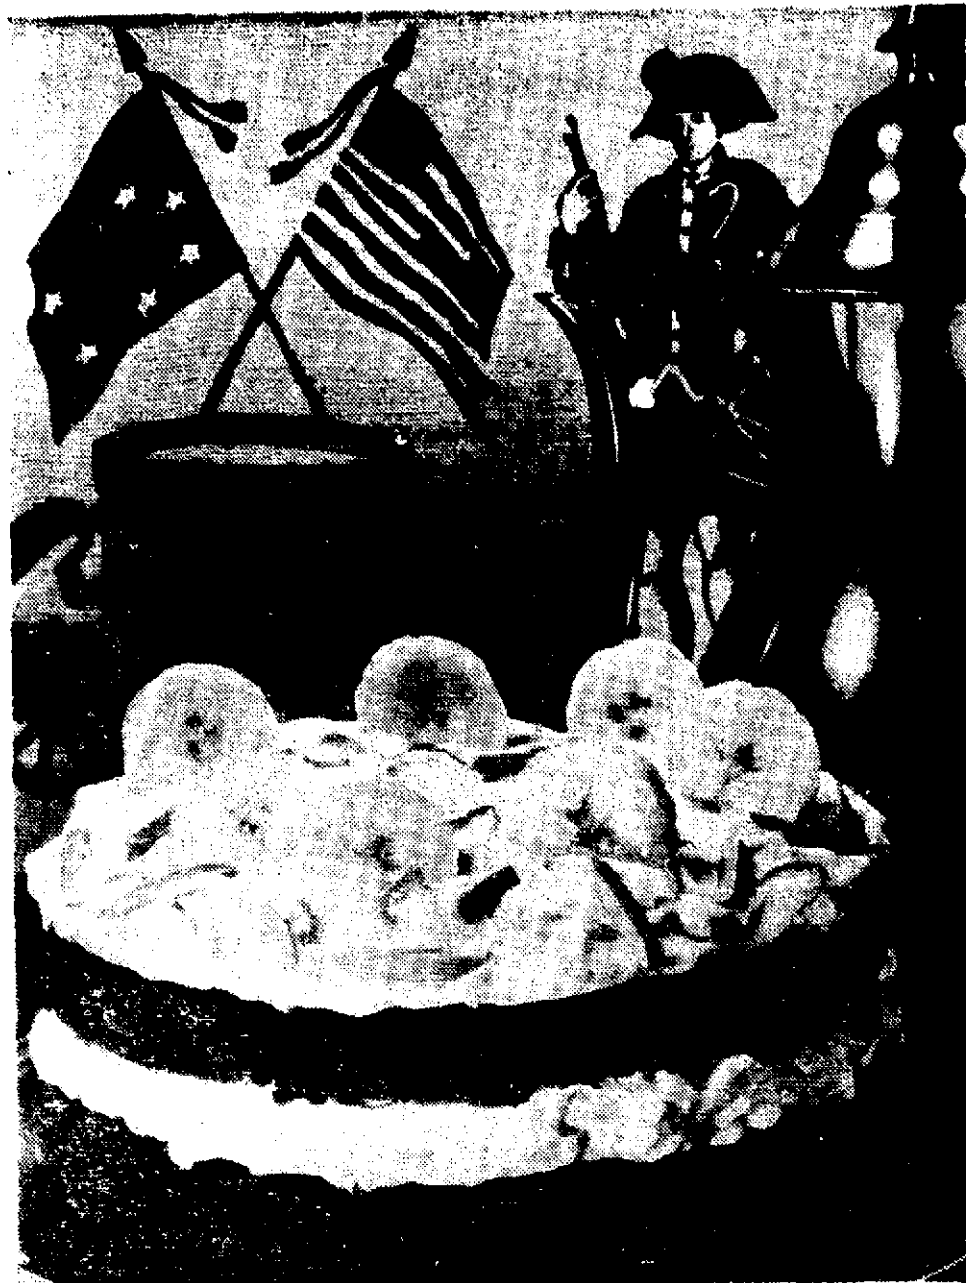

Drain cherries, reserving liquid. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in a saucepan. Mash cherries. Combine liquid from mashed cherries with reserved liquid to make one cup; add liquid and red food coloring to cornstarch mixture. Stir until smooth. Add mashed cherries; cook over medium heat until thickened and clear, stirring.

Chill. Carefully unroll cake, spread with filling and re-roll. Chill until serving time. Frost with milk chocolate frosting. Recipe makes eight to ten servings.

MAPLE CHERRY PIE

1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup maple flavored syrup
2 cans (16 oz. each) water pack red tart pitted cherries
1 teaspoon imitation maple flavoring
1/4 teaspoon red food coloring
1 tablespoon butter, or margarine
Pastry

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Stir in maple flavored

February Specials

symp, half-cup juice from cherries, maple flavoring and food coloring; mix well.

Cook until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Add drained cherries and butter.

Pour into an unbaked nine-inch pastry lined pie pan. Cover with lattice crust, fluting edge. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) 45 to 50 minutes.

EGG ROLLS

1 medium avocado, peeled and seeded
1 package (3 oz. Roquefort cheese, crumbled)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon minced onion
1/4 teaspoon hot pepper sauce salt to taste
3 packages (5 oz. each) frozen egg rolls

Mash avocado and blend with crumbled cheese; add lemon juice, onion, hot pepper sauce and salt to taste. Chill dressing.

Serve with hot egg rolls prepared according to directions and cut into thirds. If desired, the avocado dressing can be served in an avocado "shell" instead of a bowl. Simply halve and seed another avocado, leaving peel on. Scoop out most of the avocado meat leaving firm shell, and fill with dressing.

Recipe makes six large egg rolls and approximately one cup dressing.

YANGCHOW FRIED RICE

2 packages (10 oz. each) frozen fried rice with meat
1 can (6 1/2 oz.) chunk-style tuna, drained
1/2 cup chopped scallions or green onions
1/4 cup shredded iceberg lettuce
2 teaspoons soy sauce

Heat fried rice according to package directions. Put in a serving bowl and add all other ingredients. Toss together and serve immediately.

To make "bouquet," pack hot fried rice into lightly oiled coffee, tea or custard cups, pressing rice firmly down. Invert molds on a plain platter, tapping "mold" to loosen the rice. Surround each unmolded rice mound with halved cucumber slices and use various lengths of scallions as stems of fried rice flowers. Recipe makes about six servings.

FRIED RICE

STUFFED TOMATOES
1 package (10 oz.) frozen fried rice with chicken
6 unpeeled, medium-sized firm tomatoes
1/4 cup finely chopped onions
1/4 cup soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

The Ailing House

Directions On Label Best Guide

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: What is the best way to enamel new built-in wooden kitchen cabinets? The wood is completely unfinished. — Baltimore.

A: Pick a top quality enamel. If you're not sure, ask the paint dealer. Then follow label directions meticulously. Don't try ad libbing with the manufacturer's carefully worked-out directions for getting the best results. After all, if you do a good job, you're likely to buy more of the same aren't you?

Q: I have heard that holes and breaks in an asphalt driveway can be repaired with the new type of ready-mixed asphalt. If true, how do you tamp it down firmly? — Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

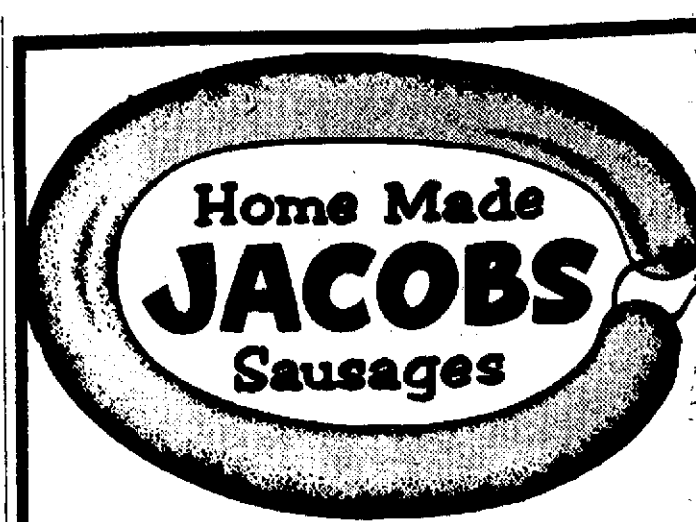

A: It is certainly true, but wait until warmer weather. Your car is an excellent tamper. Fill the hole with the ready-mixed asphalt and place a board over it. Then run your car over the board a few times. That will do the job nicely. This type of asphalt is available in sacks at most good garden supply centers and many lumber yards.

Q: Can the same latex house paint for siding be used on trim? — Peoria.

A: It is perfectly possible, but usually not quite as durable as special trim enamels made for these surfaces.

Q: Now that the plumber has succeeded in Roto-Rooting my sewer drain pipe clear of clogging tree roots, what can I do to keep this problem from recurring? The plumber just said to call if needed again. — Newark.

A: Last thing at night, flush half a pound of copper sulphate (blue vitriol) down any toilet fixture. You can get this at many drug stores and most chemical supply houses; or use special pipe-cleaning chemicals made for this job: every two weeks during the spring growing season, every three months thereafter.

Wine on the Table

Proper Storage Depends on Type

BY WILLIAM CLIFFORD

"I need a bottle of wine for dinner tonight. What goes with chicken?" How often have you heard or said something like this in your local wine store?

Too many of us must make a special trip to the store when we want wine. That's a nuisance. Moreover, you can't always find the wine you want or get it ready to serve at the last minute.

But which wines to keep on hand, and how should they be stored?

Storage depends on the type. But dry white wines and champagne more or less as you use them—a month's supply at a time, or six months, depending on storage space.

Cool Cellar Best

If you have a cool cellar, that's best. Try not to let fine white wines go through a summer in a warm place.

Red wines tolerate warmth better, though a cool cellar is still best. Some of the best red wines benefit so much from a year or several years of storage that you ought to put them down and plan ahead.

Choose a few bottles from France (Bordeaux, Burgundy), Italy (Piedmont), Spain (Rioja), or the finest California varietals such as Cabernet Sauvignon and Pinot Noir.

Taste them when you get them, then again in a year, and see the difference. Keep the best of them as long as you can, especially the ones with lots of tannin that puckers the mouth.

Store all wine bottles on their sides, away from strong light and heavy vibration as well as from heat.

Remember, wine is a living thing. Treat it with consideration, bring it to maturity in your care, and you'll enjoy a drink far superior to the bottle hastily chosen and badly shaken up on the day you open it.

Most Males Agree Gals Look O.K. in Pantsuits

By LOUISE COOK
If the pants fit, wear 'em. That's the advice the nation's males have for women who want to join the pants suit parade that's sweeping the country.

Although many men held out for the miniskirt—"I like to see a lady's legs," said one—most of those replying to an Associated Press survey gave qualified approval to women wearing pants, both for day and evening. "They look good on girls if the girls are good looking," said Robert Winter, a Detroit businessman.

"They look great on young girls, but they're inappropriate for more mature women," said Sam T. Milliken, a stock broker from Denver. Milliken added, however, "When I take a lady out for dinner or drinks or dancing, I like to see her in a dress."

Robert Chace, city manager of Loveland, Ohio, a Cincinnati suburb, said, "I have no exceptions to them. In fact, I would rather see women in pants than miniskirts. God gave us an imagination..."

The manager of a Philadelphia night spot, the Red Garter, said women of all kinds—both young and old—wore pants to his club. Does he like them? "Depends on who's wearing them, you know."

Determining Acceptability
The fit, cut and cost of pants suits determines not only male approval, but also whether a woman will be accepted at many of the country's top nightclubs and restaurants.

In Hollywood, dressy pants suits are okay. Tight-fitting capri pants are outlawed. A spokesman for the Brown Derby, for example, said pants suits are perfectly acceptable in the restaurant, "but plain old slacks at in the bar."

Mr. Kelly's, a Chicago night spot, is typical of many clubs in the windy city. A spokesman—a woman—said the club recently changed its policy and now admits women in evening slacks or pants suits. "No blue jeans," the spokesman added.

About the only place pants suits haven't appeared is in church. And an Albuquerque attorney who insisted that his wife buy several pants suits said, "I'm not so sure they wouldn't be acceptable there."

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. William Drumm, chancellor of the Archdiocese of St. Louis, said miniskirts are more of a problem in church than pants. "Right now," he said, "we're worrying about the highs—not the lows."

State Republicans Make Republicans

MADISON (AP) — State Republican headquarters announced today the appointment of Mrs. Charles Gellat of La Crosse as state chairman of the party's finance division for women.

She will direct establishment of women's finance committees at county levels.

This Is a Sketch of Pierre Balmain's navy linen cape-culotte shown in his new spring and summer fashion collection in Paris Tuesday. The outfit has white buttons and is worn with a be-ribboned hair-do. (AP Wirephoto)

Balmain Focuses on Sleeves

By LUCIE NOEL
PARIS (AP) — Pierre Balmain combined perfect grooming and fun in his new spring summer fashion collection Tuesday morning.

Sophisticated spring shades were masterfully blended with luscious colors, setting off a fun garment that incorporated a cape, dress and culottes.

For beachwear it was gaily trimmed in red and white polka dots.

For town, Balmain used discreet navy blue trimmed in white and worked in his new idea in printed sleeve. The same idea in buttoned silk organza was shown for cocktail time.

Tropical Prints
Balmain selected king-size hothouse tropical flora for his spiral wrapover variant. It goes floor length and sweeps in line with fabulous angel wings floating along.

Focus throughout is on sleeves. His newest is a deep corolla cuff inlaid with jeweled embroidery or eyelid broderie for daytime.

Balmain makes a point of always designing feminine clothes and his tailoring is superb and immaculate. Classic tweed, linen or shantungs and plain surfaced wools step forth in neat short jacketed suits, sometimes treated to a patent belt in the front only, or placed all round.

Crepe Shirts
He inserts interlaced circles or concentrated rings in the cut. Plain crepe shirts with ascot ties are in dark or light contrasts. They lend interest too on plain sleeveless wool or summer dresses.

Glaze linen is shown on jeune fille dresses in deep cuffs topped by a full bloused sleeve. Astrakan is dyed blue for sports and swakara lamb steps forth for dresses.

Balmain also has the answer in the most luxurious furs. A sports coat in oyster nutria has a matching oyster crepe dress. Shaded boreal fox in black edged white has its own white crepe dress.

International Mood
The evening dresses are carefully planned to reflect the mood of whatever country the designer has in mind—Iran, India, Portugal, Monaco or France. Styles range from young lady to those suited to royal courts.

Roger Vivier, high style shoe designer, presented a varied and remarkably elegant collection. Toes are polished and often trimmed in rounded metal buckles. Some come right down over the toe, in a variety of cut-out effects.

A black patent shoe has a high "mulevamp" and ankle strap. For party wear beautiful satins and brocades are treated to jeweled buckles and fine sandal straps and cutouts.

Your Problems

Brian Quits His Job After Six Months

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Four years ago I married a man my parents never liked. My dad always said Brian lacked ambition.

Last night Brian came home and announced he had quit his job at the supermarket. (Conflict with the boss.) This job lasted six months—the longest he has stayed with anything since we married. We have two small children and I can't go to work to help pay the bills the way I used to.

Brian says the reason he has employment troubles is that he has never had a job equal to his brains and ability. I can't understand, Ann, with all the prosperity around, how it happens that a capable man never seems to get the opportunity. Can you explain this? — Brian's Wife

Libraries Theme Of Homemakers Program

"Getting to Know Your Library" Up With Young Adults, will be the theme when homemakers of Calumet County meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 10 at the Chilton Courthouse.

The meeting will consist of a panel including a children's librarian, Mrs. Orin Lindemuth; librarian consultant, Jerry Young, Madison; Jim Jensen, member of Brillant J.C.'s, Lynn; Ninedorf and JoAnn Wagner, 4-H members, and Mrs. James Knaut, Chilton, moderator.

Library tours to find what is available for families are planned at the New Holstein Library from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. (except noon hour) Feb. 12; Brillant Library, 10 a.m. to noon, 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Feb. 14, and Chilton Library, all day, and evening Feb. 14.

adoption. (We live in a small town, Ann, and she couldn't face people unless she was married.) Sarah is a quiet person. She respects her parents a lot and now she feels she must do as they say. What is your opinion?

— Parent Trouble
Dear Trouble: How old are you? How old is Sarah? Would you quit high school? Can you support a wife and child? My advice is to sit down with your clergyman. He knows you and your girl and both sets of parents. His judgment would be better than mine. (And better than yours, too.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a 34-year-old problem. She is my mother. I am 11. My mother copies my piano teacher. A few days ago my piano teacher's little girl didn't want to eat her oatmeal so she threw it down the laundry chute. Her mother turned right around and made another bowl of oatmeal. What she didn't eat for breakfast she had to eat for lunch.

Now when I don't want to eat something, my mother says, "All right, you'll see it at the next meal." And sure enough, there it is.

What do you think about a mother who copies the piano teacher? — Copycat's Son

Dear Son: I think your piano teacher has a wonderful idea and I hope lots of other mothers copy her. (P.S. I love oatmeal, and I eat it even when I don't have to!)

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What to Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Copyright, 1969)

Delta city of Can Tho, but the crew escaped injury.

A spokesman said two crewmen were wounded when a second chopper, a UH-1, was hit by ground fire and crashed 19 miles southwest of Da Nang Tuesday afternoon.

Another OH-6 was shot down and one of its crewmen was injured during an operation near Saigon in which American soldiers were trying to encircle a Viet Cong force. Apparently the force slipped through the U.S. lines and escaped.

The enemy force, estimated at 50 to 150 men, opened fire Monday on troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade who were moving into an area 19 miles southwest of Saigon. About 1,000 American soldiers poured into the marshlands by air-lift, in an effort to surround the enemy, but an officer said, "It looks as if some of them slipped through before we could complete the cordon."

After two nights of heavy air and artillery bombardment, only 17 dead Viet Cong were counted. But on the fringes of the battlefield the American forces captured 18 tons of rice and a huge stockpile of munitions, including 37,000 rounds of mortar rifle ammunition, nearly 400 mortar rounds and recoilless rifle shells, 456 mortar charges, 575 mortar fuses, 100 pounds of TNT, 38 antitank grenades, 29 booby traps and 220 gallons of gasoline.

It appeared likely that the stockpile had been collected in preparation for a major offensive.

The U.S. has been saying since last month that captured enemy documents and prisoner-of-war interrogations point to a winter-spring offensive, but that the constant, large-scale U.S. and South Vietnamese sweep operations and the capture of huge stores of war materials has wrecked the timetable.

Since the beginning of the year, American and South Vietnamese forces have seized more than 1,000 tons of munitions and foodstuffs.

U.S. headquarters announced that another cache uncovered Tuesday by the U.S. Marines two miles below the demilitarized zone yielded 19,905 machine-gun rounds, 323 hand grenades, 27 rocket grenades, 72 mortar rounds, 15,000 small arms rounds and a heavy machine gun.

In Paris, President Charles de Gaulle gave renewed backing to French proposals for the Big Four to agree on a settlement. He told his Cabinet tensions are heightening and the only possible solution would be through concert of the Big Four powers.

The Soviet Union has given general approval of the idea and Britain has expressed sympathetic interest. The United States is expected to give its view early in February.

Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported the new trial in Baghdad began Tuesday night behind closed doors. It said the defendants were accused of working for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

It did not mention the number of defendants, but London sources had reported earlier that 35 persons, 13 of them Jews, would be tried by Iraq's revolutionary court on charges of spying and sabotage.

"Preparing for Attack" In Baghdad, Information Minister Abdullah Salloum Samarra told a news conference Israeli forces were preparing to attack Iraq's forces in Jordan in reprisal for the public hanging Monday of nine Jews and five other Iraqis convicted of spying for Israel.

The Israelis were enraged by the execution, and their government denied the victims had been spying for Israel. The executions also provoked varying degrees of condemnation in several foreign capitals.

"This is a purely internal affair with no room for intervention by any other country," Samarra said of the trials. Iraq already has announced its forces are in a state of military readiness for any Israeli reprisal.

The U.S. State Department announced it has urged Israel not to retaliate. Diplomats in Washington believe a reprisal raid coming so soon after Israel's Dec. 28 commando attack on Beirut International Airport might start another full-scale war.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference in Washington: "The position every American administration has taken regarding the cycle of provocations and reprisals has been a consistent one. It should be avoided."

Iraq handed the 14 alleged spies Monday despite clemency appeals from the United States, Britain, Pope Paul VI and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

"The Beginning" Travelers arriving in Beirut from Iraq said mobs in Baghdad howled for more executions as the hanged men dangled from gallows in the city's central square.

"This is just the beginning. More spies will meet the same fate," a radio commentator declared.

Leonard Quietly Quits 2 More All-White Clubs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jerris Leonard, who faces Senate hearings today on his appointment as the Nixon administration's top civil rights lawyer, has quietly severed all ties with two more all-white clubs in Milwaukee.

Leonard resigned this week from the Milwaukee Athletic Club, which he joined in 1966. He resigned that year from the Madison Club of Milwaukee, which listed him as a member from 1961 to 1966, because membership in the Milwaukee Athletic Club allowed him to use the Madison facilities. Officials of both clubs confirmed Tuesday that they have no Negro members.

Resigns From Eagles The 38-year-old Leonard, tapped to head the Justice Department's civil rights division as an assistant attorney general, was already under fire for membership in the all-white Milwaukee lodge of the Fraternal

Since Army Troop Buildup Infantry Officer Shortage Worsening in S. Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says a shortage of infantry officers has deepened in Vietnam since the big U.S. troop buildup in the war area three years ago.

The shortages are primarily among lieutenants and captains, the Army said. No figures were available.

But the shortage extends to field grades as well. The pinch is so tight among infantry lieutenant colonels that many, including World War II and Korean War veterans, are being denied retirement.

The Army refuses to discuss numbers, but sources said there is a shortage of 700 lieutenant colonels, who commanded infantry battalions, among other assignments.

Although more than 50 Army lieutenant colonels have been killed in Vietnam, this would hardly be the cause of the shortage.

But some Army sources said the loss of more than 600 majors and captains has had an important effect since their deaths took them off the promotion ladder.

Although more than 1,000 Army lieutenants have died in Vietnam the Army cited other reasons for a lack of company grade infantry officers.

"The number of infantry officers gained from ROTC this fiscal year is smaller than expected, with many officers choosing other combat arms and services," the Army said.

In other words, they did not want to serve with the rifle units carrying the brunt of the fighting.

"And a large number of infantry officers who entered active duty during the 1966-67 buildup are due to complete their service obligations this year," the Army said.

Living Costs Continue Rise In December

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in living costs slowed in December with an increase of two-tenths of one per cent, but 1968 still wound up with the sharpest annual hike in 17 years, totaling 4.7 per cent, the government said today.

The Labor Department's consumer price index ended the year at 123.7, meaning it cost $12.37 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which supplied the figures, also reported that the average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose 5.5 per cent last year but "increases in consumer prices eroded most of this gain."

Most of last month's increase in living costs was due to a six-tenths of one per cent rise in food prices and a five-tenths hike in housing costs.

The bureau also reported an increase of two-tenths of one per cent in wholesale prices in December and a preliminary estimate of another eight-tenths this month, which would be the largest in three years.

The 1968 rise of 4.7 per cent in living costs was the largest since the Korean War year of 1951 when federal wage-price controls were finally imposed to halt the rapid climb.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, declined to endorse the prediction of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's outgoing Council of Economic Advisers that the price rise would slow to about three per cent this year.

This referred to young officers who received their commissions through college ROTC or officer candidate school and were obligated to serve at least two years on active duty.

Recently, the Army has extended this obligation to three years for enlisted men picked for OCS.

In this connection, the Army has issued circulars urging commanders to encourage qualified warrant officers and sergeants to apply for direct appointments as infantry officers.

Also, some reserve officers who have put in for retirement are being persuaded to extend on active duty for two years.

The Army said it expects the shortage will be eliminated during the next fiscal year starting July 1. It did not say how this would be done.

Highway Crash Takes 3rd Life

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS A Grant County traffic accident has claimed its third victim, bringing Wisconsin's 1969 highway toll to 31. The grim count was 69 on this date one year ago when a record was set.

Richard Bartels, 23, of Racine died in a Madison hospital Tuesday of injuries suffered the day before when a car left U. S. 151 near Platteville.

Two other men, both 21 and students at Platteville State, were killed in the crash.

Thomas L. Gostomski, 28, of Menomonee Falls was struck early today when his car struck a bridge abutment in that community. He was alone in the vehicle.

High Court Rule Strengthens Churches Facing Dissention

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court decision taking questions of religious doctrine and faith out of the nation's courtrooms likely will strengthen denominations facing local breakaways over such social issues as civil rights and the Vietnam war.

Another result from the decision may be to encourage national religious leaders and their churches to be even more outspoken on social matters.

The Monday decision dealt with a move in 1966 by two Presbyterian congregations in Savannah, Ga., to break away from the Presbyterian Church in the United States—Southern and take the local church property with them.

A Chatham County jury, dominated, incidentally by Baptists, found itself judging whether the parent church had departed from Presbyterian doctrine in supporting civil rights activities, civil disobedience as a last-resort tactic and Vietnam war dissent. The jury decided the church had strayed and awarded the two local flocks assets worth $171,000.

Area Offshoots The Supreme Court, in striking down judgment, said the Georgia hearing had inquired into "the very core of a religion"—church doctrine—and thereby ventured into an area declared offbounds to government by the Constitution.

Simply put, the high court decision, written by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., ruled that religious disputes ought to be settled within the religious family.

The parent bodies in such hierarchical denominations as the Presbyterians, the Episcopalians, Roman Catholics and the Lutherans already have great control over local church affairs. The decision, therefore, would seem to make it almost impossible for dissident local branches to take church property in a break with national churches.

Obviously, local congregations, knowing they can't take the church building and the parsonage with them, will think long and hard before going off on their own.

The same would appear true of the Methodists, a connection of the church with some local autonomy but administered in a hierarchical way. Like the Presbyterians, the Methodist face a breakaway in Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina caused by a difference in policies.

Commented John Wesley Lord, Washington-area bishop of the United Methodist Church: "This ruling of the Supreme Court would seem to strengthen the right of parent churches to control the equity, the property, in the event of a movement of dissidents in local churches."

Good Cooks Watch That Clock!

BY MARY-BETH KUESTER

Successful cooks need to be other menu items during the clock watchers. Girls just learning to cook often complain that meals never come out "done all at once."

Four important factors influence the amount of time it takes to prepare a meal. Menu selection makes a big difference. How well work is organized, skill in methods of cooking and good work habits all contribute to success.

When selecting items for the menu, choose some foods to prepare from scratch. Others can be partially prepared, mixes or purchased ready-to-eat.

Time-Savers
Entrees usually require the most time for preparation. With packaged food as the beginning, they can be prepared in far less time.

A supper casserole, for instance, made from a packaged macaroni and cheese dinner with canned luncheon meat topping is nutritious and filling, yet it takes much less time than starting from scratch.

Variations from packaged dinners make delicious entrees. Add chunks of salmon to noodles romanoff or enhance spaghetti dinners with mushrooms. Teen-agers are well acquainted with "doctoring" packaged pizzas with tuna, shrimp or anchovies.

The labels on packaged dinners can be a key to better time management. For example, start the water boiling for a sliced mushrooms and cooked spaghetti dinner first. Prepare onion rings in pie shaped wedges. Sprinkle with cheese and bake. Serve hot.

CASUAL SUPPER SALAD

- 1 (7 oz.) pkg. macaroni and cheese dinner
- 1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen lima beans, cooked
- 1 cup cubed cooked ham
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 cup sliced radishes
- 1/2 cup diced green pepper
- 1/2 cup mild garlic
- French dressing
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 teaspoons sweet pickle relish

Prepare macaroni and cheese dinner as directed on package. Add remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Chill. Serve on lettuce. Recipe makes six servings.

SAVORY LUNCHEON CASSEROLE

- 1 (7-oz.) package macaroni and cheese dinner
- 1 (12-oz.) can luncheon meat
- 4 pineapple slices

Prepare macaroni and cheese dinner as directed on package. Meanwhile, cut luncheon meat into eight slices. Broil meat and pineapple to heat through. Pour dinner into casserole and arrange meat and pineapple on top. Recipe makes four to six servings.

Architect George Narovec points out the proposed location for the joint safety building for Appletton aldermen and Outagamie County supervisors at a joint meeting of the two bodies Tuesday night. The suggested location is to the north of the courthouse annex. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Safety Building Snagged In Council-Board Session

The Appletton City Council and the Outagamie County Board met in an historic session Tuesday night, but it resulted in a further postponement of the big decision on a joint safety building.

A final decision on whether to build the joint structure probably will not be made until March.

Aldermen and supervisors asked the special joint study committee to prepare several alternate site locations for the proposed facility before the project is presented to the two legislative bodies for a decision. However, a vote of confidence in continuing the study was given by the city and county representatives in an informal voice vote.

In what is believed to be the first joint meeting in history of the council and county board, aldermen and supervisors questioned the proposed location of the safety building and asked for several alternate sites to provide cost comparisons.

The site recommended by the committee, which was composed of five aldermen and five supervisors, is immediately to the north of the courthouse annex and would involve closing Elm Street, between Seventh and Eighth streets.

George Narovec, architect, said the 11 lots that would have to be obtained would cost about $220,000, according to figures obtained from the city assessor's office. However, several aldermen felt the price was "100 per cent off."

Cost Estimates

Building cost was estimated by Narovec at $1,850,000. However, he stressed that both cost figures were strictly estimates.

Ald. John Ayers, (12th), chairman of the joint study committee, outlined the background of the study, which started last May, and said the proposed location tied in with the comprehensive plan for Appletton prepared by Harlan Bartholomew and Associates. He also noted the joint resolution which authorized the study specified the courthouse area for the safety building.

He said "we felt the best approach was to follow the comprehensive plan guidelines. It would be disadvantageous to separate the two facilities (safety building and courthouse)."

He noted that while implementation of the complete Bartholomew plan was probably years away, they should aim in that direction. "If the Oneida Street bridge comes into being, it will tie in ideally," Ayers said.

Valley Health Study Urged

COG Asked to Explore Impact Of Federal Planning Laws

A group of major Fox Cities industries and health organizations today requested the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) to undertake an exploratory study on the impact of recent federal comprehensive health planning legislation in the Fox Valley.

The organizations are providing donations of over $2,000 to defray the major portion of financing the study.

The study also would be aimed at defining the proper role of various local organizations in formulating, financing and developing a regional health planning facility.

In a letter to COG, spokesman Roger A. Baird, route 1, Menasha, asked for the preliminary study to "give direction and guidance" to the sponsoring organizations.

Baird noted that 1966 and 1967 federal legislation encouraging comprehensive health planning, and the establishment of the State Bureau of Comprehensive Health Planning with responsibility for implementing the laws, were causing concern.

"The state is encouraging voluntary programs, established and operated by representative groups within the various areas of the state," Baird said.

He added that those areas exerting leadership would be in a better position to express their viewpoints on area programs.

Baird indicated that the group of local organizations and industries had met several times in recent months on the common concern with community health matters. Noting comprehensive health service is a "very complicated concept, with wide ramifications," Baird said the group decided a "study, made by persons familiar with the planning process, is essential before further action can be undertaken."

He said the scope of the exploratory study should be:

- To determine the optimum geographical area to be served by a regional health planning agency.
- To take an inventory of organizations which might be interested or affected by an agency, short and long-term, as well as dollar, effects should be considered, he said.
- To estimate the cost of operating an agency, as well as expenses for initial work and long-range expenditures.
- To find ways to finance the agency, as well as projects and studies, with local and federal funds.

Baird is the former chairman of the board of directors of Appletton Memorial Hospital and is the chairman of the recently re-established COG Citizens Advisory Committee.

The proposal will be presented to COG officials in February for a decision whether to undertake the exploratory study.

Eugene E. Franchett, COG executive director, said COG could handle a study, if approval was given.

On the request, he commented: "This is an expression of the community, 'that's what we're here for — to serve the community.'"

Set Priorities

The approach would be to determine what local medical organizations feel are top priorities as well as the impact of the federal programs, he said.

Franchett indicated the federal legislation is broad, with congress calling for a regional health planning agency to provide health services, manpower and facilities for an area. Because health is interrelated with other COG study areas, he added, it would appear COG could be effective as the health agency.

Trucks Damaged At Building Site

Calumet County Sheriff's authorities are investigating vandalism of three trucks estimated at $500 to $600 at a building site Tuesday night in Appletton.

Radiators of the three ton trucks belonging to Concrete Walls, Inc., were punctured with a bar or hammer and distributor wires were torn from the engine of each vehicle. Distributor caps and spark plugs were taken from the engines.

The vehicles were left overnight where the Kaukauna firm is pouring basement walls for a house in the 2200 block of Sylvan Street, near McKinley School.

Spent Russian Rocket

Fireball in the Sky Only 'Space Junk'

The brilliant flash of light, seen by some persons in the Fox Valley region and the Midwest Tuesday night was a piece of Russian space hardware burning up as it struck the atmosphere over Chicago, an Air Force spokesman has indicated.

An Appletton fireball trail as an orange fireball sawing a plume of blue flame. A state patrolman said he could find no debris to substantiate a report that fragments of the fire ball had landed in a field near Omro in Winnebago County.

Similar reports were received from persons living in Shawano and Ogdensburg.

Brig. Gen. Martin Menter said the object was a rocket used to launch a Russian communications satellite, Molniya, some two years ago.

Gen. Menter, command judge advocate of the Space Defense

Command located near Colorado Springs, said the returning hardware was identified 30 minutes before its entry by the North America Air Defense Command. Sky watchers in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan reported seeing the brilliant glowing object at 1:50 a.m. Sunday in the midwest skies. Some reported a sound similar to a sonic boom accompanied the flash.

Some reported to have seen landing spaceships and others said flaming objects fell a short distance from them.

Menter said there are 1,536 objects in orbit around the Earth. Some 353 of these are payloads, including 274 that belong to the United States. The Russians are responsible for 67 payloads. The remaining objects, as "space junk," which consist of spent boosters, coverings and other useless items.

Roberts Withdraws From Race

March Primary Will Trim Field of Candidates in 2 Wards, School Board

The Appletton School District announced today that primary elections are also scheduled in the 1st and 13th Ward for City council posts.

Interest Stirred

Judging from the surprises and controversy that developed during the one-month period for circulating nomination papers, the school board election is expected to stir considerable interest in Appletton and the four town areas attached to the district.

Roberts, who has frequently tangled with Mayor George Buckley and issued a strong blast against him at a recent board meeting, listed several reasons for stepping down from the board of education.

"I was unsure about running until the mayor made himself a candidate," Roberts said in a prepared statement. "However, since my views on the approach to the school situation are different, I felt it necessary to oppose him for this office."

Roberts said as a result he took out papers and expressed his thanks to those who circulated and signed them.

He also gave personal reasons for not running for a second term, pointing to his promotion as associate director of physical education and athletics at Lawrence, and family responsibilities.

Roberts said he will be on sabbatical leave next year after the football season in order to complete his Ph.D. in educational administration.

Roberts participated in Monday night's school board meeting but gave no hint he was dropping from the race. (Buckley announced Jan. 2 he

Voters Reject New Kaukauna School

KAUKAUNA — A proposed $1.5 million bond issue, which would have been used to construct a school and eliminate the overcrowded conditions that now exist over the elementary level in the Kaukauna School District, was voted down 1,695 to 1,349 in a special referendum Tuesday.

Outlying areas were largely responsible for the defeat of the northside school, which would have housed children from kindergarten through sixth grade.

The city of Kaukauna vote was 1,139 for and 1,000 against; Little Chute, 44 for and 39 against; Sherwood, 18 for and 55 against; Town of Kaukauna, 17 for and 42 against; Town of Harrison, 22 for and 122 against; Town of Buchanan, 29 for and 100 against; Town of Vandenberg, 57 for and 159 against.

Previous Vote

The vote reverses a previous special referendum election involving only city voters in which an attempt was made to delay construction for at least two years. That referendum was rejected by 1,549 to 817.

At that time the outlying areas were not permitted to vote, due to the wording of the petition asking for the special election which was circulated by voters within the city only.

This morning an official of the Kaukauna Board of Education expressed dismay at the outcome of the vote.

"I have no idea what action the school board can take now. I suppose all we can do is start all over again," said Victor Haen, president of the board.

Kaukauna Vote

"I'm at a loss as to how to get the truth and the terrible need for this school to the voters," he said, adding that he felt that if the Kaukauna voters had turned out as they had in the previous referendum election, the $1.5 million figure would have been approved.

A total of 278 public school pupils now attend classes in rented buildings and that figure is expected to swell by another 180 by next fall. This projected increase the board considers conservative, but in any case would raise the number of children in need of school facilities to more than 450.

At present, three kindergarten classes are situated at First Methodist Church; three first grades at St. Mary's Catholic School and one kindergarten class at Bethany Lutheran Church.

The rejection of this special referendum, also makes the bids for the school unacceptable because the deadline for the awarding of bids is Feb. 5.

Planning Started in '67

The structure would have included 52,000 square feet of educational area and 10,000 square feet of storage area, housing 22 teaching stations and 19 classrooms, two kinder

Local Bureaucracy' Blamed

Firms Again Hear Tokenism Charge

OSHKOSH — "Fox Valley employers tell us of their burning desire to hire minority groups and then blame local bureaucracy for preventing large-scale employment of members of minorities," Clifford Lee, director of the Equal Opportunities Division of the Department on Industry, Labor and Human Relations, said here Tuesday.

But Lee, and Joseph C. Fagan, commission chairman, accused the employers of tokenism in efforts to recruit minority employees. It was the second such accusation from Fagan in recent weeks.

Lee, Fagan and Joseph McClain, direct action chairman of the Milwaukee NAACP Youth Council, spoke on a panel before the Oshkosh Human Rights Council.

Firms that claim to be equal opportunity employers "trot out their black engineers and scientists once a year, but never get down to the nitty-gritty on the local scene," Lee charged.

The panelists said Oshkosh and Fond du Lac businessmen, at a meeting earlier in the day, had complained of a shortage of workers and said it is caused by a shortage of housing.

Officials of Kiekhafer Mercury Corp., Fond du Lac, said at the meeting that the company is losing $9 million a year because of the shortage of employees.

"If housing is a real problem," Lee said, "local employers and local bureaucracy should solve it."

"It's time to have more action and less talk," he added.

County May Bond, City Lease Space

No formal recommendation has been made for financing construction of the proposed joint city-county safety building but a proposal for the county to bond and the city lease space drew the most favorable reaction.

A study made by county and city finance officials indicated the county was in a better financial position to bond than the city. The report made Tuesday night observed that if such a financial arrangement was made, a lease agreement for space in the building could be made for a longer period of time than the term of the bonds.

This was supported by both city and county officials at the joint council-county board meeting.

Mayor Agrees

Mayor George Buckley said he agreed the county should do the bonding with the city leasing space in the building.

Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, also urged that all of the financing be done by one government unit, preferably the county.

DeLaHunt, a member of the trustees for the Fox Valley Center which is jointly owned by Outagamie and Winnebago counties, said experience there has shown that joint financing does not work.

Walter Rugland, president of Aid Association for Lutherans, said the bonding should not be split between the two bodies. "Either the county or the city should float the bonds and the other rent," he said.

Ald. John Ayers (12th), chairman of the joint committee which has been studying the proposed safety building, said they were not ready to make a specific financing recommendation at this point.

He said they had first wanted a determination on whether or not to go ahead with construction before getting involved with the other aspects of the project.

He said studies have also indicated the only federal funds which may be available would be through the office of Emergency Government (formerly civil defense).

Ayers said Racine County obtained Emergency Government funds about a year ago which amounted to 10 per cent of their construction costs.

Police Rap Dismissal of Traffic Charge

Geenen's Office Didn't Pursue Case Involving Official

Appletton police today criticized the city attorney's office for its dismissal of a traffic charge brought against Public Works Director Francis H. Keuler.

Keuler, 41, of 900 S. Christine St., was charged by police with imprudent driving after the Department of Public Works auto he was driving went out of control and struck an automatic traffic signal post at Badger and College avenues about 6 p.m. Jan. 6.

Patrolman Donald Jagoditch, the arresting officer, said on his accident report that Keuler was eastbound on College Avenue, turning onto Badger Avenue, when the accident occurred. The car, which sustained damage to the left front, snapped off the signal post.

Jagoditch, who said he talked to witnesses, contended, in the report that Keuler was going too fast to make the turn.

Reviewed by Captain

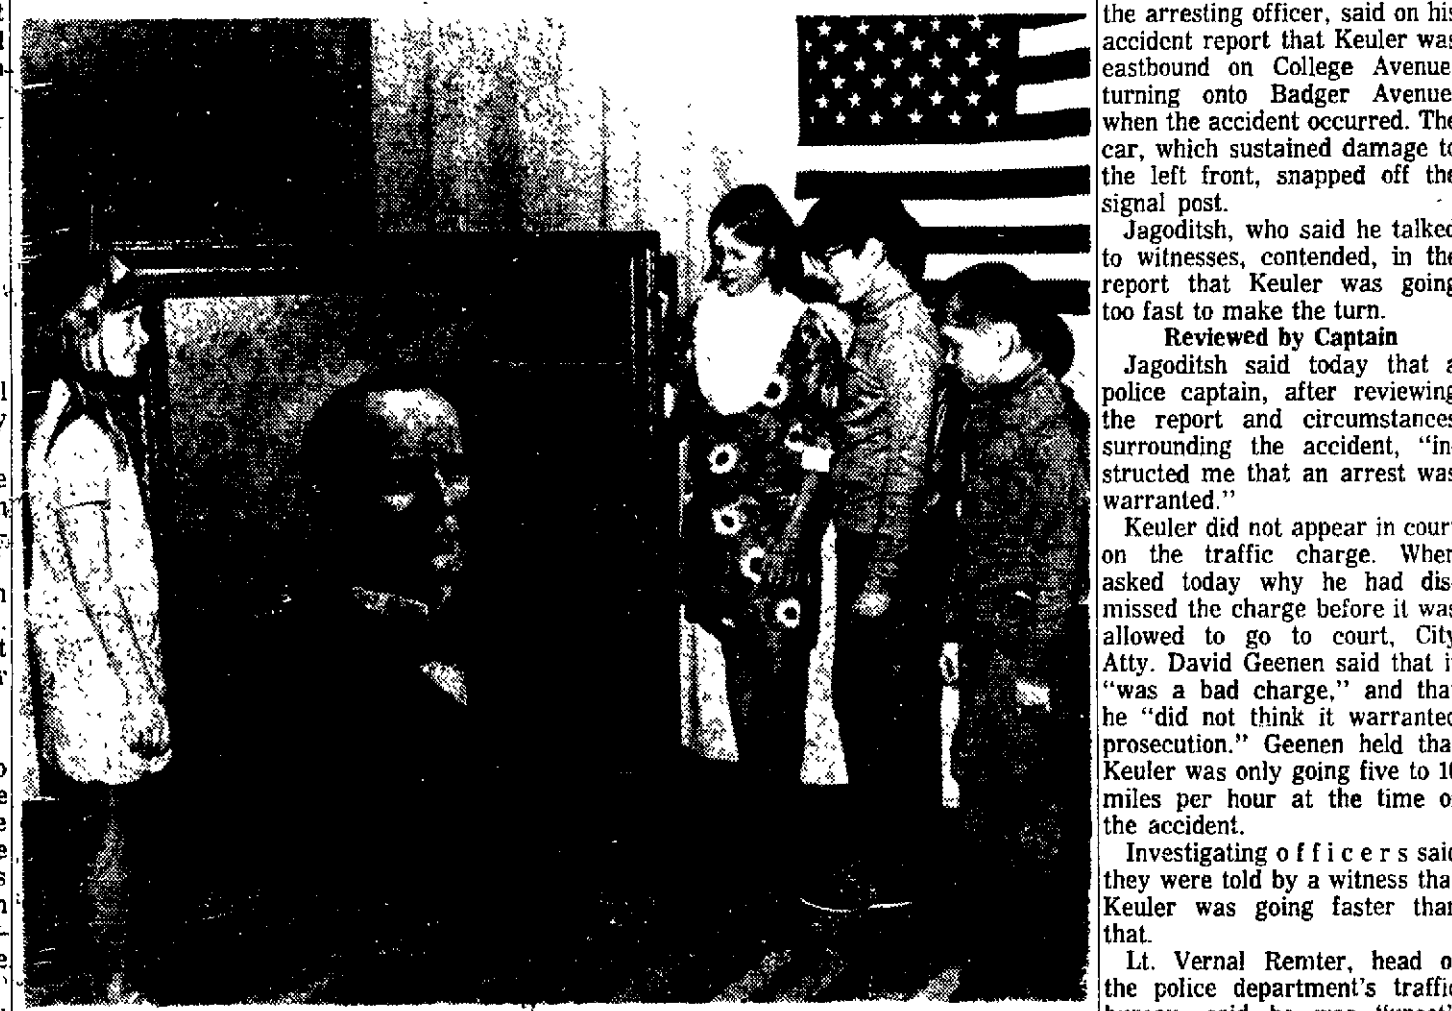

Jagoditch said today that a police captain, after reviewing the report and circumstances surrounding the accident, "instructed me that an arrest was warranted."

Keuler did not appear in court on the traffic charge. When asked today why he had dismissed the charge before it was allowed to go to court, City Atty. David Geenen said that it "was a bad charge," and that he "did not think it warranted prosecution." Geenen held that Keuler was only going five to 10 miles per hour at the time of the accident.

Investigating officers said they were told by a witness that Keuler was going faster than that.

Lat. Vernal Remter, head of the police department's traffic bureau, said he was "upset" over the dismissal. He and the next in command in the traffic bureau, Sgt. Elmer Marx, said they would not have dismissed the charge and they disagreed with Geenen that it was a bad charge.

"I think it was a good charge," Remter said.

Licensing for Ambulances Given Priority

Requirements for Drivers, Attendants Described to Council

Priority is being given proposed state legislation calling for the licensing of ambulance drivers and attendants. Among other things, a state Division of Health official said here Tuesday.

Edward Forrester, Madison, of the emergency medical service section of the state agency, appeared before the city council's public safety committee with Fire Chief Roland Kuehl.

There are already national laws regulating private and municipal emergency vehicles and setting for personnel manning them, Forrester said.

Setting Standards
He said bills now before the Legislature, and alluded to by Gov. Warren Knowles this week, call for licensing operators and attendants, plus setting standards for vehicles, radio communications and qualifications for dispatchers.

Forrester, a past president of the Wisconsin Fire Chiefs Association, said tentative state plans call for holding training schools for ambulance personnel throughout the state.

He did not rule out the possibility of Appleton being one of those centers, using fire department personnel as assistant trainers.

"Right now we are engaged in a public relations program to get citizens interested in the need for upgrading emergency services and facilities," Forrester said.

"We want people to contact their state legislators and let them know how they feel."

Primaries to be Held for Two Neenah Seats

NEENAH-MENASHA — Primary elections in two Neenah wards and two five-way matches in Menasha will enliven spring elections in the Twin Cities, final lists of candidates who met Tuesday's deadline for filing nomination papers show.

Neenah's Third and Seventh ward voters will choose in a March 4 primary which two of three candidates in each ward will be on the April 1 ballot for aldermen.

In Menasha, which does without primary elections for aldermen, five candidates will battle it out on April 1 for the Sixth Ward seat being vacated by Ald. James Miller. In the Fourth Ward, there are five contenders for two vacancies. The winner will serve two years and the first runner-up will serve one year.

Menasha also has two candidates who are public employees. One works for the school district and would have to abstain from voting on the school budget if he were elected. The other is a police patrolman who is running despite two legal opinions that question whether he could serve as both alderman and policeman.

In other races, Neenah has three incumbent aldermen who are unopposed for re-election and Menasha has four who face single opponents.

One of two Menasha School Board incumbents whose seeking re-election and the other has decided against running. One candidate who was circulating nomination papers failed to file them and reportedly intends to wage a write-in campaign for the school board. Four candidates are running for three seats on the Neenah School Board.

Primary elections in Neenah will see competition in the Third Ward between Ald. Peter Fara, 430 High St., Michael G. (Gary) Ellis, a St. Mary High School teacher, and Virgil Achterberg, 218 W. North Water St.

The Seventh Ward primary will eliminate one contender from a slate including Ald. Donald Gomoll, 914 Caroline St., Gordon Brittnacher, 154 Richard Ave., and Donald W. Steber, 138 Andrew St.

Incumbents seeking re-election without opposition include First Ward Ald. Paul Mueller, Fifth Ward Ald. Harry Miller and Ninth Ward Ald. Joseph Kraus.

2 Railroads Promise Attention to Flashing Signals at Crossings

MENASHA — Local railroads without being fixed by the railroads.

Klesenberg said Tuesday he received a letter from the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad assuring him the matter was receiving the attention of the signal department, and the Soo Line and Milwaukee Road sent local officials to give Klesenberg similar assurances personally.

Snow Removal
The council also had complained of failure by railroads to clear snow from sidewalks across their tracks, and chuk-holes between tracks in grade crossings. Klesenberg said the railroads have taken measures to deal with those problems, too.

Aldermen had suggested having the city street department clear the crossings and bill the railroads. But, Klesenberg said the railroads have done their own work, eliminating billing problems some officials had foreseen if the city assumed the duties and charged the railroads.

Babcock Estate Totals $869,801

OSHKOSH — The gross value of the estate left by the late Helen E. Babcock, Neenah, and who died Nov. 25, 1966, was valued at $869,801, according to papers filed this week in county probate court.

After deductions, the market value of the estate totaled $607,817.

The chief beneficiary is a sister who received $102,464. Those who received $10,000 or more from the estate included nieces and nephews, the First Presbyterian Church of Neenah and Theda Clark Memorial Hospital.

Oldtimers Recall 'Captain Andy'

Winniger Remembered in Neenah

NEENAH — News of the death of actor Charles Winniger, 84, Wednesday in Palm Springs, Calif., unleashed a flood of memories for Neenah "boys" who recalled the many times Winniger appeared here with his family.

"Charles was the star of the troupe's performances when they played at the Neenah Theater at the turn of the century," one elder citizen recalled. "Of course, most people today remember when he played Captain Andy in Showboat on radio and in the movies."

Harry Bishop pressed his memory after instant recall of the many times the Winniger Troupe, with Charles, his brothers Frank, John, Josef and Adolph and sister Theresa appeared here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franz Winniger.

"I first saw them as a boy when they played in a tent out at the harness horse race track on the end of the Island, right where the Congregational Church stands now," Bishop said. "They sang and danced. Charlie was the chubby one; John played the leadman for his brother Frank who was the comedian. They played summer theater here a lot when it was 10, 20 and 30 cents a show. There was a different show every night and they stayed as long as two and three weeks."

Marshall Bryan, who now lives at 503 Church St., has refreshing boyhood memories of the late Charles Winniger when he played with the troupe in an outdoor theater located at the present site of the Friendly Bar.

"A man named Wojahn had made a stage at the back of his old barn, placed benches in the yard and the Winniger gang played there many nights through the summer," he said.

Charlie played the cornet and was always the leading man — in the melodramas. We kids in the neighborhood used to throw hay down on the stage and aggravate the players — so they gave us tickets to the show to keep us in hand."

Bergstrom to Pay 30-Cent Dividend for 4th Quarter

NEENAH — Directors of Bergstrom Paper Company have declared a fourth quarter dividend of 30 cents per share, up 5 cents over the amount paid to stockholders the previous two years.

The dividend will be payable Feb. 26 to stockholders of record at the close of business on Feb. 11.

The net earnings during 1968 also showed a sizable jump over the previous year. Earnings amounted to $1,468,000, or $2.47 per share on the 593,635 shares of common stock outstanding. Earnings in 1967 were $956,000 and equaled $1.62 per share. H. R. Moore, company president, said the two years couldn't be accurately compared because of certain accounting methods not in effect in 1967 and the 10 per cent federal income surtax enacted in 1968.

"Had these methods been used, which relate to the computation of depreciation and actuarial assumptions used in determining pension costs, and had the surtax been in effect in 1967," Moore further explained, "earnings for that year would have been approximately $1,245,000, or $2.11 per share."

Paper Institute, LU Get $40,000

Karl E. Stansbury Leaves Funds From $5.7 Million Estate

Lawrence University and the Institute of Paper Chemistry were among Fox Cities educational and charitable institutions named to share in a $5.7 million estate left by the late industrialist and civic leader, Karl E. Stansbury.

Stansbury, a prominent leader in the paper industry, willed $40,000 each to Lawrence University and the Institute of Paper Chemistry. He was a trustee for both institutions prior to his death in 1965 at the age of 86.

Final Accounting
According to the final accounting of Stansbury's will in Outagamie County Probate Court, his widow, two daughters, a grandson and three granddaughters shared the major portion of the estate which, after deductions, totaled $4.5 million. Most of his estate consisted of personal property, including a large amount in stocks and bonds.

The major portion of the estate left to relatives consisted of trusts. His daughters are Mrs. Mary S. Ruiz, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Helen S. Dupree, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Two non-relatives named to receive distributive shares of $2,200 and $5,568 respectively were Winfred Hess of Kaukauna, and Martha Ann Lichtfuss of Appleton.

Charitable Organizations
Charitable organizations named in the will were Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America, the Fox River Area Girl Scouts Council, Thilco Foundation, Inc., of Kaukauna, First Methodist Church of Appleton, Kaukauna Community Hospital, St. Elizabeth Hospital, Appleton Memorial Hospital, and the YMCA, each of which received distributive shares of $5,000.

All saints Episcopal Church of Appleton, the Infant Welfare Circle Kings Daughters Foundation, of Appleton were each named to receive $3,000, and $2,000 was willed to the Visiting Nurses Association of Appleton.

Our Produce man says: "Freshness is My Thing"

Our produce managers are often accused of talking "fresh" to our customers...and for good reason. They're talking about the top fresh quality of all Treasure Island fruits and vegetables. Bringing fresh fruits and vegetables, daily, to thousands of T.I. families requires real team efficiency, and Treasure Island has a winning team. It requires trained on-the-spot buyers, who are experts at judging quality.

Special equipment is used to handle the produce when it arrives at each store, and our T.I. produce managers take great pride in having more items of better quality than anyone else in town. High volume sales and fast turnover means our fresh produce comes to you actually days fresher. Efficient store operation further lowers the cost, and the savings are passed on to you. Hendricks Challenges Town 'Czar'

MENASHA — The man who has declared himself a candidate to oppose Roland Kamp for Town of Menasha chairman said today he "wants to bring the government back to the people and not let the town be run by a czar."

Martin Hendricks, 1795 Old Plank Road, filed his nomination papers Tuesday. For the past three years he has been secretary of the Town of Menasha Sanitary District 4. Kamp had "no comment" when asked about the opposition to his seeking the office for a third consecutive term. Kamp was elected two years ago to serve as the town's first full-time chairman after serving in the office in a part-time capacity.

Hendricks said this morning he decided to run because "I didn't like some of Kamp's policies." He declined to elaborate but said all the issues would come into the open during the upcoming campaign.

Incumbents in other offices have filed their nomination papers and are unopposed. They are Frederick J. Miller, east side supervisor; Robert Wisner, west side supervisor; Robert L. Jacobs, clerk; Edberg, treasurer; Edwin P. Harold, assessor and Robert Weyenberg, constable.

OSU Fails to Renew Contract Of Protest Leader

Instructor Will Appeal Decision, Was Critic of Administration

Dr. David Roth, 29, a member of the Oshkosh State University (OSU) political science department who was told his contract will not be renewed by the university administration Tuesday night, told The Post-Crescent today he will appeal his discharge.

"He was not fired . . . his contract just wasn't renewed for next year," Stan Peterson, news bureau director in the OSU public information office, said today. Peterson said he was speaking in behalf of the administration.

President Roger E. Guiles and Dr. Arthur Darkin, dean of the School of Letters and Science, were unavailable for comment.

Roth a leader for the rights of black students on the campus and a constant critic of Guiles and his administration, was notified by Darkin at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday by telephone at his home that his contract would not be renewed for the new school term (fall of 1969).

No Reason Given

When asked why Roth's contract was not renewed, Peterson said it is "not a function of the university to elaborate on the causes for not making such an appointment."

He added, "the university has a right to use its own discretion when considering contract renewals."

Council-Board Delay Safety Building Action

the courthouse area and the tie-in with the Bartholomew plan drew most of the opposition from supervisors.

Supv. Eugene Kloes, Appleton, said, "It seems the committee was guided more by the Bartholomew plan than by flexibility. This site is boxed in at the southern end of the county. We wanted flexibility in the site with several to choose from."

He was backed by Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, who questioned both the location and the ability to solve potential traffic problems.

DeLaHunt said the courthouse was not in the center of either the city or the county. He said he respected planners but that they "put roads on maps without considering who is going to pay for them or whether the taxpayer can pay for them."

Northerly Location

The Kaukauna supervisor urged a more northerly location and suggested county owned land across from the VTE-12 site. This, he said, would provide good access from U.S. 41 and County Trunk OO.

Ayers rejected the idea saying, "it would not be feasible for the city to locate its police station in the Town of Grand Chute."

He also contended that following the Bartholomew plan would be beneficial to the county as well as the city.

Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd) asked Ayers if he was recommending adoption of the entire Bartholomew plan involving Jones Park. He said he felt the city should either adopt all of the plan or none of it.

Ayers said he was only asking for adoption of the portion involving the safety building.

Entire Plan

Mayor George Buckley, however, said a resolution would be introduced at tonight's council meeting for adoption of the entire plan. He said this was necessary to make the city eligible for federal funds for other projects.

Supv. Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan, a member of the study committee, said he also had had reservations about the location but the consensus was that the safety building should be near the courthouse for good communication with the courts.

He also said both Police Chief Earl Wolff and Sheriff Calvin Spice agreed that a one-way street system could be instituted if a traffic problem developed.

Citizen Support

Citizen support for a safety building also was expressed at the meeting.

Walter Rugland, president of Aid Association for Lutherans, said the safety building was a "crucial point for the Bartholomew plan. This will either get the plan underway or delay it for a long time."

W. A. Close also supported the courthouse location for the proposed project. "The site seems only logical," he said. He added that with the courthouse already there the "nucleus was set for a governmental complex."

garden rooms and an art and music room.

Planning for the proposed school started in 1967 and in February, 1968, the board of education appeared before the fiscal control board seeking permission to hire an architect.

Permission was granted despite objections from representatives of outlying areas and shortly after that George G. Narovec and Associates, Appleton, was hired to design the school.

A petition, filed by 833 residents of Kaukauna, requesting a two-year delay in construction of any schools, was received by the common council in March. Since the petition arrived too late to include the question on April election ballot, the referendum was put off until the presidential election in September.

During the interim, the board of education purchased a 14.25 acre site to construct the elementary school. An action also contested by chairmen of the towns of Buchanan and Vandenbroek. The matter was taken to court and in a September ruling, Circuit Judge Andrew Parnell upheld the right of the school board to purchase the property.

The September referendum on whether to delay school construction was defeated with 1,515 Kaukauna voters favoring the building and 817 opposed.

Bids for the school were let on Nov. 5 and on Nov. 19 the fiscal control board of the

Shiocton Man On Probation In Gun Affair

An attorney told the court Tuesday afternoon that Clyde McCabe, 60, Shiocton, "feared for his life" when he pointed a gun at a young Appleton man Jan. 14 in Black Creek.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer placed McCabe on one year's probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services for carrying a concealed weapon and reckless use of a firearm.

Schaefer first sentenced McCabe to one year in jail, but then stayed sentence and imposed probation, with the condition that McCabe pay court costs.

McCabe pleaded guilty Jan. 14, and has been in jail without bond since, pending a presentence investigation ordered by Schaefer.

Sheriff Calvin Spice said that McCabe threatened Robert Monsour, about 25, of 927 W. Spring St., Appleton, with a loaded gun in front of a Black Creek restaurant about 8 a.m. Jan. 14. Spice took McCabe into custody in Appleton about two hours later, after Monsour called authorities.

was a school board candidate, took out papers, but this week dropped out after a legal question was raised as to him serving in both positions, if elected to the board.

The other two incumbents who will run for another term are Mrs. Helen Heil and John Schneider.

Others running are Mrs. Mabel McClanahan, Karl Becker, Dr. Keith M. Giese, George P. Flynn and Donald Heinritz.

Also dropping from contention Tuesday was city recreation director Lloyd Koehnke, who claimed he was "harrassed and pressured" into not running for school board.

Phone Calls

Heinritz, a former alderman and Outagamie County sheriff, told of getting "a few pressure phone calls myself" when he filed papers shortly before 5 p.m.

"I told them to go to — and I was in the race for good,"

Heinritz said. He did not identify the callers.

In the 1st Ward, Ald. Richard Huisman is opposed in the primary by William Arnold and Bruce Stutzman.

The race in the 13th Ward will be more crowded with Ald. Glenn Thompson being challenged by James Vandenboogaard, Thomas Tess and Erling S. Mathisen.

The two top vote-getters in the primary will face off in the April finale.

While there not primaries for council positions in other wards, contests loom.

Filing just before the deadline was Clarence A. Mitchell, 312 W. Lindbergh St., who is a candidate for 16th Ward alderman. The position is presently held by Harold Willgram.

Mitchell is a former mayor and unsuccessful candidate for the 16th Ward post when the city council elected a successor to the late Clifford Rader.

It was Willgram who beat Mitchell in the council vote.

Electric Rate Boost Asked

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. (WMPCO) applied for emergency rate relief Monday, asking the Public Service Commission to grant an immediate 7.6 per cent increase in all electric rates.

The utility asked that the rate increase take effect Saturday. The increase would generate $1.6 million in additional revenue.

If rates are increased, the average residential customer would have his bill increased approximately 80 cents a month.

"We have requested emergency rate relief just to bring our earnings to the point where additional bonds may be issued," Merlin Abler, director of marketing, explained. "We expect to issue $15 million in bonds during the third quarter of this year to finance our extensive construction program."

Interest Charges

According to the terms of WMPCO's mortgage, no additional bonds can be issued unless earnings are at least twice the amount of annual interest charges on outstanding and contemplated bond issues. The application to the PSC states that earnings available to pay interest charges as of June 30, 1969, will be less than the required ratio of 2 to 1, unless immediate rate relief is granted.

Public Hearing

At a public hearing in Appleton Oct. 30, the company presented its case. The PSC staff requested the hearing be adjourned to permit an audit of the utility's books, to prepare for cross-examination and to arrange its own case. To date the hearing has not resumed, nor has the staff had the opportunity to begin an audit of Wisconsin Michigan books.

"The emergency order is necessary," Abler explained, "because, based upon recent experiences of other utilities, it could be many months before the commission can issue a rate order."

On Monday, the Power Company also applied to the Michigan Public Service Commission for special procedural relief. The utility requested the commission to expedite proceedings on the Aug. 30 application for a rate increase. Monday's application asked that a hearing be scheduled as an early date. The application stated present Michigan electric rates are inadequate to the point where they jeopardize the issuance of new bonds in the third quarter of 1969.

Jingo Reminds Community That Student, Faculty Recitals Are Free, Open to Public

beyond amateur status and she is serious about her music, two Fox Cities residents realize how attributes which make for a lucky they are living in the good performance shadow of a Conservatory of Music which offers a rich cultural program to the community. Known in Appleton by many as the accomplished organist at the United Methodist Church, Miss Kollath has made many recital appearances during her years at Lawrence. Known for its excellence, Lawrence Conservatory of Music not only has an excellent faculty but most of its members are concert performers or major composers in their own right. In many cases, these music teachers are both. However, Jingo is noting particularly the many Sunday faculty recitals throughout the academic year. Add to these the student recitals presented afternoons and evenings in either the Music - Drama Center or Memorial Chapel and here, happening right in the Fox Valley, is a musical program that's rather wonderful and all free for the attending.

An example is the line-up of concerts just this week. Accomplished Seymour pianist Lana Kollath presented her senior recital in Harper Hall Monday evening. A student of Prof. Clyde Duncan, Miss Kollath is a candidate for the Bachelor of Music degree in June.

Others on Program
Other students on the program will be: pianist Pamela Gere, Racine; marimba player Sarah Swanson, Stevens Point; clarinetist Judith Peterson, Milwaukee; flutist Betty Brown, Waukegan, Ill.; and pianist Marlene Karides, Milwaukee. Robin Jones, Oak Park, Ill., will serve as accompanist.

A recital devoted to chamber music of the late Paul Hindemith is planned by a group of Lawrence Conservatory faculty members and local instrumentalists for 4 p.m. Sunday. The place is Harper Hall.

The program includes "Die junge Magd, Op. 23, No. 2," composed in 1922 for alto voice, flute, clarinet and string quartet; "Sonata for Clarinet and Piano," written in 1939; and "Quartet for Clarinet, Violin, Violoncello and Piano," from 1938.

Nine Performers
Performers are Caroline Brandenberger and Evelyn Wilke, violinists; Kenneth Byler, violist; Frances Rehl, cellist; Kathleen Harris, mezzo-soprano; Dan C. Sparks, clarinetist; Marjory Irvin and Theodore Rehl, pianists; and Carol Buxton, flutist.

Mrs. Wilke and Mrs. Buxton are from Appleton. Others are members of the Lawrence faculty. Mrs. Wilke teaches strings in the public schools. Mrs. Buxton is a 1954 Lawrence Conservatory graduate.

This is a program, in Jingo's opinion, which should not be missed.

Byfield to Help Find Successor to Angus Rothwell

MADISON—Abbott Byfield, Neenah, director of public affairs for Kimberly-Clark Corp., has been named to a committee to seek a successor to Angus B. Rothwell. Rothwell said last week he will resign Sept. 1 as executive director of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education.

Byfield, a former member of the Kellett Task Force, was appointed to the CCHC last June.

Others appointed to the Rothwell successor committee by CCHC chairman Walter J. Kohler include Harold Konnak, Racine, William Krause, Stevens Point, and Arthur Wegner, Madison.

Smothers Duo Leads Off as Glen's Guests

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 Channel 2 BEST BET — There's been quite a bit of speculation as to whether the new Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour would be more like the singer's successful summer series or the Smothers Brothers Hour (Tom Smothers is co-executive producer). Turns out the premier is a little of both, mainly because Tommy and Dick Smothers are guests. Glen's other guests are Bobbie Gentry and John Hartford who, along with the star, offer a maximum of familiar hits including "For Once in My Life," "Ode to Billy Joe," "Little Green Apples," "Wichita Lineman" and "Gentle on My Mind."

6:30-7:30 Channel 11 — Here Come the Brides has an interesting show based on the Amish people and their rigid customs. A group of the sect arrive in Seattle. Among them is a very pretty girl, who catches Jason's eye and quickly lets him know about their strict rules.

6:30-8 Channel 5 — Some expert comic performances and a complicated but amusing script by Robert Van Scoyk combine to make The Virginian a very pleasant way to spend 90 minutes. A crime wave starts in Buffalo Springs with a bank robbery. The "robbers," however, are a nice young trio who turn out to be the daughters of saloon owner Yvonne De Carlo and the son of banker Tom Bosley. The "Robin Hood" reasons for their crimes are amusing.

7:30-8 Channel 2 — The course of true love can be bumpy, which is the way the skulls of Rufus and Bert will be on The Good Guys if the course doesn't run smooth. The boys have been playing cupid with a truck driver and a cutie who has three big, tough brothers. When the prospective groom splits, the trio calmly tells our heroes they want him back, or else.

8-9:30 Channel 2 — If you saw Part 1 of The Beverly Hillbillies two-part starring Cousin Roy (Clark), you'll see much the same thing in this concluding episode. Jethro is still the big talent agent; Drysdale is still trying to get rid of him and Cousin Roy is still looking for an agent.

8-9 Channel 5 — The producers of The Kraft Music Hall have been known to pull some surprises and innovations, but when they want safe, solid entertainment, they always fall back on Eddy Arnold. Tonight's production includes Polly Bergen, with "Didn't We" and a medley with host Eddy.

9-10 Channel 5 — "Like father, like son" is the phrase that motivates Davis Ross on The Outsider. The father is an ex-collaborator of the detective, and his son seems headed for trouble. The young man has taken a terrific beating and vows vengeance. When his attacker is killed, it looks like son will be joining father.

9-10 Channel 2 — The prison scenes you'll see on Hawaii Five-O are authentic. They were shot in the Hawaii State Prison, where officials gave permission in the hopes that publicizing the antiquated (and at times foul) conditions would press reforms there. In the episode, a prison break is taking place with two lifers holding seven hostages.

Secretary of Realtor Board Leaving Post

Ronald Williams, executive vice president of the Appleton Board of Realtors, has resigned his post to accept a similar position as executive president of the Omaha, Neb. Real Estate Board, effective March 1.

Williams, who is married and the father of two daughters, came to Appleton from Ohio in April, 1965 when he assumed the executive post here.

The Omaha board is one of the oldest real estate boards in the country with a strong multiple listing service which has been on line with the Realtor Computer Service for six months, Williams said.

A charter board in the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the Omaha board involves nearly 600 members compared to 120 in all capacities, including realtors, salesmen and affiliates, in Appleton.

Chief Justice Hallows Files for Re-election

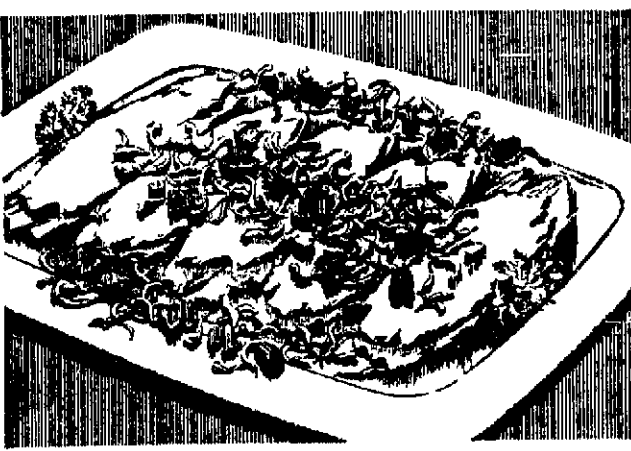

MADISON—Chief Justice E. Harold Hallows Tuesday filed his nomination papers for re-election to the Wisconsin Supreme Court in the April 1 judicial election.

Appointed to the court in 1958 by former Gov. Vernon Thompson, Hallows was elected to a full 10-year term in 1959. He has been chief justice since January 2, 1968.

A native of Fond du Lac, Chief Justice Hallows practiced law and was a professor at Marquette.

La Choy main dish expander

Makes yesterday's bird a main dish

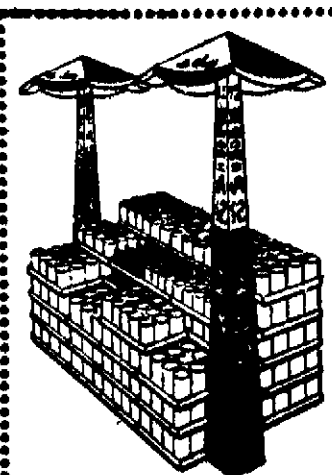

More servings from Sunday's leftover chicken

Expand a paltry poultry meal in just a few minutes: take slices of leftover turkey or chicken and arrange on ovenproof platter. Pour La Choy Bi-pack Chicken Chow Mein (both cans mixed) over the meat. Season with 1 tbsp. La Choy Soy Sauce. Heat in 325° oven for 20 minutes. The 7 crisp vegetables in La Choy Chow Mein add crunch. The rich gravy and tender pieces of fresh chicken bring life to the leftovers. Do the same thing combining leftover pot roast and La Choy Beef Chow Mein, leftover pork and La Choy Pork Chow Mein. Crisp main-dish Expanders!

2 more main dish expander ideas

- Crunchy Ham Loaf
In place of bread crumbs, add 1 can (3 oz.) crushed La Choy Chow Mein Noodles to 2 lbs. ground ham. Mix in 2 beaten eggs, ½ cup milk, ½ cup chopped onion, ¼ tsp. crushed oregano and 1 tbsp. La Choy Soy Sauce. Press into greased 9x5x3-in. pan. Bake 1 hr. at 350°. Serves 8-10.
- Instant Shrimp Creole
Make a whole of a dish from a tiny (4½ oz.) can of shrimp, plus 1 can of canned tomatoes and 1 can La Choy Shrimp Fried Rice. Add ½ cup each of tomato juice, diced celery, green pepper. Mix in saucepan and simmer 10 minutes, covered, stirring occasionally. A filling family meal or festive party dish.

It's Chinese New Year. Year 4667. The Year of the Rooster. Savings worth crowing about at your grocer's La Choy display!

Your Money's Worth Stockholder Surge Has Many Meanings

BY SYLVIA PORTER

We are rapidly approaching a new high style people's capitalism in America in which you actually will be in the disadvantaged lower half of our adults if you are not an investor in stocks.

For the New York Stock Exchange will report this afternoon that the nation's shareowner population has soared past 26,400,000, up almost 2,500,000 in the past 12 months alone, up almost 6,500,000 since 1965 and up an awesome four-fold from the 6,500,000 reported in the first NYSE Census of Stockholders in 1952.

All the figures are eye-popping and of enormous meaning both to you, as an individual, now attaching our financial welland us, as a nation To illustrate The proportion of our total population now owning stocks has nearly doubled in 10 years from 7 per cent in 1959 to 13 per cent and the proportion among adults is at a record one out of five. The net rise in the past year has been 10 per cent and in the past year three years it has been seven times the percentage increase in our general population.

The share owner population is now rising at a net of 1,800,000 a year against 1,000,000 earlier in this decade. Almost one-third of today's stockholders live in communities with a population of under 25,000; California leads with an estimated 1.8 million, New York as the number one shareowner state; women shareowners still slightly outnumber men; Hawaii is showing the fastest rate of shareowner growth.

Enough of the figures. What do they mean? And what are some not-so-obvious explanations for the rise and its recent acceleration?

being to the well-being of America's corporations. No longer are we content to prosper via our paychecks, promotions and perquisites. We also want to share directly in the profits of American business via ownership of stocks.

It reveals the extent to which we are fleeing from the U. S. dollar and into stocks in the hope that the prices of our stock will climb as the buying power of our dollars declines. We are increasingly reluctant to sit with cash or its equivalent (U. S. savings bonds and other fixed-income securities) while the more sophisticated among us find hedges against inflation in stocks, real estate, land art, commodities, etc.

It dramatizes the stock promotion job which has been done by mutual fund salesmen, the spreading popularity of employee stock ownership plans and the growing acceptance of stock gifts to children. Of the 2,500,000 new stockholders in 1968, an estimate of more than a half-million came in through the company they work for. The number of minors who own stocks has at least tripled since 1965.

And of course, the stockholder population upsurge mirrors the general population explosion in the middle-higher income ranges.

Appleton Man's License Revoked

Robert Van Groll, 46, 120 E. Spring St., was fined $150 and costs or 37 days in jail and his driver's license was revoked for one year after he changed his plea to guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

Van Groll, who appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, was arrested by county police on State 96 just east of Appleton about 10 p.m. Sept. 19. He pleaded innocent Sept. 24 and trial was to have been last week.

solving the problems of what-to-do-with-the-small investor and the paperwork jam resulting from his trading.

Perhaps an answer for the small investor does lie in "institutionalizing" himself by investing through mutual fund shares. Or perhaps Wall Street can find answers in revolutionizing the commission schedule to separate a small, low-trading accounts; or in more brokerage firms; or more computers; or more selective research, etc.

Whatever the answers, one warning I think emerges clearly: either Wall Street will find ways to provide these growing millions of us with appropriate service or it will risk a political, uproar and perhaps stultifying government regulations.

Order Youth Committed to Central State

David Krueger, 19, 133 Garfield St., Kaukauna, who pointed a loaded shotgun at his father then set a fire at his home, this morning was ordered committed to Central State Hospital at Waupun for a 60-day mental examination.

The commitment was ordered by Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer following a summary examination.

Krueger has been in the county jail without bond since Jan. 22, after he pleaded guilty of causing criminal damage to property and reckless use of a firearm. He was held pending a pre-sentence investigation. Sentencing was to have been Feb. 4.

Krueger, according to authorities, pointed a loaded, 12 gauge shotgun at his father, Ray Krueger, and later started a small fire in an upstairs bedroom closet early the evening of Jan. 21.

Krueger was taken into custody a short time later while driving on S. Lawe Street in Kaukauna. The youth committed the offenses after becoming angry when his father asked him to lower the volume on his record player.

Combined Locks Man Pleads Guilty to Giving Beer to Minors

Sentencing was set for Feb. 11 on Monday for Neil Lambie, 45, 202 Ryan St., Combined Locks, who changed his plea to guilty of contributing to the delinquency of two teen-ager sisters to whom he gave beer at his home Aug. 25.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer ordered a pre-sentence investigation for Lambie after the Combined Locks man changed his plea prior to trial. Lambie is free on bond.

The charge was brought by Combined Locks police who said Lambie gave the 14 and 16-year-old girls each a glass of beer at his home.

Appleton Youth Picked 'Speaker of Assembly'

Appleton now has two speakers of the assembly. Bruce Oliver, an Appleton High School-East senior participating in the annual YMCA state pre-legislative assembly last weekend in Madison, was elected to that post by the 350 students from throughout the state attending the session.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Oliver, 622 E. Goodall St., was the only candidate from Appleton for the state offices elected.

Oliver is a member of student council, vice president of his church youth group, National Merit commended student, Spanish Club vice president and a representative to Trees for Tomorrow.

Froehlich Speaks

Harold Froehlich, assembly speaker and adult chairman of the 1969 Youth in Government program, presented "How a Bill Becomes a Law," at the initial session. Mrs. Maxine Vanerven, Appleton YMCA official, served as convener for the Committee on Higher Education.

The best macaroni costs no more.

Creamettes

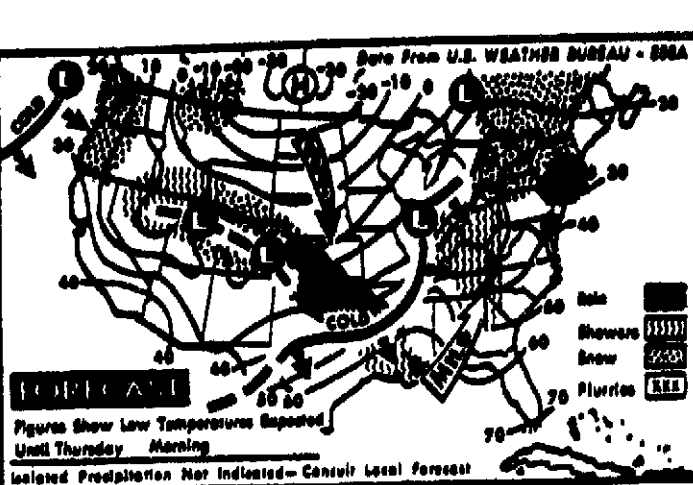

Committees attended by the students included resource, recreation and conservation; health and welfare; elementary, secondary and vocational education; higher education; highway safety; human rights; constitutional revisions and governmental reform, and taxes and finance.

All 46 of the Appleton delegates are expected to meet at 6:30 p.m. tonight to start working on bills that will be presented at the model legislature session in March.

Student Delegates

Student delegates from Appleton include Nancy Chavlovich, Marilyn Bock, Linda Benton, Sherry Knorr, Judi Jenkel, Marie Kiscella, Jean Sommer, Linda Gregorius, Liz Nolan, Asja Sutta, Chris Rondou, Linda Beach, Lori Granger, Janet Schultz, Leslie Miller, Debbie Grow, Heida Beckman, Ann Ziemer, Pal Sealy, Jill Fuqua, Marie Eggert, Mary Selle, Janice Lakey, Gail Velguth, Diane Gosse, Nancy and Linda Dejmek, Sherry Brower, Chris Weber, Donna Uhlenbrauch, Liz Schultz, Leslie Ingmanson, Toni Reynolds, Debbie Centner, Dan Magnuson, Sally Hutson, William Jolin, Stephen Wolff, Charles Selig, Carol Walters, Mark Belts, Linda Bytot, Don Schabo, and Gunnar Alberth, and Ann Ziemer.

Accompanying the group were Miss Beverly Wroblewski, and Miss Jean Haese, Tri-Y Club advisors.

Light Snow Is Expected Tonight over the northern and central Plains, extending to the upper Great Lakes. Snow also is predicted from the Pacific Northwest to the northern and central Rockies. The Northeast is due for snow, sleet or freezing rain. There will be rain from the Gulf Coast to the mid-Atlantic states. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Retired Pastor Succumbs In Wyoming

Father Broekman Served at Many Churches in Region

The Rev. August Broekman, who retired last September from his position as pastor at St. Paul's Church, Wrightstown, died this morning in Kimber, Wy., where he was living.

The 76-year-old priest was born in De Pere Aug. 18, 1892. He was ordained at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral in 1919 and served as assistant and pastor in a number of northeast Wisconsin churches before being assigned to St. Paul's in August, 1942.

Father Broekman studied at Mt. Calvary, Fond du Lac, St. Norbert College and the American College in Louvain, Belgium.

His first assignment was as assistant at Little Chute. Other assignments took him to Kimberly, Sturgeon Bay, and St. Boniface in Manitowoc as assistant.

Father Broekman's first pastoral assignment was St. Philomene at Birnamwood. He also served at St. Patrick's at Lebanon before being appointed pastor of Holy Martyrs Church in Green Bay in April, 1932. He served there until he was assigned pastor at St. Paul's.

In addition to his priestly work, Father Broekman was noted as a woodcarver and the church at Wrightstown is filled with examples of his religious carvings of Christ, saints and other religious figures.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at St. Paul's Church.

Bengtson 'Well Pleased' With the Packers' 8 First-Day Draft Selections

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Phil Bengtson, a longtime conservative, radiated satisfaction. "I'm well pleased with it, well pleased with it," the Packers coach asserted late Tuesday night after emerging from a 12½ hour session in the first day of pro football's common draft.

There is good hope potential solutions to the Packers' major 1968 personnel problems have been found, Bengtson said. "We feel fortunate in being able to get those players we did," he observed. "As of now, we think they're all capable of helping us."

The opening day's harvest — the draft was scheduled to finish today — yielded the Packers eight players in the seven rounds completed, including giant defensive tackle Rich Moore, of Villanova, rated No. 2 in the nation at his position by the CEPO scouting pool.

The emphasis obviously was on shoring up Green Bay's offensive and defensive lines, weakened in 1968 and since by injuries and retirement, plus the inevitable inroads of father time.

3 Other Linemen
In addition to the 6-foot-4, 285-pound Moore, the No. 1 choice, Bengtson and his assistants drafted three other highly substantial linemen, among them one of the country's premier offensive tackles.

He is Dave Bradley, a 6-foot-4½-inch, 255-pound member of Penn State's Orange Bowl champions, the nation's second ranked football team last fall.

The other two, Bill Hayhoe, a 6-foot-8, 258-pound monolith from USC, and Larry Aganian, a 6-foot-3, 250-pound prospect from UCLA and the son of former Packer kicker Ben Agajanian, are listed as 2-way possibilities.

ing Texas Tech's Ken Vinyard, rated the top placekicker in the nation last season by CEPO, as their own choice in the sixth round.

In other moves, the Packers tapped John Spillis, a 6-foot-3, 205-pound flanker from Northern Illinois University, 9.7 speed in the 100-yard dash; Perry Williams, a 6-foot-2, 219-pound fullback from Purdue with impressive blocking credentials; and Ron Jones a 6-foot-3, 220-pound tight end from Texas-El Paso.

Jones was the Packers' first choice in the sixth round as payment from the St. Louis Cardinals for linebacker Dick Capp. Capp later was dealt to the Pittsburgh Steelers, who thus fulfilled the St. Louis commitment.

'Fully Matured'

Happy over the acquisition of Moore, Bengtson pointed out, "we've been looking for a big defensive lineman for some time. Although he's still a boy — he's only 21 — we think he's fully matured. . . and with that, he moves very well."

"He has good strength, and although he sacrifices a little quickness for his size, we think he has good speed."

"All of the film we have seen on him, and all the reports we have had, indicate he has good aggressiveness for a man of that size."

Appraising the talents of Bradley, who will be a candidate at both guard and tackle, Bengtson informed, "I saw him for three days in practice before the Senior Bowl earlier this month, then saw pictures of the game, and we liked him very much."

"He comes highly recommended by the Penn State coaching staff. And, of course, Penn State had a marvelous team last season, we feel the boys out of there are well qualified and well trained, and have the winning habit."

According to the reports of CEPO scouts, Bradley is considered to be an excellent passblocker "with quick feet and good power . . . he is classed as a hitter and has the potential to play at 260 pounds."

Hardly a Stranger

Although he is not a "name" player, Spillis is hardly a stranger to the Packer brain trust. "We have scouted him rather extensively for two years," Bengtson said, pointing out, "He has a real fine junior year, which prompted us to keep a close eye on him."

"His speed is nothing like that of Bob Hayes' 9-1, of course, but 9.7 in the 100 is still pretty good speed. And, at 6-3 and 205, he's quite a bit bigger. He's fast enough that they used him on punt and kickoff returns."

Spillis, a native of Michigan City, Ind., reportedly has been clocked at a brisk 4.7 for 40 yards in full football gear.

Fullback Williams, Bengtson noted, comes from a real fine football school and had good training. He has good size and, in addition, we were impressed with his blocking."

CEPO's dossier also credits Williams, who has 4.8 speed in the 40, with "good inside power and good balance." The scouting report adds that he is "a quick starter, hits hard, has good

Badgers Trim Warriors

By JOEL S. OSTROW
MADISON (AP)—If the University of Wisconsin played only nationally ranked basketball teams it might be rated among the top clubs.

The Badgers toppled 16th ranked Marquette 56-50 Tuesday night for their third victory over a squad in the top 20. In December they beat Kansas when the Jayhawks were ranked fifth and Kentucky when the Wildcats were rated third.

However, Wisconsin, now 7-7 for the year, has lost to unheralded teams and has only a 1-3 Big Ten record.

The Marquette game was not one in which discipline and fundamentals were well displayed, Marquette Coach Al McGuire characterized the contest as a "terrible game."

"It was a case of out fumbling each other," McGuire said. "Neither team ever got untracked."

Fail to Score
McGuire's statement is borne out by the fact that his Warriors failed to score in the first seven minutes of play. During the same period John Powless' Badgers managed only eight.

The early Marquette lapse was singled out by Powless as the biggest factor in the Badger victory.

"Marquette didn't hit the basket in the beginning," Powless remarked. "And though we really didn't either, we at least picked up four baskets."

Guire characterized the contest as a "terrible game."

The early Marquette lapse was singled out by Powless as the biggest factor in the Badger victory.

"Marquette didn't hit the basket in the beginning," Powless remarked. "And though we really didn't either, we at least picked up four baskets."

Powless said he thought the Warriors should have gone more to their two high scorers, George Thompson and Dean Meminger who had 14 and 7 points, respectively.

Thompson's total marked the 68th consecutive time he has hit in double figures and it pushed him ahead of Don Kojis for the all-time Marquette scoring lead.

The 6-foot-2 senior now has a career total of 1,509 points, five more than Kojis who played for the Warriors from 1958-61.

James Johnson was high point man for the Badgers with 24 and both McGuire and Powless commented on his stellar play both offensively and defensively. Johnson guarded Thompson man to man and held him six points under his season average of 20.

The battle was statistically won at the free throw line where the Badgers cashed in on 16 of 26 attempts. Marquette converted 10 of 17. Both teams had 20 field goals.

The Wisconsin victory snapped an 11-game Marquette winning streak, leaving the Warriors with a 1-3 record.

Friday's Games:
Clintonville at Kimberly.
Kaukauna at New London.
Shawano at Two Rivers.
Madison East at Menasha (non-conf.)

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
December 7, 1968.

For Clintonville's basketball team, it was "Pearl Harbor" all over again when Kimberly's high-flying Papermakers bombed the Truakers, 77-57, back on that date. And similar to Americans' feelings at the start of World War I, coach Carl Bruggink's warriors figure they have a score to settle.

The opportunity to do just that comes Friday night, when the Truakers invade Kimberly for a rematch in what shapes up as the title game in the Mid-Eastern Conference basketball race for 1968-9.

While most of the attention is focused on the results at the Kimberly gym, four of the other five teams in the league set about the task of improving their conference standing. Two Rivers can move into sole possession of third place if it can get past lowly Shawano on the Raiders' floor and Kaukauna could heighten its chances of a first-division finish if the Ghosts can down New London on the road.

Tied With Two Rivers
Menasha has a rugged non-conference foe to contend with as Madison East comes to town. The Bluejays are currently tied with Two Rivers for third place in the M-E standings.

"We've been kind of waiting in the wings for this one," Bruggink said Tuesday in anticipation of the upcoming battle. "We're a young team, and we've improved since the first time we met."

Improved — indeed the Truakers have. Clintonville has reeled off eight consecutive victories in overall play, five of them in the M-E. Impressive, too, is the Truakers' overall mark of 11-3 for the season.

Two of the setbacks were incurred the first weekend of the campaign, when Schofield and Milwaukee Riversides beat the Truakers — each by 2-point margins. Last week, Schofield was rated No. 7 among the big schools and Riversides was No. 6.

Trying to upend the unbeaten, No. 2-ranked Papermakers Bruggink sees as "a real challenge." "They don't give you the good percentage shot, and they've demonstrated any one of their five can hurt you," he added.

Kimberly coach Jack Wippich was also lavish in his praise of his team's upcoming opponent. "They're a real fine ballclub," he remarked, "they're good on the boards and they can shoot from the outside."

'A Boyhood Dream'

Rich Moore Says He Has Admired Packers Many Times on TV

BY LEE REMMEL

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "When the phone rang on Tuesday for a minute I didn't want to answer it."

This candid confession came from Rich Moore Tuesday, via long distance telephone from Philadelphia, shortly after he had learned of his selection as the Packers' No. 1 choice in pro football's third annual common draft.

Still more than slightly agog, the Villanova colossus added, "When I found out it was the Packers, I sat there and shook for a few minutes . . . It was like a boyhood dream."

"You know, when you're a boy, you say, 'Who do you want to play baseball with?' and you say, 'the Yankees' and, 'Who do you want to play football with?' and you say, 'the Packers'."

"I cut a class, sort of in celebration," the 21-year-old defensive tackle admitted, a little sheepishly, "and that's when the phone call came. I had left word to be notified if any calls came and I got the call from the Packers between classes."

"One cut I don't think is going to hurt me," the 6-foot-6, 285-pound Ohioan laughed, then added, "I don't think I would have learned anything anyway. I'm too excited."

Rich, a native of Wickliffe,

Ohio, who prepped at Cleveland's St. Joseph High School, is well versed on his favorite team — including its current personnel needs.

"I've watched the Packers on television many, many times, I must say," he said, with great admiration.

At mention of the Packers' 1968 problems in the defensive line, Moore observed, "I was aware of that . . . I am hoping there will be an opportunity for me."

Hanratty Drafted by Steelers

By MURRAY CHASS
NEW YORK (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, hoping to turn pro football's worst record into one of its best, looked ahead to signing O.J. Simpson today while they and 25 other teams completed the two-day draft of college players.

The Bills, whose 1-12 record earned them the right to draft first Tuesday, selected Simpson, and both parties promptly agreed they anticipated no trouble in reaching an agreement.

"I think we'll be able to sign him all right," Buffalo owner Ralph Wilson said.

"I don't contemplate any trouble in coming to terms," said the Heisman Trophy running back from Southern California. Following the Bills' initial selection, the American and National leagues waded through seven rounds of their third common draft, selecting a total of 182 players in 12 hours, 11 minutes.

10 More Rounds
They had 10 more rounds to-day before turning their attention to contract negotiations.

There were, of course, other college stars besides Simpson drafted.

For example, there were four other running backs picked in the first round—Leroy Keyes of Pittsburgh by Philadelphia, Larry Smith of Florida by Los Angeles, Ron Johnson of Michigan by Cleveland and Calvin Hill of Yale by Dallas.

Smith was one of three Los Angeles choices in the opening round, the others being split end Jim Seymour of Notre Dame and tight end Bob Klein of Southern California, while Hill was one of two Ivy League players to be taken, the other being quarterback Marty Domres of Columbia, who now belongs to San Diego.

Quarterback Greg Cook of Cincinnati also was drafted in the first round, by the Cincinnati Bengals, but All-American Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame was left until Pittsburgh grabbed him in the second round.

'Not That Far Behind'
The Bills, of the AFL, intend to convince Simpson he's going with a good organization, too. O.J. had said repeatedly during the season he wanted to go with an NFL team.

Asked about that feeling, said, "I prefer the NFL because I think it's a stronger league overall. But the Super Bowl showed the AFL is not that far behind."

He also was asked about the $600,000 he reportedly wants to sign.

"I haven't heard of that particular figure, and I don't believe it."

2 Hijacked Planes Escorted to Havana

MIAMI (AP) — Two U.S. airliners made back-to-back landings in Havana under hijackers' commands Tuesday as January's toll of pirated commercial aircraft soared to 10—half of last year's record number of airliners hijacked to the Cuban capital.

An Eastern Airlines jet, hijacked Tuesday night with 106 passengers and a crew of eight aboard, completed the round trip to Havana early today. The crew and eight passengers returned to Miami to tell of being ordered to Havana by three Negroes in "typical hippie dress" and alligator shoes.

Capt. Robert J. Sullivan said one of the hippie hijackers issued the order to change course while holding a gun at the neck of a stewardess.

Stewardess Roberta Truppman said, "He grabbed me and said, 'I want you to call the crew. I don't want to have to hurt you.'"

She said he kicked open the cabin door and entered with her. A second man took up a station outside the cockpit door. "The other fellow who had me by the neck told him to stand guard at his back," said Miss Truppman.

"You're being hijacked," Stewardess Bonnie Burnett bumped into the guard when she came out of the restroom. "I thought he was waiting in line. I asked him if he was," she said. "He gave me a strange sort of look and said, 'You're being hijacked.'"

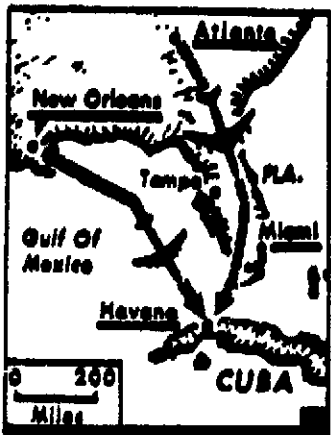

Miss Truppman said one of the air pirates told her they were going to join "Fidel's military." She said they were all in their 20s or early 30s.

The 30 passengers and crew members aboard a National Airlines jet hijacked over the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday morning returned to Miami later in the day, leaving in Havana two men who said they were fugitives from a California prison.

It was the third time this year that back-to-back hijackings of commercial airliners have occurred, making January the busiest month for sky pirates since the wave of hijackings began more than a decade ago. Twenty commercial airlines from the United States, Mexico and South American countries were forced to Cuba during all of 1968.

The Federal Aviation Administration in Miami said Sullivan radioed at 10:17 p.m. EST that he was changing course. At that point, the big jet was about 40 miles north of Fort Myers, Fla., on the Philadelphia-to-Miami run.

Several airlines employees riding on passes were aboard the Eastern flight, described by one airline spokesman as "the pass-riders' special." The plane had made a scheduled stop at Atlanta and was beginning the final approach into Miami.

National's jet was seized soon after it left New Orleans on a scheduled flight from Los Angeles to Miami. Stewardess Victoria Sikorski said the two hijackers rose from seats in the forward compartment and stuck a gun in her back.

Gaining entrance to the cockpit, one of the men held a gun on pilot James Brown. As the crew watched, the other hijacker brandished a green and white cigarette carton from which four reddish-brown sticks of dynamite were protruding.

The hijacker expertly linked wires to a short fuse and, under the eyes of Brown and the other crew members, peeled off a match and made a motion as if to touch off the fuse.

"I assured him that there were no heroes aboard and that we were going to Havana," Capt. Brown said. "I told them, 'I usually carry a little hijack juice (fuel) along.'"

Passengers aboard the National plane returned to Miami aboard a special plane that picked them up in Varadero, Cuba.

They told newsmen in Miami that one of their fellow travelers caused more trouble on the flight to Havana than the two hijackers.

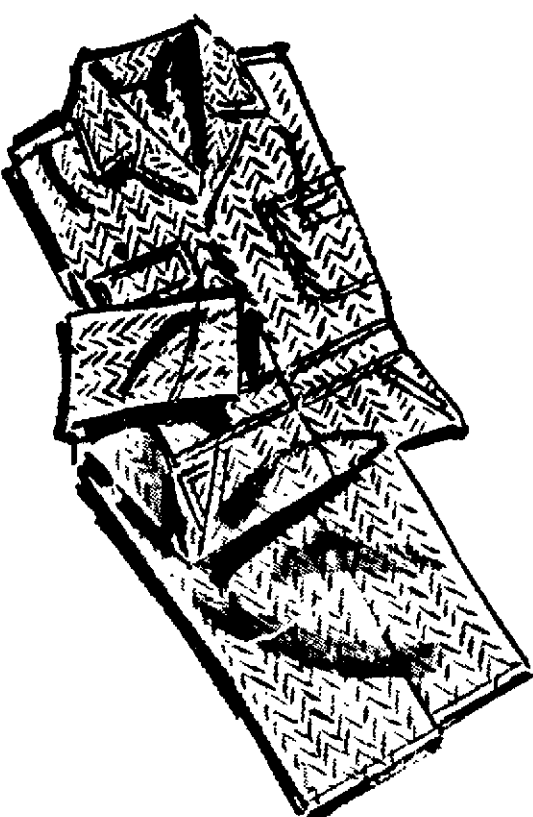

Ronald J. Toth, 34, a National reservation agent from Miami who boarded the plane in Los Angeles, said the man was intoxicated when he got on at New Orleans.

"He was jabbering away. He wanted to stay in Havana. I kept talking to him and trying to keep him quiet," Toth said.

"He had an electric shaver and stole cigarettes from a sailor in uniform," the agent said.

The sailor, Fred Peters, 23, of Miami, said that, after the hijackers took command, "this man said he had a 'piece' with him. I thought that meant a weapon. He's mixed up."

Officials Call Game Early After Coach Becomes Unruly

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and South Carolina's Frank McGuire made the big noise in college basketball Tuesday night. But while the Buckeyes were putting their foot in the Big Ten door, McGuire succeeded only in putting his foot in his mouth.

The Rose Bowl game, which gained Ohio State's football team the national championship, is history, but the sweet smell of success has rubbed off on the 12th-ranked basketball Buckeyes. Paced by Dave Sorenson's 30 points, they upset seventh-ranked Illinois 76-67 and took the Big Ten lead by a half-game over idle Purdue.

Things turned sour for McGuire when the officials slapped him with two technical fouls and the Southern Conference. Mike Maloy led the an 87-76 triumph over No. 19 South Carolina, stopping the contest with just under two minutes left.

Marquette Loses

In other games involving The Associated Press' Top Twenty teams, fourth-ranked Davidson drubbed George Washington 94-74. La Salle, No. 9, downed St. Francis, Pa., 107-95. 10th-rated Villanova whipped Fairfield 66-45 and No. 16 Marquette lost to Wisconsin 56-50.

South Carolina's McGuire got his Irish up when the officials called a charging foul on John Roche. The officials, Reggie Copeland and Bobby Brock, warned him three times they would stop the game if he didn't return to the bench.

Two of the warnings brought technical fouls. The third time, the Southeastern Conference officials handed the ball to Florida State's Jeff Hogan, who made both shots, and declared the game over.

The Gamecock coach refused comment but Florida State's Hugh Durham called the officiating "that of a typical game." Sixteen fouls were called against Carolina and 13 on Florida State. "I'm disappointed it ended this way," said Durham. "I just wish the clock had run out."

Davidson 15-1

Davidson pulled away from George Washington in the last six minutes to run its record to 15-1, six straight in the Southern Conference. Mike Maloy led the Wildcats with 30 points and 19 rebounds while Bob Tallent, the nation's fifth leading scorer, had 34 for the losers.

La Salle's Ken Durrett pumped in 40 points, two short of the school record, as the 15-1 Explorers turned back St. Francis. Durrett got able assistance from Bernie Williams with 27 points. Norm Vanlier and Larry Lewis had 27 apiece for St. Francis and Lewis, the nation's leading rebounder, pulled down 19.

Super soph Howard Porter made nine of 13 shots, most from long range, and scored 24 points as Villanova routed Fairfield. Porter had 19.

Mustang '5' Whips White Lake, 67-43

WHITE LAKE — Little Chute's High School basketball Mustangs (8-7) came from behind Tuesday night to trim White Lake, 67-43.

The Lakers held an 18-14 lead after the initial period of play but soon fell behind. Mike Fitzpatrick tied the score, at 22, from which the Mustangs took a 34-28 half-time margin.

Brothers Mike and Bill Fitzpatrick and Steve Mollen collected six points apiece in the third frame as Little Chute outscored the Lakers, 20-6. The Mustangs took a 13-9 fourth quarter advantage to add to their margin of victory.

The Mustangs had four players in double figures with Mike Fitzpatrick leading the way with 22. Mollen added 14 while Bob Hackel netted 12 and Bill Fitzpatrick 11.

Bob Klimoski and Bill Gamble led the Lakers, now 8-6 for the season, with 18 and 13 points respectively.

Havlicek Steals Ball 4 Times In 83 Seconds

Celtics Tips Hawks; Royals, Knicks, Lakers Also Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlanta Hawks had reason to cry "we wuz robbed" after John Havlicek, the thief, stole a basketball game out of their hands.

The quick-handed Havlicek swiped the ball four times in 83 seconds and the Boston Celtics collected the loot, a 108-96 victory over the Hawks in the National Basketball Association Tuesday night.

Boston led only 76-73 when Havlicek snuck up on the Hawks, setting up two baskets and scoring two himself to put the Celtics out of danger.

Clutch baskets by Rudy LaRusso and Jim King turned off Cincinnati and gave San Francisco a 107-100 victory over the Royals; the New York Knicks struck early and never let up in a 121-88 rout over Philadelphia, and Los Angeles trimmed Chicago 125-118 in other games.

Pulls Even

Atlanta had made up a 17-point deficit in the second period with a 17-4 spurt for a 58-58 deadlock in the third quarter before Havlicek went into his act. Don Nelson scored 22 points for Boston and Lou Hudson and Zelmo Beatty each had 21 for the visiting Hawks.

San Francisco was breezing along with a 10-point lead before Cincinnati climbed within 88-96 with 3:19 left. But LaRusso and King connected and the host Royals had their fifth consecutive defeat. LaRusso finished with 39 points.

Willis Reed led the Knicks to the first 10 points of the game and the 76ers never came closer than eight again. Reed totaled 30 points and 18 rebounds, along with numerous blocked shots as New York made it 19 victories in 23 games and 15 in a row at home. Philadelphia had a four-game winning streak ended.

Los Angeles built its Western Division lead to 2 1/2 games over Atlanta as Jerry West, Wilt Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor combined for 80 points, 28 by

Sorenson Paces Win

Ohio State Whips Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — Having turned back Illinois' threat, Ohio State's Buckeyes head for Purdue and undisputed possession of the Big Ten basketball lead.

The Buckeyes hammered Illinois 76-67 Tuesday night in their own backyard and advance to Purdue Saturday in an effort to shake off the undefeated Boilermakers.

Ohio State, led by Dave Sorenson's 30 points and a late spurt by Jim Clemons, boosted its Big Ten record to 4-0, one-half game ahead of Purdue at 3-0, and shuffled back seventh-ranked Illinois to a 2-2 rating in conference competition.

Ohio State led 37-34 at the half and led by anywhere from one to five points throughout the second half to match Illinois' overall record of 12-2 for the season.

However, with four minutes to play, Illinois crept within one point at 62-61 before Ohio State outscored Illinois 10-2 with Clemons supplying six of the points. Clemons was second to Sorenson with 14 points while Jody Finney and Steve Howell chipped in with 12 and 11, respectively.

Illinois Stymied

Illinois was stymied in the second half as 6-foot-8 sophomore Greg Jackson had to sit out much of the time with four fouls after scoring 12 points. Dave Scholz led the Illini, whose only losses this season have been at Purdue and Ohio State with 20 points.

While the Buckeyes were taking charge of the conference lead, Wisconsin's hustling Badgers defeated 16th ranked Marquette 56-50 in one of the lowest scoring games of the season.

Wisconsin's triumph gave Big Ten teams a 65-50 edge over

Barry Little Help, but West Still Winner

By DORMAN CORDELL LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "My knee is fine," says Rick Barry. "It's my body that's in bad shape."

Showing the effects of a month long layoff because of an injury, the Oakland superstar wasn't much help, but his West team still captured the second annual American Basketball Association All-Star Game Tuesday night, defeating the East 133-127.

"It's hard to say whether we would have won any bigger with Rick in good shape," said Alex Hannum, Barry's coach and also the coach of the West team.

"At Oakland, we've been winning as well while he was out as when he was playing. And in a single game like this, you never can tell."

The West team didn't shoot well, and couldn't hold on to leads that it built up several times. With 3:30 to play, the West had a 16-point margin, but the East whittled it to three with 59 seconds remaining.

Error Hurts East

"If we hadn't made that crucial error in front of our bench we might have pulled it out," said Kentucky's Gene Rhodes, who was pressed into service as the East coach only 12 hours before the game.

Jim Harding of Minnesota was fired as the East coach after he and a Minnesota official had a fight at a party. Harding's fate as the Minnesota coach reportedly hasn't been decided yet.

Rhodes was referring to a pass that Louie Dampier of Kentucky threw out of bounds in the final minute of play, when the difference was three points.

After that, Larry Brown of Oakland hit a free throw and Warren Davis of Los Angeles canned a 15-footer to give the West its final margin.

Wanted Workout

"Taking over at the last minute presented some problems," said Rhodes. "There's not much coaching you can do with an all-star team, of course, but just one little workout would have let us get some semblance of basic play action."

"I only saw the team this morning for the first time, and I don't think some of them knew about the change until I said, 'Hi fellows, I'm going to be the coach.'"

John Beasley of Dallas was voted the Most Valuable Player. He and Red Robbins of New Orleans shared scoring honors for the West with 19 points each.

Don Freeman of Miami paced the East with 21 points, eight of them in the final surge.

the league in scoring, may have two different starters than it did the first time the two teams met. They are 6-2 Rod True and 6-4 Roger Buss, who have helped out well in recent games.

Does the Truckers' resurgence change any plans Wippich might have in mind? "No," he said, "we'll just play the same type of ball we always do and hope it will be good enough to win for us. The team that works the hardest will win," he concluded.

On the first occasion the clubs faced each other, Kimberly held only a 6-point lead, at 51-45, with a little over six minutes to go. The Papermakers' press took its toll in the last few minutes, however, as Kimberly fired in 10 in a row for a commanding 61-45 edge.

Four of the five Papermakers tallied in double figures, with Don Hagany leading the way with 22. Torborg was limited to 13 in that contest.

Omro to Face Denmark Quint Friday Night

Reedsville Duels Hortonville, Tries To Stay Close

LITTLE NINE CONFERENCE
Omro	7
Reedsville	6
Winnecoon	5
Brillion	4
Hortonville	3
Waukegan	2
Marion	1

Friday's Games:
Omro at Denmark.
Brillion at Winneconne.
Wrightstown at Freedom.
Waukegan at Hortonville.
Marion at Waukegan.

Saturday's Games:
Winnecoon at Waukegan (non-conf.).
Hortonville at Marion (non-conf.).

Omro's talented Foxes go hunting for their ninth straight Little Nine Conference victory and 13th win in 14 starts for the season Friday night, when they journey to Denmark to take on the off-beaten Vikings.

While Coach Allen Knurr's front-runners figure to have little trouble achieving that end, the three or four teams still in title contention behind them are in for more difficult assignments.

Runner-up Reedsville, which trails Omro by one game, must triumph on the road against Hortonville in order to stay close. The Panthers will try to avoid being caught looking ahead to their crucial home encounter with Omro a week hence.

Third-place Winneconne, two games off the pace, will have the home court advantage when it meets dangerous Brillion. The Wolves are danger with the task of trying to stop the league's leading individual scorer, Russ Hansen, who boasts an imposing 31.5 points-per-game average.

Hits the Road
In other tilts, Wrightstown hits the road to Freedom where Tom Ribarchek & Co. will be striving to even their record at 4-4, and Hilbert goes to Shiocton, where the Chiefs are still looking for their first win.

Non-conference games Saturday find Winneconne at Waukegan and Hortonville at Marion.

Latest statistics show why Omro is heading the pack in the Little Nine race. The No. 5-ranked Foxes lead the conference in both offensive and defensive averages, setting the pace with 78.4 and 52.5 marks, respectively.

Second-place Reedsville is runnerup in both categories with 76.2 and 54.5 figures. Brillion is third on offense at 72.5, while Winneconne holds the same position defensively at 58.4.

Biggest reason for Omro's success has been the scoring of Randy Wade and Steve Hoeft, who rank 2.3 behind Hansen in the individual point king as Wade, last year's scoring king at a 25.5, sophomore, is hitting at a 25.5 clip compared to Hoeft's 22.5.

Rounding out the top 10 are Steve Zirbel, Reedsville (21.5), Ribarchek (23.6), Dave Riggles, Hortonville (19.4), Mike Lee, Winneconne (18.4), Dennis Nagreen, Hortonville (17.8), John Roberts, Denmark (16.5), and Tim McDaniel, Wrightstown (15.0).

Morley Wins Prep Honor

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The "little man's" place in basketball was spotlighted again Saturday night when 5-foot-11 Stan Morley scored 44 points to lead Eau Claire Memorial to an 86-78 win over Winona, Minn.

For his outstanding performance, Morley was voted Associated Press Prep Player of the Week.

He hit on 14 of 25 shots from the field and 16 of 20 from the foul stripe. Besides that, he led his team in rebounds and was credited with two assists.

Morley wasn't alone in the heroics department, either. Scores 44 Points
Hugh Gratzig of Whitewater pumped in 44 points Friday night, while 35-point productions were turned in by Dick Birk of Kettle Moraine and Dave Burkholder of Lomira.

Others nominated for Player of the Week honors included Jim Chones of Racine St. Catherine, who scored 30 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and blocked a half dozen shots in only three quarters of play; Tom Jones, Appleton East, who had 34 points against Green Bay East; Gary Manchester, Racine Park; Kurt Spychalla, Schofield; and John Ford of La Crosse Central, whose 20 points, 13 rebounds and nine assists led Central to an easy 75-49 victory over Eau Claire North.

Her Second National Set

Carol Weight Bowls 604

Carol Weight saw her chances at a second national honor count dwindling, and she didn't quite know what to do.

After blasting a 208 in her first game and a lifetime-high 245 in her second, the Neenah housewife and mother of four children needed just 147 pins in her final line to reach the magic 600-pin count.

"I was all shook," she admitted Wednesday morning, "I was afraid I was going to blow it."

But everything turned out all right in the end, as Mrs. Weight sparred on her second ball in the 10th frame and then picked up eight pins on her final roll to boost her total to 604.

She had only 133 after the ninth frame, and then left a pecky 10-pin standing on her initial throw in the 10th. Carol describes that particular stick the toughest for her to split, but she came through in the clutch to get it and went on to finish with a 151 final game.

All the action occurred Tuesday morning at Lakewood Lanes in Neenah, where Mrs. Weight bowls in three leagues and also works behind the desk part-time. Carol hit the big count in the Fox Point Ladies League, 30th such series in the Fox where she carries a 140 per game average.

Carol had bowled until midnight the evening before in the Tri-City circuit. Tuesday morning, she took time only for a soft drink before hitting the lanes again at 9 a.m.

The national set was the second for Mrs. Weight, who also fashioned a 602 series at Oshkosh three years ago. It was the 30th such series in the Fox

Wegner Slams 646 in Major Scratch Loop

Bud Wegner slammed a 646 series (including a 244 line) to capture Tuesday night men's bowling honors in the Fox Cities.

Wegner achieved his totals in the Major Scratch League at Hahn's. Joe Gregorovich was runnerup with a 643 (including 286). Al Laux fired a 641 and Stan Prue came up with a 636. Dave Laux had a 616.

Two previously-unreported Monday night highlights in the area were a 659 set by Frank Kroiss, Sr., in the National League at Jerry's Lanes and a 657 trike (including 253) by Frank Briske in the Knights of Columbus American League at the 41 Bowl. Dr. Larry Keller fired a 628 in the K of C circuit. Ken Wood boomed a 266 game in the National League (Jerry's) and finished with 601.

Wayne Kilsdonk led the American League at Jerry's with a 636 series Tuesday. Ray Sanderfoot's 238 took game honors.

Elias Latest Applicant for UW Position

MADISON (AP) — Former Navy Head Football Coach William T. Elias has joined the list of applicants for the job of University of Wisconsin athletic director.

While announcing Elias' application, Athletic Board Chairman Prof. Frederick Haberman also reported that Robert Volets, former head coach at Northwestern, and Glenn Reed, assistant athletic at Minnesota, have applied.

Haberman said the applications brought to 36 the number seeking the post; vacated Jan. 10, when Ivan B. Williamson was removed.

Stang Sparks Titan Victory In His Debut

The Continental League, at Jerry's, featured a 255 game by Joe Vandenberg and a 616 set by Bob Buss.

In the Tri-City League, at Little Chute Recreation, Dave Felzer took honors with a 230 game and a 615 set.

Stang Sparks Titan Victory In His Debut

OSHKOSH (AP)—Jeff Stang made his debut at Oshkosh Tuesday night and sank a 20-foot jumper with three seconds left to give the Titans a 74-73 basketball victory over Northern Michigan.

The Sophomore transfer student, added to the varsity shortly before game-time, finished with 26 points—all from outside. Northern Michigan was led by Ted Rose with 31.

Stang led a brilliant Titan comeback as Oshkosh was down by as much as 21 points in the second half. It was the Titans' second victory in 13 starts. Northern Michigan is 6-9.

Bills Expect No Trouble in Signing O. J.

Cities this season. Action in the 5 X 8 League at Hahn's Lanes saw Louise Brockman lead the way with a 558 series, including a 213 individual game. Harriet Fulton's 202 line was the only other score of note.

Elaine Schmidt set the pace in the Women's National League at 41 Bowl, powering a 503 singleton en route to 545. A 213 trio by Florence Scheuer was good for runnerup.

Dee Kasperek had the spotlight to herself in the American League at 41 Bowl, firing high lines of 203 and 191 and a 540 total.

536 For Darlene Beyer
Five keggers for the 500-pin mark in the Hit 'N Miss League at 41 Bowl, with Darlene Beyer heading the list with a 200-536 combination. More top scores were posted by Marv Bublitz, 202-528; Hoy Buhrandt, 522; and Carol Schuh and Carole Eckes, 509 each.

Elayne Cartwright socked a 224 game and wound up with 527 series for laurels in the Kitchen Cheaters League at Hahn's Lanes. Virginia Tegen was next with a 204-519 aggregate, and Evie Zuleger followed with 202-513. Marv Van Tol hit 507, and Millie Larson fashioned a 214 solo.

Alice Patterson cracked a 195 line and wound up with 576 to boss scores in the Early Birds League at Sabre Lanes. Ginnie Bobb was second with 203-520. Verone Wiesler slammed 220-513. Marv Van Tol hit 507, and Betty Maas 191.

Jan Weehler took honors in the Tag-A-Long League at 41 Bowl, coming in with a 514. Bowler Lorraine Ankerson was close back with 513, including a 204. While Carol Bunkle and Rosie Roeland spilled 201 and 191 lines, respectively.

Carl Felton's 517 set was tops in the Sabre Sisters League at Sabre Lanes. Donna Fischer rolled 505, and Percy Karnopp spun a 247 singleton.

Ice conditions on Lake Winnebago improved by "100 per cent" as a result of the sub-zero temperatures of last weekend, according to east shore resort operators.

At the mid-point of last week, some areas of the lake were under as much as two feet of water and access roads were closed as a precautionary measure.

Then, Friday and Saturday temperatures dipped well below the zero mark solidly freezing the surface water and making travel on the lake almost unlimited.

The low temperatures held some of the fishing pressure down on Saturday, but Sunday, under bright sunshine, thousands of anglers headed out. Many limits of fish were taken, and on Monday, when a low pressure front moved in, the fishing in some parts of the lake was labeled on the "fantastic" side.

Best advice to would-be fishermen is to seek out the fish. After setting up, if there is no action within 30 to 40 minutes, move on and continue this process until fish are located.

Minnows still rate as the most popular bait, but quite a few sauger and walleyes are being taken by jiggging enthusiasts.

Word from Monsted's Resort at Lake Poygan is that no access roads are open in the Tustin area. Last weekend some fishermen walked out and others skied in on snowmobiles, but there have been no cars driving on that side of the lake.

'100 Per Cent' Better

Ice conditions on Lake Winnebago improved by "100 per cent" as a result of the sub-zero temperatures of last weekend, according to east shore resort operators.

At the mid-point of last week, some areas of the lake were under as much as two feet of water and access roads were closed as a precautionary measure.

Then, Friday and Saturday temperatures dipped well below the zero mark solidly freezing the surface water and making travel on the lake almost unlimited.

The low temperatures held some of the fishing pressure down on Saturday, but Sunday, under bright sunshine, thousands of anglers headed out. Many limits of fish were taken, and on Monday, when a low pressure front moved in, the fishing in some parts of the lake was labeled on the "fantastic" side.

Best advice to would-be fishermen is to seek out the fish. After setting up, if there is no action within 30 to 40 minutes, move on and continue this process until fish are located.

Minnows still rate as the most popular bait, but quite a few sauger and walleyes are being taken by jiggging enthusiasts.

Word from Monsted's Resort at Lake Poygan is that no access roads are open in the Tustin area. Last weekend some fishermen walked out and others skied in on snowmobiles, but there have been no cars driving on that side of the lake.

Door County will have its sanctioned Tri-State Championship Snowmobile Derby Saturday and Sunday. The Saturday events include a cross country race beginning at the Sturgeon Bay airport and running 11 miles through Potawatomi State Park.

Sunday there will be races on a closed track at the Door County fairgrounds.

Iola's Winter Carnival is set for this weekend with a full slate of events. Included will be a Norwegian supper with lutefisk and lefse Saturday night before the queen's coronation ball. On the program for Sunday is a ski jumping tournament.

The Phillips Lions Club will hold a winter festival this weekend in that northern Wisconsin community. One of the features will be guided snowmobile tours on virgin timber trails, Chequamegon Indian trails and near remote lakes.

Included on the tour will be soup served in the woods and moonlight rides with dinner. Sunday's events include a special snowmobile race for the children which will be patterned after the soap box derby. Amateur snowmobile races will be held at the Price County fairgrounds.

Winnebago area sturgeon spearers are making preparations for the season which will open Feb. 8 and run to March 1. Only Lake Winnebago will be open to spearfishing this season and they are hoping for better conditions this winter. In the 1968 season, only 21 sturgeon were bagged due to poor visibility.

Paris Situation Can be Confusing

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Sir, I am an American in Paris. Can you tell me what's going on here about Vietnam?

Well, we're gathering again Thursday around a round table to face issues squarely. Q. Ah—a peace conference? A. Absolutely not! The first thing a newcomer must learn is that you don't call this anything but talks.

Q. Why?

A. Well, if you call what goes on at the International Conference Center a conference, the Americans and South Vietnamese won't like it. A conference can mean that everybody present has the authority to confer. If you call it a meeting, the North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front get mad at you. A meeting is an informal thing where anybody can throw in his two bits' worth. The NLF and Hanoi say it's a conference.

Q. I've heard there'll never be a meeting—excuse me—talks on a Wednesday. Why not?

A. Because the Americans and the South Vietnamese think that would be too much like a continuation of the preliminary American - North Vietnamese talks, which were always on Wednesdays.

Q. So what?

A. People would get the idea these are "enlarged" or "expanded" talks. Expanded from two to four sides.

Q. Aren't they?

A. Well, the Hanoi-NLF people say they are, but the Washington-Saigon people say they aren't. If you say "enlarged," it might mean that it has been enlarged from two sides to four sides.

Q. Hasn't it?

A. The Hanoi-NLF people say it has, but the Washington-Saigon people say there are still only two sides, themselves and the others. They say the NLF is a "reality" but not a "political entity."

Q. What should one call the talks, then?

A. New, full-scale or substantive talks. But not enlarged or expanded.

Q. Aren't there four delegations?

A. Yes and No. Hanoi and the NLF say there are. Saigon and the Americans seem to accept the fact that there are four negotiators, but to say there are four delegations would mean that the NLF is independent enough to have its own delegation.

Q. Why is the table round?

A. If it were square it would have four sides, and four sides look like four delegations. A round table doesn't have sides marked off, so one group can say it has four sides and another can say it has two sides and both are right. The two rectangular tables, where the lesser staffs sit, have sides. But if the rectangular tables are narrow enough, they can be said to have only two sides.

Q. When they go into the room, do four delegations go in or do two?

A. There are only two doors, so the Hanoi-NLF people use one and the Washington-Saigon people use the other. If there were four doors, there would have been the devil to pay.

Spy Trial Said to be Resuming

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new Iraqi spy trial was reported under way today amid charges that Israel is massing military units to attack the 20,000 Iraqi troops stationed in northern Jordan near the Israeli frontier.

There was no confirmation from Israel, which has been urged by the United States not to retaliate.

Demonstrators besieged Britain's embassy in Baghdad today in protest against British reaction to the mass execution Monday of 14 men accused of spying for Israel.

Radio Baghdad announced 10,000 Iraqis marched on the embassy waving banners and denouncing "British imperialism" and "British interference in Iraq's internal affairs." It said, however, they inflicted no damage and later dispersed.

They were objecting to official British statements denouncing the hanging of the 14, including nine Iraqi Jews, and a torchlight vigil Tuesday night by British Jews outside the Iraqi Embassy in London.

"Exercise Restraint"

Britain's Foreign Office also had a word of advice for Prime Minister Levi Eshkol's government. A spokesman said: "We very much hope the Israelis will exercise restraint in these difficult circumstances."

The weather could be a factor in any immediate military operations. Israel was beset by high winds, rain and snow and Jordan was suffering from its worst snowstorm in 20 years.

Pope Paul VI told a gathering of 5,000 at his weekly general audience in Vatican City the hanging of the nine Jews "has generated the suspicion that motives of racism were involved."

The Roman Catholic pontiff, who has several times taken a public stand against capital punishment, recalled that he had appealed to the Baghdad government before the executions to spare the lives of all 14. He said the tragic episode aggravated Middle East tensions.

Blames Imperialists

President Gamal Abdel Nasser charged in Cairo that "forces of imperialism" are blocking a settlement of the Middle East conflict. He said: "They do not want peace."

Saigon, VC Each Plans Truce on Tet

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government indicated today that it would declare a truce for the lunar new year Feb. 17, but a far shorter one than the seven-day cease-fire announced by the Viet Cong earlier today.

The Viet Cong's National Liberation Front broadcast an announcement that the Communist military command "will stop all military activities" from 7 a.m. Saigon time Feb. 15 until 7 a.m. Feb. 22. The period is known as Tet, the festival of the lunar new year and the biggest holiday in the Vietnamese calendar.

The Viet Cong broadcast said any military operations by the United States, South Vietnam and their allies, including air, naval and artillery bombardment, would be considered a violation of the cease-fire and "must be punished."

Four hours after the broadcast, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese government said: "Solemn Occasion"

"The Vietnamese government is willing to have a truce because Tet is solemn occasion and for the happiness of the Vietnamese people." But he added that the truce "will not last very long if there is any."

U.S. forces will undoubtedly observe any cease-fire declared by Saigon, as they have all such truces in the past.

A Tet truce last year had just begun when the Viet Cong attacked more than 100 cities and towns including Saigon in their biggest offensive of the war. Although the government is expected to call some sort of cease-fire, it undoubtedly will try to avoid the wholesale relaxation which left its forces at 50 per cent strength or less when the enemy struck a year ago.

The Viet Cong broadcast said government soldiers going into areas controlled by the Viet Cong to visit their families or the graves of their ancestors "must go scattered, not by groups, and must not be armed."

U.S. force and their allies, the announcement said, "are free to move and to participate in all Tet festivities" if they obey the cease-fire conditions.

The anniversary of last year's offensive comes this Friday, and there has been speculation that the Viet Cong may attempt some action within the next few days to mark the occasion. But no major enemy activity was reported today.

The U.S. Command announced that three more American helicopters have been shot down and destroyed, but only three crewmen were wounded. This raised the announced number of American helicopters lost in the war to 2,321.

One light observatory helicopter, an OH6, was downed Monday 18 miles west of the Mekong

Statewide Blackout

Many in Florida Left in the Dark

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A million-kilowatt generator failure Tuesday sent a blackout hopping through Florida leaving some Floridians snarled at lightless intersections and others dining by candlelight.

The failure occurred at 6:08 p.m. at Florida Power and Light Company's huge Port Everglades generating plant here.

The intricate system of grids by which power is fed from generating stations to consumers spread the blackout as far away as Daytona Beach, St. Petersburg and Fort Myers, while it left many closer areas unaffected.

A power company spokesman said there was no way of telling how many homes and businesses lost their power. However, reports from several large cities had thousands of consumers out of power.

St. Petersburg reported up to 15,000 homes were affected. Tampa had 11,000 homes blacked out. Both cities receive their electricity from companies other than FP&L, but power flickered out because of a drain on interconnecting lines.

Orlando had 35 per cent of its population in darkness for about half an hour. The blackout hit all but a small portion of tourist-jammed Daytona Beach.

Fort Lauderdale, hardest hit by the blackout, had no estimate of darkened homes. Service there was restored by 7:45 p.m. In most areas it took from 20 minutes to an hour to restore service.

Traffic lights winked out at intersections in many Florida cities, snarling rush-hour traffic.

But FP&L spokesmen said the situation could have been much worse. They said safeguard built into the power distribution system prevented a Southeast recurrence of the great blackout in the Northeast in 1967.

"Actually the story is what didn't go out, not what did," said John Hudiburg, FP&L district manager in West Palm Beach. "Fifteen years ago the whole system would have gone like this. The system worked like it was supposed to."

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois tells reporters Tuesday the Nixon administration is convinced the 10 per cent income tax surcharge must be continued until June 30, 1970. Czech Hard-Liners Grabbing Top Hand With Propaganda Prague 22 is the Associated Press correspondent's first dispatch to the Czech Republic from a Soviet satellite. Czechoslovakia has been a Soviet satellite since 1945. A state of internal conflict in both Czechoslovakia and Alexander Dubcek's liberal reformists are not likely to stop them. Backed by an estimated 100,000 Soviet occupation troops, the conservatives' new strength is evident in an active propaganda campaign and bold public statements that have increased in frequency in recent days. Their latest move is an attempt to discredit the death of student Jan Palach, who immolated himself to protest the Soviet occupation and the resulting curbs on freedom of the press.

By PETER REHAK

Associated Press Writer

VILNNA (AP) — Signs are multiplying that orthodox pro-Soviet Communists are gaining the upper hand in occupied

Murder Claimed
In pamphlets and speeches the conservatives claim that the liberal reformists forced Palach to commit suicide for the sake of propaganda. Some even claim he was murdered. Their charges were picked up

"Ultimatums"
"The basis of the problems which cause nervousness and helplessness among many comrades is that since last January the Central Committee has set a certain line, certain duties and concepts. Other demands were announced, outside this line and against the concepts of the party, which are often formulated like ultimatums," said Deputy Premier Lubomir Strougal, a leading conservative.

His speech to a militia rally was broadcast by Radio Prague during prime time Monday night. It was echoed the same day by Slovak party chief Gustav Husak, who leans to the Soviet line.

"An opposition front has gradually been emerging, exerting continuous pressure on the party leadership, tabling new demands, organizing campaigns that they be met and, in fact, preventing the party and state leadership from implementing their reforms," said Husak.

Newsman Expelled
The hand of pro-Moscow Communists also is evident in the expulsion of a number of Western newsmen. Until recently, the authorities tolerated newsmen on tourist or businessmen's visas, the issuance of journalists' visas having halted following the invasion. This tolerance has now apparently ended.

The pre-invasion economic reform program suffered another blow with the announcement that all business with foreign firms now will be concentrated in the hands of a central organization called Zenit.

Before last August, the government intended to allow Czechoslovak enterprises to deal directly with western firms, bypassing the cumbersome government bureaucracy.

Reuss Introduces Bill on Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 13-hole cause inflation in the very point tax reform bill—which he said could eliminate the 10 per cent surtax—was introduced in the House of Representatives today by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

In a statement, Reuss said the bill would raise an additional $9 billion in federal revenue.

Both former President Johnson and President Nixon have said the surtax should be continued past its June 30 expiration date as an anti-inflationary measure.

The Milwaukee congressman said his tax reform measure would be a more effective weapon against inflation than the surtax because many of the loopholes cause inflation in the very sectors of the economy which are most inflation prone.

Reuss' bill would:

- Levy a 25 per cent tax for capital gains untaxed at death. Now the 25 per cent tax is not imposed if the owner dies before selling property or stock.
- Eliminate the unlimited charitable deduction, the special tax treatment accorded stock options, the income tax exemption for the first $100 in dividend income, the "hobby farm" loophole, the tax benefits derived from multiple corporations, payment of estate taxes by redemption of government bonds at par value, the federal tax exception on municipal industrial development bonds.
- Establish a municipal bond guarantee corporation as an alternative to tax exempt municipal bonding.
- Reduce the tax depletion allowance from 27 1/2 per cent to 15 per cent on oil and from 23 per cent to 15 per cent on 41 other minerals.
- Prohibit accelerated depreciation on speculative real estate holdings.
- Repeal the 7 per cent investment tax credit.

M-E-N Arrive on Campus at Vassar

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Coeducation — spell that m-e-n — came to ivy-clad Vassar College this week and all sorts of social observers of both sexes are marveling at what the trustees have wrought.

A professor said he noticed an immediate and remarkable improvement in the appearance of the girls.

A young man, newly admitted and enraged about curfews, borrowed a leaf from other protest movements and burned his seven-page rule book.

An hour after the curfew one night a young woman, being interviewed over the telephone by a newsmen, reported "two boys just tiptoed by my door."

A young man who described himself as usually conscientious said he has yet to open a book. With girls down the hall, he explained, "you don't feel like cooping yourself in the room and studying."

Vassar—for the past 108 years the very name was virtually synonymous with private liberal arts education for correct young women, began the semester Monday with 80 men from three all-

male schools—Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.; Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.; and Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y.

The boys are living on two floors of one of the girls' dormitories. Visiting is permitted during certain hours but Miss Susan Whidden of Westport, Conn., said there is already a move afoot to liberalize the rules.

"There's been all sorts of revolutionary talk around here," Miss Whidden confided. Revolution or no, one young man from Williams said he was happy to be at Vassar.

The Student Loan Freeze

While the governor, the educational aids commission members and the members of the state investment board quarrel about their differing interpretations of the state student loan law, there are thousands of young men and women in Wisconsin colleges and universities worrying about the availability of the credit for college expenses that was promised them by the legislature two years ago.

The legislature then directed the investment board to make loans to students, up to $20,000,000, from state general funds, guaranteeing a rate of return of at least six per cent to that general fund out of interest payments by the students themselves, some federal aid grants, and state payments if necessary.

But recently the investment officials, reading of the looming deficit in the state treasury, decided to call a halt to the lending program, claiming that it is their duty under the law to act with some regard for the liquidity of the state treasury. They cite a legal opinion to back up their position, but the governor, the State Department of Administration and other officials claim that the board does not have such discretion.

It is not the purpose of this commentary to decide the merits of the intricacies of legal interpretation involved, but to remind the legislature that thousands of students have been let down, and that it is its duty to act quickly to clarify the situation.

The loans should be made at least to the extent that they were proffered two years ago, and to the extent that they were requested by students in good faith for the current academic year.

The accounting elements involved are complex ones, but we are informed by the State Bureau of Finance that the cash flow of the state treasury will be adequate to carry this student assistance program through this academic year, in spite of the forecast of a technical deficit at the end of the fiscal year.

What this means is that the state may have more commitments outstanding than it can expect revenues to honor, but that the treasury won't ever be empty, in the literal sense. Thus we feel that the student loan program, deliberately enacted by the legislature, is as worthy of being continued to the full extent of the original authorization as any other commitment made by the lawmakers, including money to pay for the fuel to heat their offices, or to pay for their clerical assistants, or any other purpose.

The clarification bill should be enacted at the earliest possible time, to relieve the concern and uncertainty of college boys and girls who depended on the loans the state offered them. State policy for the future biennium is for the legislature to resolve as a separate issue. But it is already clear that the demand for such credits will continue, and perhaps increase, if tuition and other college costs continue to rise as they almost surely will.

The State Law on Birth Control

We are in agreement with Senator William Draheim of Neenah that Wisconsin's birth control laws need overhauling.

"We should be able to give advice on how to control the size of families and unmarried as well as married people should be allowed to buy contraceptives," Senator Draheim said in discussing the two bills now before the Wisconsin Legislature.

The bill approved and recommended by the Legislative Council would actually further restrict not only the sale of contraceptives, now claimed to be "indecent" articles, but would prevent clergymen from counseling couples planning to be married on birth control and would prohibit welfare workers from assisting unwed mothers to prevent more illegitimate children. This is clearly a step backward and the restriction on clergymen would almost appear to be unconstitutional and certainly an interference of the state in church affairs.

There were charges that Catholic women in particular have opposed any liberalizing of Wisconsin laws on contraceptives. Whatever the official viewpoint of the Roman Catholic Church — and this is still in doubt despite Pope Paul's upholding of strict opposition to artificial means of birth control — church rules should have nothing to do with state laws and we imagine that most Roman Catholics would agree.

The main concern is whether the availability of contraceptives to unmarried women would increase immorality. But as Senator Draheim pointed out, the unmarried can get contraceptives now and "what we have is just like the liquor bootlegging during prohibition." The Pill may have liberalized the attitudes of many young women toward sexual intercourse outside of marriage. Research on this is inconclusive but there does seem to be less concern over extramarital affairs or pre-marital relations in recent years. But if mores have changed, the withholding of contraceptives is not likely to change them around.

Unfortunately the promiscuous are often the least informed on contraceptives and either turn to illegal abortion or bring into the world an unwanted child often then turned over to the state. These are the women who need contraceptives the most and who certainly are not going to change their habits without them.

The alternative bill proposed by Senator Holger Rasmussen is far more realistic and fair than the one approved by the Legislative Council.

President Nixon on Red China

In his first major news conference President Nixon rather left the door open to better relations with the Peking government when he pointed to the resumption of talks between the United States Ambassador to Poland and Chinese delegates coming up soon in Warsaw. But he said he was still opposed to changing the American policy of opposition to the admittance of Red China to the United Nations.

It is quite true, as President Nixon said, that the Peking regime has shown little interest in joining the U. N. or promising to abide by the Charter, at least as long as the Nationalist government on Taiwan is also represented. But the time of a change of administration in Washington and in the ruling party in the country would appear also to be the opportunity to find better accommodation with the government which controls the mainland of China. This is particularly true because the Red Chinese have shown some interest in such accommodation by their suggestion that the Warsaw talks be resumed.

Five United States Senators have called for the Nixon Administration to take a new look at our relations with China. Senator Fulbright suggested that "we should move to reduce further our direct military involvement in the Taiwan area. I also think that as soon as events in Vietnam permit we will begin removing the limited military facilities we have on Taiwan and also turn over to the Nationalist Chinese the responsibility for patrolling the Taiwan Strait." Republican Senators Mark Hatfield and Sherman Cooper agreed that the new administration "has the freedom and flexibility to consider alternatives and to take initiative to determine if improvements in policy can be made." Senator Hatfield said that American travel restrictions to China should be abolished even if the Chinese refused to grant visas. Senator Ted Kennedy recommended that "the United States would be well advised to take initiatives in drafting and supporting a resolution at the next session of the United Nations General Assembly which would allow both the membership of China as well as that of Taiwan."

Actually, if recent voting in the General Assembly on the matter is any criterion, such a resolution wouldn't pass. But it would indicate that the United States had changed the stand taken in 1956 when overtures for cultural and informal contacts made by Peking were rejected by the United States.

Clearly no regime in Washington could approve of the way Mao Tse-tung runs China. But we have relations with all sorts of nations, including the Soviet Union, Spain and dozens of countries run by dictators of varying degrees, without compromising our own ideas of democracy or beliefs in liberty and justice. If President Nixon believes that getting China back into contact with the rest of the world is one way to tone down its belligerence, then he has an opportunity now to open doors that may not come again.

Sam Ryan Jr., of Appleton, was elected Most Worshipful Grand Master of the International Order of Odd Fellows Grand Lodge of Wisconsin.

The following were other officers for the ensuing year: W. W. Wheeler, Janesville; R. W. D. Grand Master; E. Hollister, Racine; R. W. Grand Warden; L. B. Hills, Madison; R. W. Grand Secretary; J. A. Roper, Horicon; R. W. Grand Treasurer; M. P. Lindsley, Green Bay; W. Grand Marshal; Seth French, Eau Claire; W. Grand Conductor; N. Port, Milwaukee; W. Grand Herald; Theodore Rodolph, La Crosse, Grand Instructor; Q. H. Barron, Fox Lake, and Rev. A. C. Barry, of Racine, representatives to the Grand Lodge of the United States.

Thirty-nine new Lodges were instituted during the past year. The balance to the treasury totalled about $3,200. The Order was never so prosperous as at the present time.

The unanimity which characterized the election of the Grand Master is a high compliment to any individual and the lodge of which he is a member.

Castro Charges U.S. Airlines Big Bill for Each Hijacked Airplane

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Fidel Castro is doing nicely, thank you, with the hijacked planes. It gives him marvelous propaganda, but did you know it also gives him money in the bank?

Red Cuba sends a fine little bill for U. S. dollars for every hijacked plane. Moreover, although Castro gives us the impression of supplying hospitality to the passengers, he asks and gets payment right down to the last cup of coffee.

Castro most lately billed Eastern Airlines for $10,000 for a stolen jet with 138 passengers and a crew of eight, and the average bill to Eastern is running between this and $7,500.

Padded into this, plane by plane, are airport fees, "meteorological services," Cuban government "expenses," refueling charges, food, hotels, bus rides and anything Castro's adding machines can dream up.

PLANE RETURN EMPTY

Havana's Jose Marti Airport's runways easily handle the jets from Mexico, Spain, Russia and elsewhere. But Castro demands the hijacked planes return to the United States empty. Our airlines must send propeller planes to bring back the stranded passengers. This cost, of course, is over and beyond Castro's bill.

Ever since the Bay of Pigs the Kennedy-Johnson policy has been "See no Cuba. Hear no Cuba. Speak no Cuba." And never a word about all this was said officially by our government.

Castro announced long ago that anyone wanting to leave Cuba was "free to leave." Well, there's a three-year backlog of Cuban applications for the flight to Miami. Each Cuban refugee must present himself at the airport six hours before flight time. He is forced to turn in almost every personal belonging. These are dumped, sorted and sold in the foyers and halls of Havana's Capitol. Baby shoes, eyeglasses, skirts and scarves, sandals, Panama hats, and religious medals are stacked in the marble corridors as in the sorting bins and warehouses of Auschwitz.

In total, Castro has confiscated more than $25 billion of Cuban-owned property and at least $1 billion of property owned by Americans. This includes the enormous Nicaro Nickel plant which cost the American taxpayers $100 million and was built for the U. S. Government in World War II.

It stands on an isolated peninsula guarded now by Soviet submarines and coastal boats in the surrounding waters. The Nicaro plant produced 10 per cent of all the nickel of the free world. Today it is at the disposal of the Soviet Union. But who would know it?

A glance from Castro still can mean a bullet and a coffin, with a funeral to order. And if your neighbor dislikes you his word may kill you. But Cuban underground heroes continue to fight against the tyranny. Honor the brave! Castro's executions occur at East London, South Africa (AP) — Are racing pigeons poultry? The city fathers insist they are when kept inside East London's municipal boundaries.

The city has been trying for three years to get A. C. Duff to take out a permit to keep poultry on his property and build pigeon lofts which comply with local specifications for poultry houses. Duff refuses because he "does not keep poultry" and contends the lofts the city wants him to use would harm the health of his racing pigeons.

Duff served with Britain's Imperial Pigeon Service and with the Middle East Pigeon Service in World War II. The matter is back once more in the hands of a committee.

Wisconsin Report
Legislature May Favor
18-Year Voting Age;
What About Voters?

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The unexpected endorsement by Gov. Knowles of the long-debated idea of lowering the voting age in Wisconsin from the historic 21 year rule to 18 years may well provide the impetus in the legislature to gain a majority vote for the proposition in each house.

The liberalization of the voting qualification law has been picking up support steadily in recent years, in sharp contrast to the obdurate resistance to the idea a few decades ago. This reporter remembers vividly the time, perhaps 20 years ago, when ing when persons reach the age of 20 and meet the other normal requirements.

This suggests that public opinion on the whole for a lower age is not yet overwhelmingly favorable, a point that is important in appraising the outlook for change in this state.

For while it is quite possible that the legislature of Wisconsin will be willing to make the change, it must be remembered that it cannot do so under its own powers. The State Constitution permits the legislature to propose the change, but it requires any legislative decision to be ratified in a referendum. In that referendum, of course, only the voters already qualified, namely those 21 years of age or over, will be entitled to participate.

It is conceivable, if not probable, that the voting population of the state will regard such a proposal more quizzically than the men in the legislature. Most of the latter are conscious politicians and aware that there are thousands of their constituents between the ages of 18 and 21 looking on who cannot vote now but who will be able to do so in a few years and may resent a nay ballot by their representative.

The arguments for the change are familiar, including the refrain, "old enough to fight, old enough to vote." The governor notes that young people today are better educated and more concerned about public affairs than were their progenitors. That may be. But it is perfectly obvious that there is a sizeable and dissenting school of thought, including the view that more schooling is not necessarily proof of maturity of judgments or responsibility.

There are also the classical objections that the 21 year demarcation has been used in statute law for centuries to define the disabilities of minors in many other ways, in contracts, in the consumption of liquor, in liability in civil litigation, and many others.

ARGUMENT ON DRINKING
There is also a minor irony in the circumstance that when Knowles plumps for a reduction of the voting age from 21 years to 18 years, and repeats his demand for the elimination of all 18 year old beer ordinances in favor of a statewide minimum beer consumption law of 21, he is inviting the rebuttal of young people that if they are old enough to vote they should be old enough to drink beer.

Such an argument is not altogether relevant, of course, but politics is not always concerned with relevancy or logic.

Strictly Personal
Bible Much Changed
In Various Translations

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Although Marshall McLuhan's famous phrase, "The medium is the message" has been abused and perverted (by him as much as by others), there is a central and important truth in it — as long as we remember that language itself is a "medium."

Indeed, language is so much a medium that we do not even think of it as such. Each language makes its own particular "environment" and reshapes reality to fit the grammar of the language.

Take the most familiar work in the English language — the King James Bible. We forget that the Old Testament was written in Hebrew, and the New Testament in Greek, and that both were translated for us by 17th Century Englishmen who changed the message as they changed the medium.

When we read the beatitudes, for instance, we imagine that Jesus actually said, "The meek shall inherit the earth." And we don't care much for the idea, because "meekness" is a kind of timid, namby-pamby word to our ears.

If we read the French Douay Bible, however, we are informed that Jesus said the debonaire shall inherit the earth. What a difference — for "debonaire" is good-natured, easy-going, affable!

While the Puritans who translated the New Testament saw in the Greek word a man who humbly bowed his head and suffered submission, the Frenchmen who translated the New Testament saw in the same Greek word a man who was merry, mild and courteous.

In the same way, the King

James translators speak of Jehovah becoming "exceedingly wroth," which is a fearsome phrase; the same Hebrew, however, translated into French, gives us "tres irritée" — very annoyed! God on one side of the English Channel does not much resemble God on the other side.

Some philosophical anthropologists, in fact, have suggested that the Germans became so hung up on order and authority and obedience because their language is structured that way — heavy and didactic, given to abstractions and system-building. And it is true that the German philosophers, unlike the English and the French, have tried to tuck the universe neatly into their systems, rather than adjusting the systems to fit the untidy realities of life.

There is a continual feedback from language: It arises out of culture, but then it influences and reshapes the culture to conform to its linguistic anlage. This is why Americanese is not just a branch of English, but a way of life.

Safety Building Snagged In Council-Board Session

The Appleton City Council and the Outagamie County Board met in an historic session Tuesday night, but it resulted in a further postponement of the big decision on a joint safety building.

A final decision on whether to build the joint structure probably will not be made until March.

Aldermen and supervisors asked the special joint study committee to prepare several alternate site locations for the proposed facility before the project is presented to the two legislative bodies for a decision.

However, a vote of confidence in continuing the study was given by the city and county representatives in an informal voice vote.

First in History

In what is believed to be the first joint meeting in history of the council and county board, aldermen and supervisors questioned the proposed location of the safety building and asked for several alternate sites to provide cost comparisons.

The site recommended by the committee, which was composed of five aldermen and five supervisors, is immediately to the north of the courthouse annex and would involve closing Elm Street, between Seventh and Eighth streets.

George Narovec, architect, said the 11 lots that would have to be obtained would cost about $220,000, according to figures obtained from the city assessor's office. However, several aldermen felt the price was "100 per cent off."

Cost Estimates

Building cost was estimated by Narovec at $1,850,000. However, he stressed that both cost figures were strictly estimates.

Ald. John Ayers, (12th), chairman of the joint study committee, outlined the background of the study, which started last May, and said the proposed location tied in with the comprehensive plan for Appleton prepared by Harlan Bartholomew and Associates. He also noted the joint resolution which authorized the study specified the courthouse area for the safety building.

He said "we felt the best approach was to follow the comprehensive plan guidelines. It would be disadvantageous to separate the two facilities (safety building and courthouse)."

He noted that while implementation of the complete Bartholomew plan was probably years away, they should aim in that direction. "If the Oneida Street bridge comes into being, it will tie in ideally," Ayers said.

Traffic Problems

Potential traffic problems in the courthouse area and the tie-in with the Bartholomew plan drew most of the opposition from supervisors.

Supv. Eugene Kloes, Appleton, said, "It seems the committee was guided more by the Bartholomew plan than by flexibility. This site is boxed in at the southern end of the county. We wanted flexibility in the site with several to choose from."

He was backed by Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, who questioned both the location and the ability to solve potential traffic problems.

DeLaHunt said the courthouse was not in the center of either the city or the county. He said he respected planners but that they "put roads on maps without considering who is going to pay for them or whether the taxpayer can pay for them."

Northerly Location

The Kaukauna supervisor urged a more northerly location and suggested county owned land across from the VTE-12 site. This, he said, would provide good access from U.S. 41 and County Trunk 00.

Ayers rejected the idea saying, "It would not be feasible for the city to locate its police station in the Town of Grand Chute."

He also contended that following the Bartholomew plan would Valley Center which is jointly owned by Outagamie and Winnebago counties, said experience there has shown that joint financing does not work.

Walter Rugland, president of Aid Association for Lutherans, said the bonding should not be split between the two bodies. "Either the county or the city should float the bonds and the other lent," he said.

Specific Decision

Ald. John Ayers (12th), chairman of the joint committee which has been studying the proposed safety building, said they were not ready to make a specific financing recommendation at this point.

He said they had first wanted a determination on whether or not to go ahead with construction before getting involved with the other aspects of the project.

He said studies have also indicated the only federal funds which may be available would be through the office of Emergency Government (formerly civil defense).

Ayers said Racine County obtained Emergency Government funds about a year ago which amounted to 10 per cent of their construction costs.

No formal recommendation has been made for financing construction of the proposed joint city-county safety building but a proposal for the county to bond and the city lease space drew the most favorable reaction.

A study made by county and city finance officials indicated the county was in a better financial position to bond than the city. The report made Tuesday night observed that if such a financial arrangement was made, a lease agreement for space in the building could be made for a longer period of time than the term of the bonds.

This was supported by both city and county officials at the joint council-county board meeting.

Mayor Agrees

Mayor George Buckley said he agreed the county should do the bonding with the city leasing space in the building.

Supv. Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna, also urged that all of the financing be done by one government unit, preferably the county.

Shiocton Man On Probation In Gun Affair

Assemblymen Hail Guiles for Courage

An attorney told the court Tuesday afternoon that Clyde McCabe, 60, Shiocton, "feared for his life" when he pointed a gun at a young Appleton man Jan. 14 in Black Creek.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer placed McCabe on one year's probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services for carrying a concealed weapon and reckless use of a firearm.

Schaefer first sentenced McCabe to one year in jail, but then stayed sentence and imposed probation, with the condition that McCabe pay court costs.

McCabe pleaded guilty Jan. 14, and has been in jail without bond since, pending a presentence investigation ordered by Schaefer.

Sheriff Calvin Spice said that McCabe threatened Robert Monsour, about 25, of 927 W. Spring St., Appleton, with a loaded gun in front of a Black Creek restaurant about 8 a.m. Jan. 14. Spice told McCabe into custody in Appleton about two hours later, after Monsour called authorities.

Spice said he found a loaded .38 Smith & Wesson pistol in the glove compartment of McCabe's car, which he was driving when he was apprehended.

McCabe told the court when he pleaded guilty that Monsour had threatened him with physical harm if he refused to write several checks for him and accompany him while they were cashed.

Schaefer ordered the pistol be sent to the State Crime Laboratory for disposition, as is required by law.

New London Plans Special Summer Fete

Promotion Group Sets July 18-20 For All-City Event

NEW LONDON — The City Promotion Committee has set July 18-20 as the dates for the first New London city-wide event.

Other decisions made at a steering committee meeting Monday included choosing some committee chairmen. The program for the promotion also was discussed and will be planned in further detail at a 7 a.m. Feb. 11 meeting at the Franklin House.

Tim Janke was named finance chairman and Mrs. Elmer Helgeson and Mrs. Eugene Fuhrmann, publicity chairman. W. A. "Bink" Bender is the committee chairman and Harry Emans, secretary.

Emil Gehrke was named parade chairman and asked to start organizing a giant parade for the celebration.

Others attending Monday's session were Robert McNulty, Robert Freiburger, Charles Borchardt, J. P. Vander Zanden, John Gillespie, Duane Brown, and Robert Christ.

The event is planned to involve the entire city in a joint fund-raising program and to promote New London.

Snowmobile Rally Location Changed At Weyauwega

WEYAUWEGA — Location of the Jaycee's snowmobile rally Sunday has been changed to the Waupaca County Fairgrounds here.

It was necessary to move activities from Lake Weyauwega because of weather conditions.

Races at the fairgrounds will be conducted on the race track and spectators will be allowed in the grandstand only.

More than 100 snowmobiles are expected to compete in the lap and cross-country races, which get underway at noon.

There also will be a powder puff race for women and the last event of the day will pit all first place winners against each other in a trophy race.

Merchandise prizes will be given away throughout the afternoon.

Drawing for the major prizes will be conducted immediately following the last race. Prizes to be given away will be a snowmobile, trailer and snow sled.

Parking will be available on the grounds and the Jaycees will assist with the food and refreshment stand.

New London Contract School Board Continuing To Study Teacher Proposals

NEW LONDON — A review of the New London Education Association (NLEA) welfare committee contractual proposal for 1969-70 will be continued at a special meeting Monday.

Board of education members and the welfare committee spent two hours Monday in a point-by-point examination and discussion on NLEA proposals, but only got started on the lengthy 49-page proposal.

The second session is expected to be taken up with the completion of reviewing the teachers' proposed working contract, while a review of the board's 30-page offer is not expected until a later session.

The two bargaining units did not get into monetary discussions but spent the time reviewing procedures of employment and working conditions.

A base salary of $7,500 for a bachelors degree with a 5 per cent cumulative increment is sought by the teachers' organization in addition to other contractual benefits.

Five per cent across the board increases to the 1968-69 salary schedule, which included 3 per cent increments, is proposed by the board.

This would mean a base of $6,405 for a bachelors degree compared to $6,100 this year.

The only major proposal presented Monday by the teachers' committee was for a master contract listing all conditions, policies, assignments and other data relating to employment.

Car Plunges 100 Feet; Man Saved

DE PERE — Quick action by two volunteer rescuers probably saved the life of a De Pere youth after his car plunged 100 feet off the Claude Allouez Bridge into icy Fox River early Tuesday.

Driver of the car, David Dillhunt, 19, of 903 Franklin St., was pulled from the partially-submerged vehicle within minutes after the plunge by Frank Manders, 26, of 920 Fourth St., and Michael J. Brabender, 28, of 360 1/2 Main Ave.

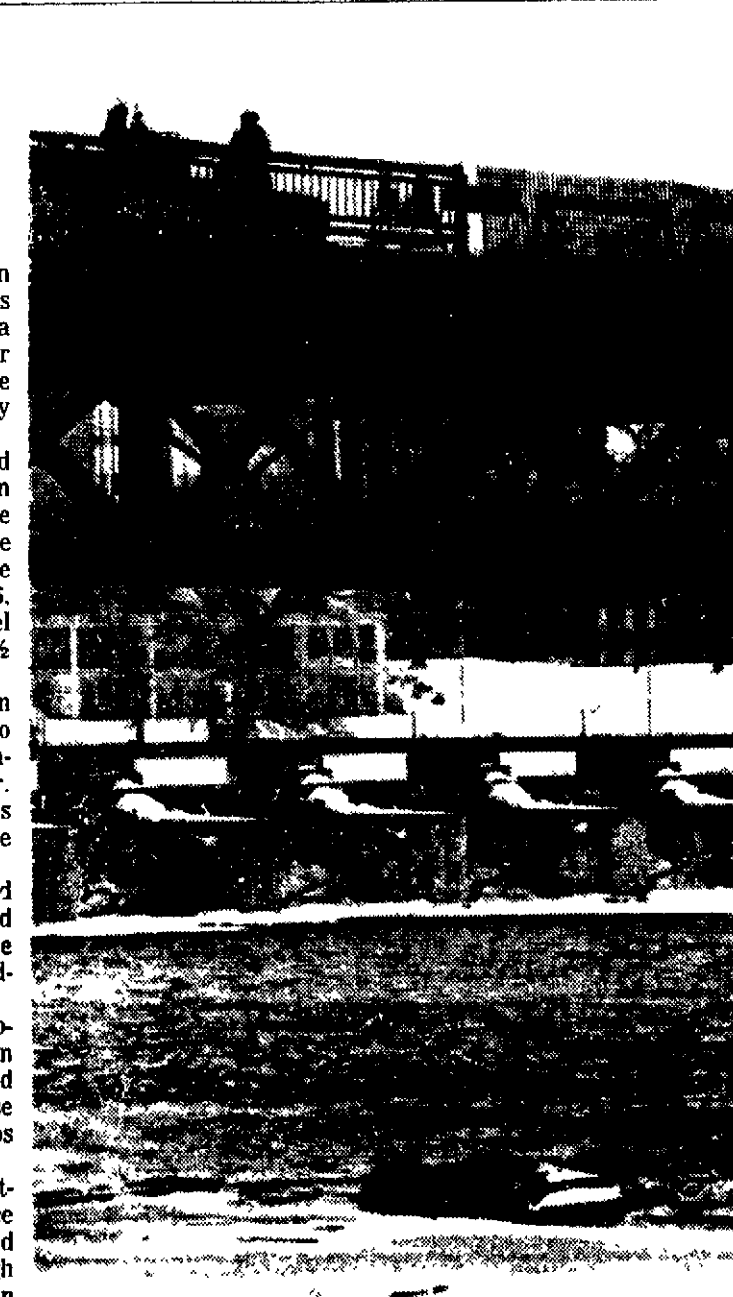

Shell ice gave way in places and they were wet to their belt buckles before traversing the 200 feet to the car. Only the top and a few inches of window were visible to the pair.

Dillhunt, conscious and pawing helplessly at a closed window, was pulled out of the popped windshield by Manders.

According to De Pere police, a hospital report on Dillhunt indicated he suffered from exposure but otherwise escaped with minor bumps and bruises.

A woman who also witnessed the accident told police another east-bound car passed her on the bridge at high speed, then seemed to gain momentum as it skidded first to the right curb and then across the roadway and over the north curb. Impact against the bridge rail tore out 60 feet of cast-iron fence, police stated.

The accident occurred at the crest of the bridge.

Two Rescuers Pulled David Dillhunt, 19, De Pere, from his car this morning after it plunged 100 feet from his car Tuesday after it plunged 100 feet Fox River. The car, shown resting on the river bottom, crashed through a bridge rail before its plunge. (AP Wirephoto)

Bonduel Has Easy Time With Pirates
BAY PORT — The Bonduel Bears evened their Northeastern Wisconsin Conference record at 5-5 for the season Tuesday night, as they brushed aside out-manned Bay Port, 84-48, Tuesday night.

The contest was a makeup affair postponed from last Friday night, when drifting snow prevented the Bears from travelling to Bay Port.

Bonduel, paced by Rob Swanson's 25 points, jumped out to a 20-12 first-quarter lead and increased the margin each succeeding period. It was Bonduel's second win over the Pirates this season.

Three more Bruins reached double figures. John Reinke tossed in 17 points, while John Dussling and Bob Weier contributed 10 apiece. Dussling, at 6-7, intimidated Bay Port by blocking 11 shots.

Dennis O'Donnell hit 18 points and Frank Roznik 15 for the Pirates.

BONDUEL (20-21-18-25-84): Swanson 12-1-3; Weier 5-0-1; Dussling 3-4-2; John Reinke 6-5-1; Dussling 4-0-1; Gruenewald 0-1-0; Krueger 2-3-1; Jim Reinke 3-0-1. Totals 35-14-10. FTM—6.

BAY PORT (12-8-12-16-48): O'Donnell 9-0-3; Meyer 1-0-0; Beasley 1-0-0; Roznik 5-5-2; Leitterman 1-0-3; Vanden Elzen 0-2-1; Palet 1-3-1; Seppel 1-0-0. Totals 19-10-10. FTM—4.

Incumbents File in Forest Junction; No New Names on Ballot
FOREST JUNCTION — No new names will appear on the ballot April 1 in the Town of Brillion as all incumbents filed nomination papers by deadline Tuesday.

Seeking re-election are chairman, Edward A. Rusch; supervisors, Roy Bastian and Alfred Wittmann; clerk, Ross Hacker; treasurer, Victor Keuer and assessor, Lyle Holtz.

2,805 Series Leads City Pin Tourney at Clintonville Lanes
CLINTONVILLE — A 2,805 series by Wisconsin Gas Co. bowlers led team events at the Donaldson Lanes in the Men's Bowling Association tournament.

The other high teams were Clintonville Mercantile, 2,799; Truck City Sales, Inc., 2,750; Jorgenson's Texaco, 2,705, and Club 45, 2,676.

Team events will conclude this Sunday. The singles and doubles events will be bowled the following Sundays in February.

Lloyd E. Eggleston is president and manager of the tournament.

Federal Highway Program

7 Named to 1st Calumet Safety Unit

CHILTON — Seven men have been appointed to the newly-formed Calumet County Safety Commission by G. J. Hipke, chairman of the board of supervisors.

Working with Capt. Vic Juno of the county traffic patrol who recently was appointed coordinator of the commission, will be Judge D. H. Sehora; Fred Longrie, highway commissioner; William B. Engler Jr., Chilton city attorney; Mike Kloeppel, Hilbert, chairman of the persons and property committee; Algirtes Bartash, New Holstein chief of police; Earl Herring, Brillion driver education instructor, and C. Goefred Mueller, Sherwood.

Appointment of commissioners was a second step taken by the county in meeting the requirements to participate in the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

This commission, acting without compensation, will coordinate traffic activities, conduct educational programs pertaining to traffic matters, supervise the preparation of traffic reports, receive traffic complaints and make recommendations to the county board.

Juno also is chairman of the county's accident review board. Its purpose is to discuss county highway accidents and make recommendations to correct traffic hazards.

securing more new members for the organization than last year.

The men of the post are hosting a Valentine Party for the women of the auxiliary.

Edwin Allie, Milton Hagedorn, Junior Smith and Arlin Pitt are planning the Feb. 15 event.

The unit decided Monday evening to sponsor two bowling teams at the Rice Lake tournament in March.

Fremont Legion Post Receives Award

FREMONT — A citation was received from the state American Legion Department by the Legion Post here for topping membership goals.

Legionnaires Marvin Kiesow, Robert Wilz, Chris Burgner and Jack Abraham were presented with membership awards for Juno, after giving his annual traffic report to supervisors, said it showed on what roads the largest number of accidents occur, Juno urged supervisors to discuss with the commission the locations of the accidents to see what could be done about them.

Study Accident Scenes

He pointed out that under the program the county could furnish someone to study these localities and work out a plan to correct a possible hazard. This can be done on a matching fund basis from the federal government.

Juno also said that under Gov. Warren P. Knowles' nine point recommended highway safety program, uniformity in the marking of town roads would be required by 1973. Emergency medical service training also would be urged for all ambulance personnel, who would be licensed. Through this training, many lives could be saved, Juno said.

Under this new Highway Safety Act, the federal government has allotted Wisconsin $1,342,423 for the program, with 40 per cent earmarked for local use. Matching funds are to be supplied by the state. These funds taken from the highway trust fund will be available until June 30. Renewal of the program will be contingent on Congress, however authorities expected it to be an annual program.

Tribal Council Director Named

WITTENBERG — Angelo Lamers has been appointed executive director of the Great Lakes Intertribal Council, Inc., which includes the Community Action Agency at Bowler.

Lamers has been active in Indian affairs for a number of years. He has a thorough knowledge of the Indian's problems and has been involved in numerous projects dealing with them and their solutions.

Our Produce man says: "Freshness is My Thing"

Our produce managers are often accused of talking "fresh" to our customers...and for good reason. They're talking about the top fresh quality of all Treasure Island fruits and vegetables. Bringing fresh fruits and vegetables, daily, to thousands of T.I. families requires real team efficiency, and Treasure Island has a winning team. It requires trained on-the-spot buyers, who are experts at judging quality.

Special equipment is used to handle the produce when it arrives at each store, and our T.I. produce managers take great pride in having more items of better quality than anyone else in town. High volume sales and fast turnover means our fresh produce comes to you actually days fresher. Efficient store operation further lowers the cost, and the savings are passed on to you. It's all part of T.I.'s Total Savings Program.

Combined Locks Pupils Will Attend Ryan, Board Reaffirm

KIMBERLY — The board of education Monday night reaffirmed its earlier decision to have all first and second graders from Combined Locks attend 1969-70 classes at Ryan School.

Bank Appoints New Director

Farmers, Merchants Put Swetz on Board; Look Is New Officer

KAUKAUNA — A new director and new assistant cashier were named at the annual stockholders meeting of the Farmers and Merchants Bank recently while other directors were all re-elected.

Donald Swetz, a member of the McCarty, Swetz and Curry law firm, was named a director, and Thomas E. Look, who joined the bank three years ago from West Allis State Bank, was promoted to assistant cashier.

Directors re-elected were Walter H. Roloff, Earl A. Gilling, John Van De Loo, Eugene Haen, Joseph Van De Loo, Bernard Van Zeeland and David I. Hartjes.

Officers named by the directors include Roloff, president; Gilling, vice president; Hartjes, executive vice president and cashier, and Look, James Natrop and Edward J. Schmidt, assistant cashiers.

Hartjes reported on the growth, earnings and improvements made at the bank during the past year. He indicated, deposits increased from $9,359,697 to $11,881,154 and loan volume increased from $5,836,367 to $6,791,096.

Capital stock of the bank was increased from $100,000 to $200,000 by the declaration of a 100 per cent stock dividend in February.

The report showed that bank deposits have more than doubled in 10 years and the loan volume has increased three times in that period. Improvements during the year included redecoration of the bank interior and installation of a second drive-in window to handle increasing demand for car window service.

Ellington Church Has Installation Of New Officers

STEPHENSVILLE — Officers installed at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Town of Ellington Sunday were Ralph Schroeder, president; Kenneth Schroeder, secretary; Earl Timm, treasurer; Larry Loos, financial secretary; and Richard Rasmussen, councilman. Loos and Rasmussen are newly-elected councilmen.

Harold Riehl was appointed to the Fox Valley Lutheran High School's general board.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Stephenville, also will install officers Sunday. They are Milton Bentle, president; George Jeske, secretary; William Allen, treasurer, and Lyle Kaddatz, financial secretary. Allen and Garry Schmidt and Jerald Thern were appointed to the general board of the Fox Valley Lutheran High School.

The Rev. Robert Carter is pastor of the two parishes.

Kaukauna Man Fined After 4-Car Mishap

LITTLE CHUTE — Kenneth D. Smith, 23, 908 Boyd Ave., Kaukauna, pleaded guilty to driving at speeds too fast for conditions and was fined $40 by Municipal Justice Raymond Sanders Monday night.

Smith was charged after the vehicle he was driving was involved in an accident damaging three parked autos.

board to object to the plan. They pointed out the hazards to children who would be required to walk added distance to Ryan rather than to the closer Janssen School.

The board decided to stick with its original decision based on its overall attendance plan designed to benefit the majority of young people. Any changes in the original proposal would cause more hardship for more students, the board held.

Reassign Teachers

The board approved reassignment of elementary school teachers for the 1969-70 school year as proposed by Ray Hamm, superintendent of schools, and approved change orders for Janssen School which result in a cost reduction of $566.

Hamm was authorized to hire seven additional teachers for the coming year including boys' instructors in physical education, girls' physical education, history, social studies and music and two junior high science teachers. Most will be assigned to the junior high as the seventh and eighth graders from Holy Name of Jesus School will attend public schools for the first time with the 1969-70 school year.

Hire Replacements

Hamm was also authorized to seek a teacher who could handle history and English for a portion of the day.

Teachers aides hired to replace three who resigned were Mrs. Linda Bertrand, Mrs. Roberta Whittaker and Mrs. Irene Huebner. Mrs. Patricia Trimborn, graduate of Cardinal Stritch College, was hired to replace Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Schanzoltzer, third grade teacher who will leave March 22.

Mrs. Ralph Pleier was named to the custodial staff as a replacement.

Priscner Dies In County Jail At Waupaca

WAUPACA — Melvin S. Christensen, 49, Granite Street, a Huber Law prisoner in the Waupaca County jail, was found dead about 7:45 a.m. today in the Huber Law quarters at the jail.

He was taken to Riverside Hospital by ambulance where he was pronounced dead by Jerry Salam, deputy Waupaca County coroner.

The body was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, Appleton, where an autopsy is being performed.

He was serving a six-month sentence for probation violation. He was employed at the Waupaca Foundry and worked from the jail under the Huber Law Act.

Sheriff William Mork said that Christensen ate breakfast this morning and then told the jailer he didn't feel well and was not going to report for work today. He returned to his bed and a short time later when the jailer checked the quarters Christensen was sleeping. Later another Huber Law prisoner said he was awakened when he heard Christensen moan and he

18-Year Voting Age Bill Introduced in Senate

Schreiber Pins Hopes for Passage On Knowles' Recent Change of Stance

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — Linking his hopes to a policy switch on the part of Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles, Democratic state Sen. Martin Schreiber of Milwaukee has proposed that the state voting age be dropped from 21 to 18 years.

A week ago Knowles changed a long-time personal position and asked the Legislature in his state of the state address to enact a law lowering the voting age.

Tuesday Schreiber asked the same thing, and introduced a bill which, if passed by the 1969 session, would go to the state's general election.

A majority vote in that election would drop the voting age limit by three years for all subsequent elections.

A Congressional investigation of the liberal-leaning American Civil Liberties Union was asked by conservative-bent Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington.

Roseleip, a strong backer of

In other Senate developments, Sen. Ernest Krueger, R-Merrill, asked the Senate to approve a bill which would allow Lincoln County to purchase back from the state for $1 about 400 acres it had donated as a part of the tract for the Lincoln Boys School.

The land is no longer needed, he said.

Sen. Walter Terry, R-Baraboo, introduced a bill at the request of the Great Lakes Gun Collectors Association which would add a mandatory five year prison term onto the penalty for certain crimes committed involving the use of a gun.

Covered would be first, second and third degree murder, kidnapping and abduction, burglary, robbery and rape.

A Congressional investigation of the liberal-leaning American Civil Liberties Union was asked by conservative-bent Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington.

Roseleip, a strong backer of the American Legion, copied a Legion resolution in asking the State Senate to ask the Congress to have the House Un-American Activities Committee or the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee investigate the civil liberties group.

"The ACLU," Roseleip said, "has lent its support to weaken laws relating to obscenity and pornography while opposing prayers and bible reading in public schools."

The ACLU backs the creation of civilian review boards "which would materially weaken law enforcement agencies," according to the Darlington Senator.

"These actions of the American Civil Union are attempts to weaken the Constitution of the United States while giving aid and comfort to those seeking to destroy our form of government," he claimed.

Such state resolutions are simply messages to the Congress.

Kaukauna Driver Fined $15 After Accident

KAUKAUNA — Ronald Vandenberg, 28, 318 E. 20th St., was fined $15 after pleading guilty to failure to yield from an arterial before Municipal Justice Clarence O'Connor Monday. Vandenberg was issued a citation after a two-car accident Jan. 18.

Seek to Insure Residents' Right To Own Firearms

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau MADISON — A constitutional amendment to insure Wisconsin residents of the "right to keep and bear arms" has been proposed in the state Senate by two northern Wisconsin lawmakers.

Introduced by Sens. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto, and Ernest Keppler, R-Merrill, the resolution is the first consideration of the proposal.

Under constitutional provisions, such amendments must be acted upon in two consecutive sessions of the Legislature, and approved by a majority of the voters in a referendum.

The Krueger-LaFave resolution would insert into the state constitution part of the wording from the U.S. Constitution regarding individual ownership of firearms.

Added to the state constitution would be the phrase, "the right of keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

The wording in the U.S. Constitution is in a section which deals with state militias and their maintenance.

Races Develop For Two Posts At Woodville

ST. JOHN — Supervisor and assessor races developed in the Town of Woodville Tuesday when three candidates filed for the two supervisor positions and two for assessor.

Supervisor candidates are incumbent Ralph Mader, Edward Miersberger, and Paul Kesler. Seeking the assessor positions day were Ralph Schroeder, are Walter Seitz and Anthony Kesler.

Sybil Thiel is the lone candidate for chairman and husband and wife team Cora and Walter Schmitt are candidates for clerk and treasurer.

Incumbent chairman Lester Eiting and his wife, incumbent assessor Cora Eiting and incumbent Howard Fochs are not seeking re-election.

Kaukauna Treasurer Sets Evening Hours For Tax Collection

KAUKAUNA — Roger Belling, city treasurer, will hold special hours for tax collection from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday for persons desiring to pay on the installment plan and who are unable to report during normal office hours.

Persons using the 50-50 plan for tax payment have until Friday to pay the first half of their taxes and must pay the second half to the county treasurer by July 31.

Special assessments must be paid in full by Friday under either plan.

Those not using the installment plan have until Feb. 28 to pay taxes in full at the city treasurer's office.

Pregnancy Weight Is Often Difficult to Lose

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have only one problem — overweight. I gained all my weight after the birth of my first baby, who is now 14 months old.

(Last in a series of three articles)

Before I was pregnant, I weighed 120 pounds. Now I weigh 145. This is a problem since I am only 5 feet 3. The doctor didn't tell me I was

Dr. Thosteson gaining too much. I went from a size 9 to a size 12 dress.

Now I am having a hard time losing this excess weight. What can I take to lose weight that is safe? What would you recommend? — D.

There are several reasons for not gaining too much weight during pregnancy — it should not be more than 20 pounds. One reason is the difficulty of shedding the pounds afterward, just as in your case.

I don't recommend "taking" anything to lose weight except under direct supervision of your doctor, and preferably not even then unless it is absolutely necessary on a temporary basis.

Why? Because overuse of drugs for reducing can cause nervousness, insomnia, heart palpitation. And some of the more violent drugs have wrecked the health of some unwary users, and even caused some deaths. It isn't worth the risk, especially when there are better ways to reduce.

For another reason, it is too easy to become dependent on the drugs. The drugs can't be used indefinitely — so when the drugs are stopped, the patient, not having learned the secrets of keeping weight at a proper level naturally, goes back to the old way of eating and gets fat again.

Reducing, I admit, isn't always easy, but it is always possible. I wish you would read my new booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," which is now ready for distribution. For a copy, send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope along with your request to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Post-Crescent.

If you will read the booklet, you will feel pretty sure that you will not be more than 20 pounds over your excess 25 pounds and keep them off. Incidentally, I recently noted

The Post-Crescent A 7
Wednesday, January 29, 1969

a reference to an experiment in England in which some women were given reducing drugs and other were given "dummy" pills which had no physiological effect.

Oddly, women taking the "dummy" pills lost weight as rapidly as those taking the real drugs, and some of them lost even faster. It's a pretty convincing indication that just believing you can reduce is the biggest part of the battle.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was visiting a friend who is on a diet and she poured a little vinegar into a glass of water and drank it. She said it was to cut the grease in the food. Would you consider this helpful for anyone overweight? Or could it be harmful? — Mrs. E.P.

It won't help the diet or "cut the grease." It shouldn't do any harm, either, unless perchance it irritates the stomach. For anyone in ordinary health, I see no harm. Nor any good.

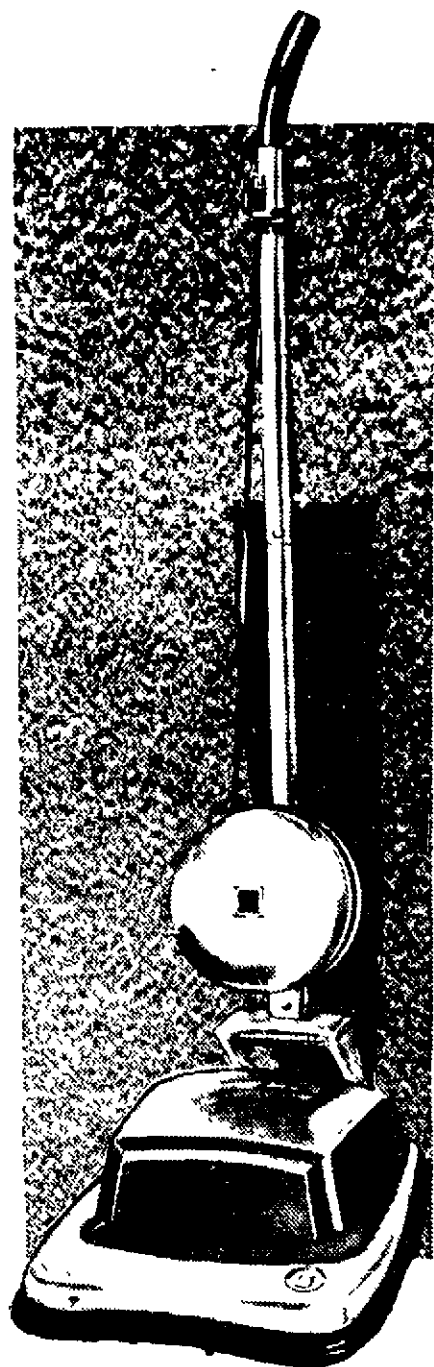

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is glaucoma contagious? I have a sister, over 80 years old, and I am not much younger. We live alone. She can hardly see to get about. She uses my towel sometimes. I know she can't see well. But my eyes water a lot at night and get crusty and stick together. Am I getting glaucoma? — H.M.

Glaucoma is not contagious, so rest easy on that. But your eye condition, while totally different from glaucoma, indicates that some irritation or infection is at work, and you should have the doctor take a look. (Copyright, 1969)

Clergy Raps Both Sides In Oshkosh Disturbance

Although the black student problems after the disturbances at Oshkosh State University (OSU) were handled clumsily, we had to support the administration in the final analysis, a group of ministers told the Appleton Area Clergymen's Association Monday.

The four leading the involved in student affairs and operate through an organization known as University Christian Movement (UCM), which has headquarters at the Newman Center near the university.

Speaking were the Rev. Don Collins, a Methodist; the Rev. Paul Fransen, Lutheran; and the Rev. Ben Kleiber and the Rev. Thomas Kleiber, Catholic priests.

They represented the UCM, which is composed of about 10 religious denominations, whose aim is to accomplish some of the Christian work through unity.

Harsh Line
"We felt the administration took a very harsh line by suspending the students without a hearing or notifying them of the charges, but we also felt the methods the black students used were completely unacceptable," said the Rev. Mr. Collins.

They did agree that the goals of the students were acceptable but added that very poor timing was used on the part of the

VTE-12 Will Offer Four Night Courses

Classes for Women, Men Still Have Openings Available

Openings in the basic education course for adults, interior decoration, problems in family living and home landscaping, which will be offered by the Fox Valley Technical Institute (FVTI)-Neenah, have been announced.

The basic education course provides an individualized program covering reading, spelling and arithmetic. Robert Klimko, Appleton, is the instructor.

It will include the middle grade levels through the 11th grade in high school. The first evening will be devoted to group tests to determine the individual's level of reading comprehension.

Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, beginning this week, in the west wing of Neenah High School.

Courses Taught
Covered in the interior decoration class will be the basic rules of color and design, floor covering, draperies, window treatments and slipcovers, furniture trends and arrangements and wall decor and accessories.

Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, beginning today, in the vocational school auditorium. Dennis Luebke, Appleton, is the instructor.

The problems in family living course also will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, beginning Feb. 6, in room 21. The seven lectures will focus on the parent-child relationship, from infancy through adolescence. Dr. Darold Treffert, superintendent, and on the staff of Winnebago State Hospital, will be the instructor.

Home landscaping, a six-meeting course for new and prospective home owners, will begin Feb. 10 with Vernon Peroutky, Winnebago County agriculture agent, as instructor. He will be assisted by specialists in landscaping and horticulture from the University of Wisconsin.

Registration fees for each of the courses is $2. Anyone interested in further information may contact Mrs. Irma Kyle, home economics coordinator.

Snake in Running Thanks to Surgery

FRISCO CITY, Ala. (AP) — A 6-foot-9 rattlesnake still is in the lead for top honors in the Monroe County Rattlesnake Rodeo, but had to undergo surgery Sunday to keep it alive and thus eligible.

Larry Gibbs, operator of the Atmore, Ala., reptile farm and owner of the rattler, said the snake had been bleeding internally and possibly was the victim of a traffic mishap prior to his capture.

The snake missed out of a go-pole hole near Atmore Saturday as his captor pumped gas in.

The rodeo, in which the largest rattler captured is declared the winner, began Jan. 1 and will end Feb. 15.

A Life Membership in the Telephone Pioneers of America is presented to George Howden, left, by George O'Donnell, president of Wisconsin, at a retirement dinner for Howden attended by about 200 persons Saturday at Butte des Morts Country Club.

Howden Retires, but Will Continue Busy Civic Life

George A. Howden, Wisconsin Telephone Co. here ended a 42-year career last week.

"You can't let down," said Howden. He will continue active participation in civic affairs.

"But I have to catch up on my fishing first," he said. As division engineer, Howden has had charge of supervising engineering in design and engineering telephone facilities for most of the state north of Madison.

Howden also is state vice chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and supervises activities in a 17-county area. The conference is a volunteer organization working "to outmode bigotry," said State Supreme Court Justice Connor Hansen has re-

Career Sessions Are Scheduled for Madison Students

An occupations conference, to give ninth grade students an opportunity to meet with representatives of various professions, was held this afternoon at Madison Junior High School. This is the first time that Madison has been engaged in such an endeavor.

The students met in small groups with three of the 20 representatives of vocations and professions, including civil service, commercial art, conservation, beautician, construction trades, food service, home economics, industry-mill work, mechanical, police, military, news media, pilot, medical, printing, social work, stewardess and teaching.
